EAT LESS AND LIVE LONGER.

Dr. Hooker's Advice Is for Those of Mature Years.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) July 1.—"Eat less food and live longer," was the axiom for those of mature years, announced by Dr. Edward Beecher Hooker of Hartford, Ct., president of the National Society of Physical Therapeutics, before a joint meeting of that body with the American Institute of Homeopathy here today. He urged the founding of a bureau of dietetics, to study the relation of food to health and diseases. "Medical science has concerned itself greatly with the problems of infancy and childhood," the speaker declared, "and has not given sufficient attention to the problems of maturity. After reaching maturity less food is needed than during the younger and more active years. Yet few people realize this and continue to eat as heartily as when young."

NEXT HOUSE REPUBLICAN

Even the Solid South Is Now in Revolt Against Itself in Congress.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 1.—Leaders of the Republican party here who have been canvassing the Congressional situation, state they are confident that next fall ninety-three Republican Congressmen will be elected to the seats now occupied by Democrats or Progressives. In many other districts they claim a good fighting chance.

There are now 129 Republicans in the House. This success in the fall campaign would give the Republican party 222 members out of the total House membership of 435.

FEATURES OF SITUATION.

The confidence of the Republicans that they will have a majority in the next Congress is based upon the following three features of the situation:

(1.) That many Democrats now occupying seats in the House are acknowledged "accidents," who slid in on the Wilson boom.

(2.) That the Progressive vote will be light and that the defections from that party will be to the Republican ranks, as shown by several recent by-elections.

(3.) That there is in many States widespread dissatisfaction with the Democratic party because of the effect of the tariff revision on local industries.

New York is expected to furnish most of the new Republican recruits, Pennsylvania next and Illinois third. It is stated confidently that the Republicans will elect at most one Congressman in Connecticut.

WEST VIRGINIA ELECTION.

The recent election in West Virginia is cited as an example of how the Bull Moose vote is going to pieces. Roosevelt received 13,000 votes in that State in 1912, while, in the recent by-election, the Bull Moose candidate got only 2700. Similar results are pointed to in by-elections in Iowa, New Jersey and Maine. The Republicans admit that the personality of Roosevelt will be a factor in the coming campaign.

"But he can be in only one place at a time," they add.

There is an open revolt against the Democratic party in Louisiana because of the damage done to the sugar business by the Democratic tariff, and the Democrats are expected to lose a couple of members there. They will be replaced by Progressives, however, there being no Republican party that far south.

Two Republican members are expected to be elected in North Carolina, where there is much dissatisfaction among the operators of cotton mills. These defections in the "solid South" are referred to as proof of the tremendous political effect of the tariff.

COMBINE TO BEAT WILSON DEMOCRATS.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 1.—Business men of Illinois, each as a "committee of one," are working for the defeat of Representatives in Congress who supported President Wilson's policies, according to Representative Martin B. Madden, who declared that every business man he knew was working among his friends "to save his business from complete ruin." He said that the "committee of one" idea had been adopted as the best way of dealing with the business situation.

"I have talked to many men in Illinois and many have written inquiring whether there was any relief in sight from the business depression," he said. "These men include many who voted for the psychology administration, but all say they desire a change.

"At first it will be thought best to form an organization of business men of Illinois to carry the opposition to the Congressional followers of the Wilson programme. This has been supplanted by the committee of one idea.

"There can be no doubt of the sincerity of these men. They are not politicians striving because of ulterior motives, but individuals who are anxious to rescue what they have built up through years of hard work. It is my opinion that these men will succeed in taking their fate out of the hands of Illinois Congressmen who blindly follow Presidential dictation, which is in turn influenced by the South, where agriculture is practically the sole interest.

"During the preparation of the Clayton anti-trust bill the section of the country represented in Congress by men having experience in business and understanding the country's business needs was ignored, and the subcommittee that framed the bill consisted of three southern Democrats—Clayton of Eufala, Ala.; Carlin of Alexandria, Va., and Floyd of Harrison, Ark.

He added that Marconi also anticipated increasing the speed of the wireless to 300 words a minute.

A REAL FILM TRAGEDY; TWO PERSONS DEAD.

CANYON CITY (Colo.) July 1.—Miss Grace McHugh of Denver, leading lady of the Colorado Motion Picture Company, and Owen Carter of Denver, assistant camera man of the company, were drowned mysteriously in the Arkansas River today.

Carter had rescued Miss McHugh and both were safe on a sand bar when last seen. When assistants emerged from a clump of bushes on the shore to bring them safely to land the pair had disappeared.

The accident occurred in the heart of the town while the company was at work in the production of what was to have been its masterpiece feature picture, "Across the Border," founded on Mexican events. Miss McHugh was alone, fording the stream, which is high and swift, on horseback. Her horse was forced under water, because of her excitement and pulling on the reins, and she was thrown into the stream. Carter leaped in to rescue her. He reached her and guided her down stream to the sand bar, on which both emerged. Why or how they left the sand bar is a mystery.

It is believed that they attempted to reach the shore and were drowned before the rescue party reached them.

TOPEKA (Kan.) July 1.—A monkey at the University of Kansas has been inoculated with pellagra by means of sand flies, according to the announcement here today by Prof. S. J. Hunter of that institution. The announcement followed the report of the Kansas Board of Health for June, showing there are eight cases of pellagra in Southeast Kansas. The experiments will be continued, Prof. Hunter announced. The monkey is said to have shown symptoms of the disease after sand flies, which had been allowed to bite persons known to have pellagra, had bitten the animal.

IRISH AND ENGLISH ALERT TO AVOID CIVIL WAR.

Bare Chance Peace May Come Within the Next Forty-eight Hours.

At the Same Time Voices Choking With Emotion Proclaim an Irremediable Catastrophe Seems Destined to Follow the Home Rule Measure—Belfast Police Admit Inability to Deal With Carson Volunteers.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 2.—The New York Sun today prints the following cable from London:

LONDON, July 2.—The gravity of the situation in Ireland, produced by the differences over the Home Rule measure, has impressed itself so deeply on the minds of men of all parties that party leaders are striving their utmost to arrive at some arrangement which may avert the catastrophe that threatens.

During the last two days these efforts have been pushed with very great earnestness and the Sun correspondent is now in a position to say that it is quite possible that a modus vivendi will be reached within forty-eight hours.

On the strength of Lord Crewe's promise that the amendment to the amending home rule bill will receive careful consideration from the government, Lord Lansdowne said in the House of Lords today that the opposition will not oppose the bill on its second reading. He said that the bill is defective in four points—the method of exclusion, the area to escape home rule, the duration of the term of exclusion and the conditions fixed by the government for the excluded areas.

Lord Lansdowne criticised the bill in its present form closely, but his tone was temperate and his language conciliatory. He spoke solemnly in referring to "the irremediable catastrophe which will follow this last effort." He said that he ought not to be accused of cowardice because he quails at the spectacle of "war, bloody war."

THE LONG-AWAITED HOUR.

A dispatch from Belfast says that the Unionist council issued the following order today:

"It has been decided that, at the discretion of the commanding officers, the time has come when arms may be carried openly by members of the Ulster volunteer force and attempts to seize arms carried in accordance with these instructions are to be resisted in accordance with the former instructions."

PASSIVE POLICE.

The Daily Mail's correspondent at Belfast wires:

"I visited the office of the Commissioner of Police this afternoon and was told that the police will not take action against the Ulster volunteers.

"'How can we arrest these men?' asked an inspector.

"This evening the streets are filled with men who are wearing the Ulster volunteers' uniform. The city is crowded and has the appearance of a garrison town."

THE OPPOSING FORCES.

The opposing volunteer forces in Ulster, Sir Edward Carson's followers and the Nationalist volunteers, formed with the sanction of John E. Redmond, the party leader, have been preparing in grim earnest during the last few months for the struggle which has so often seemed imminent.

It is impossible to say just what is the numerical strength of the two forces. The Ulster men, who have been drilling and organizing for nearly two years, claim a force of 115,000.

Mediation.

CONFLICT WITH MEXICO SETTLED SAYS DA GAMA.

Brazilian Ambassador Reiterates Essential Part of Mediation Task Has Been Accomplished and It Only Remains for Two Factions to Get Together to Accomplish Pacification Below the Border.

NIAGARA FALLS (Ont.) July 1.—Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil formally announced today the practical settlement of the conflict between the United States and Mexico. He explained that while mediation would take an indefinite recess awaiting the outcome of efforts by representatives of the two Mexican factions to solve the internal problems of Mexico, the task of mediation was not yet concluded, though an essential part of its work had been accomplished.

The Ambassador spoke at a luncheon given by the three mediators to the newspaper correspondents. The entire American and Huerta delegations to the mediation conference were present and the remarks of Mr. Da Gama, after careful revision, were made public later, constituting a formal statement of the work of mediation thus far.

AMBASSADOR'S STATEMENT.

"It is a source of satisfaction for me," said the Ambassador, "to be able to say that one of the essential points of our programme, that dealing with the international side of the conflict, is practically settled. This does not imply that we go home with our task concluded, but we feel that so far we have averted war. We have established also through agreement between the parties most directly interested and in complete harmony with the sentiments of the government of the United States, that it is a principle of American policy to have our national problems always given a fair examination and settled without foreign interference. We understand that if such a result has been attained we shall have created a more favorable atmosphere in international politics in America."

Mr. Da Gama called attention in his speech to the fact that President Wilson had personally informed the mediators before they left Washington that the only way to solve Mexico's problem was "to aid the contending parties in Mexico to reach an agreement among themselves, thus obtaining a Mexican solution on the Mexican question."

FOLLOWED WILSON'S ADVICE.

In this manner the Ambassador revealed that the course which mediation now has taken was in President Wilson's mind from the beginning.

The speech served also as a definition for the world generally of the hitherto unsettled status of mediation.

The Washington government would have preferred that the mediation board remain here while the Constitutionalists were urged to act quickly on the invitation already extended them. The mediators did not think they could be of as much service here just now as in Washington, where they can be in personal touch with friends in the Constitutionalist movement. Minister Naon of Argentina and Luis Cabrera and Minister Suarez of Chile and Fernando Iglesias Calderon have been in communication before and may discuss the situation informally in Washington in a few days.

NOTE ACKNOWLEDGED.

The mediators tonight formally acknowledged the latest note from Gen. Carranza. The answer expresses the appreciation of the mediators for the friendly sentiments toward peace uttered by Carranza and is most courteously phrased.

It will be made public tomorrow, together with the Zubaran communication.

The Huerta delegates received formal instructions from their government giving them plenary powers to discuss internal questions with Constitutionalist delegates. The Huerta delegation is anxious to know when and where the conference will take place so they can arrange their private affairs.

Minister Naon of Argentina after his conferences in Washington with Luis Cabrera expects to telegraph the Huerta delegates some definite idea of the date when the informal conferences will be convened. It was learned tonight that there would be

AID SALEM SUFFERERS APPEAL OF RED CROSS.

SALEM (Mass) July 1.—Both the American Red Cross and the State Relief Committee emphasized today anew the need of more funds for caring for the destitute fire sufferers. The State Relief Committee voted to reissue the appeal for financial assistance made late Saturday night.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, chairman of the National Relief Board of the American Red Cross, authorized a statement to the American people, in which she said:

"The need for assistance for Salem is much greater than at first believed. Thousands of persons have not only lost their homes, generally uninsured, but the destruction of the large mills has deprived them of their work. Thousands are living in tents and must be cared for until work and shelter can be obtained for them."

Registration Frauds Charged Against County Clerks.

Thousands of Names Said to Be Wrongfully Listed.

Many Affidavits Declared to Have Been Changed.

OAKLAND, July 1.—Charges of wholesale Progressive registration frauds, which have been made against six deputy county clerks for the past several months, and which are now being thoroughly investigated by County Clerk John P. Cook, probably will be in the hands of the grand jury for investigation within a week.

Members of the District Attorney's office announced today that steps will be taken for the prosecution of the clerks, should the investigation reveal the fact that the registration affidavits have been tampered with, mutilated or changed.

It also was discovered that many of the affidavits signed by the six clerks are in a mutilated condition; that is, the word "Republican" has been crossed or marked out and the word "Progressive" written in. According to Cook, it appears in numerous instances that the words written in were inserted some time after the affidavit was first made out.

The six clerks are Royal Luty, J. W. McCoy, Milton Klein, H. Kronick, J. G. Brown and J. Dimond. They were appointed by Cook, and are known as "outside clerks." They work on the ferry boats and other public places.

Victim in New Orleans Tells of Being Bitten and Building Is Isolated to Stop Rats' Escape.

NEW ORLEANS, July 1.—The real cause of buconic plague infection was revealed here today by W. W. Wilkinson, now at an isolation camp here undergoing treatment for the malady. Pending for Dr. Oscar Dowling, president of the State Board of Health, Wilkinson told him he had been bitten by fleas while at the warehouse of the Volunteers of America. When stricken he was lodging at the Industrial Home of the order, as was Charles Dundena, the Swedish sailor who died Sunday from the plague.

A guarantine for one block in every direction from the warehouse was established, and a rat barrier, to prevent the escape of the rodents into other parts of the city, built. The contents of the building were burned.

EL PASO (Tex.) July 1.—While running at a high rate of speed, westbound Texas and Pacific passenger train No. 5, due here at 8:50 p.m. tonight, ran into a washout near Madden, sixty-three miles east, and four coaches turned over on their side. There were no fatalities, but several persons were seriously injured.

A relief train with physicians and nurses has been sent to the scene of the wreck. A terrific rainstorm is sweeping over that section and has washed away bridges and flooded the flats.

ST. PAUL (Minn.) July 1.—Three brothers, Tom, Lute and John Sunasitch, No. 4249 Fortieth avenue, Minneapolis, slept together in one bed last night because of the cold. They placed a lighted oil stove under the foot of the bed to ward off the chill. They were awakened by the flames. The brothers were not injured seriously, but the damage to their home, the result of savings of several years, will be about $1000.

Enthusiastic Meeting at St. Francis Hotel of Republicans Decides from Now on Campaign Shall Be Pushed—Mayor Rolph Sends Congratulations and a Bouquet.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 1.—An added impulse to the boom of Mrs. Helen K. Williams for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant-Governor was given today at one of the most enthusiastic meetings yet held in this district. The California Woman's Republican Club gathered at the St. Francis Hotel and when the motion was put to go on record as favoring Mrs. Williams it went through with a rush.

The members showed their fervor by rounds of applause and it was the consensus of opinion that the women should do all in their power from now on to keep the ball rolling and the name of their candidate before the public. Mayor Rolph sent a large bouquet of roses and greetings to Mrs. Williams as the next Lieutenant-Governor of the State.

It was announced by Mrs. Williams that she would start campaigning soon and will make her bid for support in many other districts.

PORTLAND DAMPER ON PROHIBITION.

PORTLAND (Or.) July 1.—More than four to one against State-wide prohibition was the vote of business men of Portland, expressed in a straw ballot conducted by the members of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, which was canvassed today by the board of trustees of that body. The vote was held at the request of members of the chamber themselves, who desired to ascertain the attitude of the representative business men of the city as a whole on the subject.

It was declared that this vote does not represent any official position taken by the chamber as a body, but is a canvass of the individual opinions of the business men who make up the organization.

The movement in Portland was started immediately following the action of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Many protests were sent the Portland chamber when it was found that the straw ballot was to be taken, urging that the plan be abandoned. One prominent member resigned and others threatened to do so.

The plan was originally to poll the State on the question, but this was narrowed to a straw vote of the Portland chamber only.

DRYS AND WETS CLASH IN OHIO.

COLUMBUS (O.) July 1.—Two battles on the liquor question will start in Ohio this week. Wet interests will start the circulation of petitions to initiate a constitutional amendment forbidding State-wide prohibition. Dry forces, led by the Anti-Saloon League organization, will circulate petitions to submit a constitutional amendment establishing absolute prohibition in the State.

WEST VIRGINIA NOW A SAHARA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WHEELING (W. Va.) July 1.—West Virginia entered today the column of prohibition States and its residents are trying to adjust themselves to the new conditions imposed by the Yost act, said to be one of the most drastic prohibitory measures ever enacted in the United States.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHARLESTON (W. Va.) July 1.—The first court decision affecting liquor since the State prohibitory amendment became operative last midnight, was handed down today by the Supreme Court of Appeals when it decided that it was no violation of the law for a member of a club to take upon club premises liquor for his own use, without storage on the premises or for service to his friends.

The court had been asked to permanently enjoin the governors of the Edgewood Club of Charleston from putting into effect a resolution preventing members from keeping their own liquor at the club.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Secretary Daniels's famous order banishing intoxicants from the navy went into effect today. It not only abolishes the traditional "wine mess" of the officers, but bars all alcoholic liquors from every ship and shore station of the navy.

Beginning today, any officer found in possession of alcoholic liquor on board ship or at any naval station will be guilty of misconduct. Commanding officers will be held directly responsible for the enforcement of the "dry edict."

"WET" COUNTY SEAT IS SUDDENLY "DRY."

MARSHFIELD (Or.) July 1.—Coquille, the county seat of Coos county, is today "dry" for the first time in many years.

The closing of the saloons last night was marked by a general celebration. The closing is due to a campaign made by prohibition followers some weeks ago, when a petition was circulated, signed and presented to the City Council, asking that the Council refuse to renew the saloon licenses.

Last night the licenses expired, and today the county seat is without saloons.

FEDERAL JUDGESHIP FOR LOS ANGELES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 1.—The bill for the creation of a new Federal judgeship at Los Angeles will come up next Monday on the unanimous consent calendar. Efforts have been made by the California Representatives to get this bill up every time the unanimous consent calendar was taken up, but it has had to await its turn. There is now a disposition to rush through a number of small bills that cumber this calendar on Monday and it is believed that the bill creating a new judgeship will be put through.

Representatives Stephens and Kettner have both secured additional data and statistics, showing the immense quantity of business dispatched by Judge Wellborn and the congested condition of his calendar and they are ready to submit this to the House if they are given an opportunity.

FINDS IMPORTANT GERM.

Philadelphia Doctor Says He Has Discovered Cause of Well-Known Disease and How to Eradicate It.

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—The germ which is said to cause pyorrhea and a cure for the disease, have been discovered by Dr. Michael F. Barrett of this city, according to an announcement made here today at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Dental Society.

Dr. Barrett, who described his discovery in a paper read before the association, said the germ is an animal organism similar to that which causes dysentery. Emitene, a component part of ipecac, which Dr. Edward Vedders, by experiments in the Pasig River laboratory in the Philippine Islands, discovered to be a cure for dysenetry, was used, successfully by Dr. Barrett in the treatment of forty-six cases of pyorrhea in the Philadelphia hospital.

In his experiments leading to the discovery of the germ, Dr. Barrett was assisted by Dr. Allen J. Smith, discoverer of the hookworm, who is professor of tropical diseases at the University of Pennsylvania.

RABASA PLEASED.

Emilio Rabasa, head of the Huerta delegation, said he was pleased with the accomplishments of mediation thus far. The recess of mediation still holds in effect the armistice between the United States and the Huerta government at Vera Cruz. No protocol has been signed as yet indicating when the American forces will be withdrawn from Vera Cruz. This has been left for consideration after the two Mexican factions agree on the new provisional government. It is expected that this protocol along with others already signed will be embodied later in a complete agreement to be signed by the Constitutionalists, the Huerta delegates and American representatives. This would finally clear up all points of international difference and fix a date for the recognition of the new government.

As future meetings of the mediation board and the delegates probably will be held in New York or Washington, today's luncheon was in the nature of a farewell.

REBELS MEDIATE ROW WITH VILLA.

PLAN CONFERENCE AT TORREON TO SETTLE DIFFICULTY WITH CARRANZA.

EL PASO (Tex.) July 1.—The conference designed to settle the differences between Gen. Carranza and Gen. Villa will be composed entirely of military men. Representatives of the eastern, central and western military zones will meet soon, probably at Torreon, to discuss the condition which threatens the well-being of the Constitutionalist revolution.

This was learned today from persons coming from Monterey and Saltillo. They said that the proposed conference resulted from an exchange of telegrams between Gen. Villa and Gen. Gonsales. Carranza's eastern divisional commander. Villa asked Gonsales for a supply of coal to operate railroads for movements incident to the attack on Aguas Calientes. Gonsales, they declared, replied that he would offer Villa no assistance until the strained relations between the central zone chief and the commander-in-chief, Carranza, had been adjusted. Plans for the conferences to settle those matters resulted.

From the west come reports that Gen. Alvaro Obregon, in charge of the West Coast operations, also would send delegates to the conference. Obregon's troops are investing Guadalajara, the Gonzales forces are about to attack San Luis Potosi, while Villa, prevented from obtaining ammunition for his troops or coal for his trains, has returned north with practically his entire army, determining to push further his heretofore successful campaign. Gonsales and Obregon supposedly are firm adherents of Carranza in his present embroilment with Villa.

The results of the pending conferences are expected to settle definitely the matter.

The railroad between Chihuahua City and Torreon was repaired today, thus opening traffic between the border and Zacatecas, recently taken by Villa's forces. This did away with Villa's difficulty in securing coal for his railroad, since it may be secured from the United States.

However, the trouble in obtaining ammunition with the double embargo by the United States border patrol and the Carranza officials to the east probably will prevent Villa from continuing on his campaign until his misunderstanding with Carranza may be adjusted.

KAHN WANTS TO KNOW TRUTH OF CHARGES AS TO SHIPMENT OF ARMS.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Representative Kahn of California, Republican, today introduced a resolution to direct the Secretary of State to transmit to the House, if not incompatible with the public interest, correspondence with John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico.

He specified documents "in relation to assurances given by Lind to Capt. S. G. Hopkins of this city, or any other person, to the effect that war material might be exported from Mobile, Pensacola or other gulf ports in small vessels to Cuba, where their course might be altered to the mouth of the Rio Bravo, and that there would be no interference whatsoever with shipments made in this way."

The resolution was referred to the Foreign Affairs Committee.

ENTIRE ARMY INTERESTED IN NEW CAUSE CELEBRE

[BY MEXICAN CABLE—DIRECT WIRE, EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VERA CRUZ (Mex.) July 1.—Army officers here today read with interest the cable from New York published in yesterday's El Imparcial at Mexico City saying President Wilson had ordered Gen. Evans at Governor's Island, N. Y., before a court-martial for criticising the administration's Mexican policy.

The freedom with which various officers with the forces in Vera Cruz have expressed themselves with semi-publicity, even going to lengths which might be considered intemperate in criticism of the President and Bryan and the whole Mexican policy of the administration, frequently caused surprise to those hearing them.

If a poll of the officers here could be taken it would doubtless develop that the sympathy of a large majority is with Gen. Evans. Details of the matter are being awaited with a keen interest.

WHAT EVANS SAID.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 1.—Brig.-Gen. Robert K. Evans, commanding the Department of the East, is facing a severe reprimand and court-martial for his speech on the Monroe Doctrine at the annual dinner of the Sons of the American Revolution at the Hotel Martinique, New York, last Friday night.

Among his sayings, according to newspaper reports, were:

"I am glad we had that trouble with the Queen of Spain, for she was well that summer and was about site. We need a large army be with our great variety of interests are naturally the most meddlesome nation in the world."

Gen. Evans was speaking at a Spanish-American War when he the statement about the Queen of Spain. He explained his about the United States being most meddlesome nation" by the Monroe Doctrine was a dora's box."

"I was not referring at all present situation of the United but to our historical position family of nations. My remarks intended to cover a period years. As to deriding our policy, I did nothing of the merely pointed out some of tures of our past history and intention of dealing with any ular episodes."

The matter was brought to tention of the President Saturday he at once directed Secretary Garrison to make an investigation which is in progress. Advisers of President said if Gen. Evans was rectly quoted he would be pu Speculation had it that he was court-martialed, but the more servative of army officers do not for more than a severe repri for Gen. Evans and his retirement detail to a smaller post.

GRIM REMARK BY HUERTA.

VERA CRUZ, July 1.—"Before I resign, half the people of Mexico City will die with me," is the remark President Victoriano Huerta is credited with having made to friends on Monday afternoon while sitting in a Mexico City cafe.

The party was discussing the efforts of the mediators at Niagara Falls to find a solution of the Mexican problem.

Gen. Huerta was more grim and taciturn than ever and showed little of his accustomed jocularity.

When the passengers who arrived here today left the capital yesterday morning, Gen. Huerta's family was still there.

The Constitutionalists, in possession of Tuxpam, on June 29, made a demonstration against Americans in that port. They marched through the streets shouting "Death to the Americans." No one was injured.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Letters of commendation for conspicuous gallantry during the occupation of Vera Cruz were written by Secretary Daniels to George H. Boyd, quartermaster, and Augustus J. Hallberg, gunner's mate, of the cruiser Chester. Both men have been advanced to the rank of chief petty officers.

Commander Moffett of the Chester reported that Boyd remained on watch on the bridge under rifle fire almost continuously during the fighting at the Mexican port. Hallberg distinguished himself in charge of machine guns ashore.

ASKS PROTECTION FOR PANUCO FIELDS.

TAMPICO (Mex.) June 30 (Via Laredo, Mex., July 1.—Apprehension of trouble continued today in the Panuco oil region among the foreign element. The arrival of troops sent by Gen. Candido Aguilar apparently did not restore confidence, and the Tampico Panuco Company, an English corporation, suspended operations and directed all employees to return to Tampico. This was said to be in response to a cable from London.

Other companies in the same region have boats ready to bring their employees to Tampico at a moment's notice.

It was understood here today that Rear-Admiral Mayo would hold another conference tomorrow with Gov. Delara relative to protection of the oil fields.

The uneasiness was increased by an order directing Americans in the Panuco region to turn in all arms to civil authorities by July 1, after which the camps would be searched for hidden weapons. This action of the authorities is believed to have been taken to bring pressure to bear on oil companies which recently agreed to contribute 200,000 pesos each month to support a force of rurales for protection of the oil fields.

All oil camps are believed well supplied with rifles, and serious trouble is expected should an attempt be made to seize them.

VERA CRUZ, July 1.—It was reported the rebels have cut the road between Cordoba and Mexico in an attempt to prevent Huerta's escape from the east. Anxiety is felt here because of fears the British refugees' train, loaded with women and children, has been stopped.

WHY MAYTORENA IS GOVER

Appearance of Big Yaqui Force at Hermosillo Is Reported Result of Carranza Backdown.

NACO (Ariz.) July 1.—News coming here today from Hermosillo is of critical conditions at the capital, despite the apparent calm, also gave what were said to be the inside facts of the recent trouble in Sonora.

When Col. P. Elias Calles, leader of the Sonora military faction, was reported backing of Carranza, prepared to oust Maytorena, a force from Villa to Calles stopped the proposed armed attack on the State's capital. two hours before the time was said.

Later Carranza ordered Calles to return to Hermosillo from the front. It is said, to demand the surrender of Maytorena, with the threat that if would be executed within forty hours if he refused to accede. The command was based on the law of Benito Juarez, promulgated in 1862, by which any state was absolutely nothing on the traitors could be executed by military without the formality of a trial.

The appearance of 3500 Yaqui Indians at Hermosillo caused Calles to be abandoned. Maytorena was reported to have the backing of Gen. Obregon. The attitude of the Yaquis left Maytorena no alternative but to leave the state, although he was opposed to the Governor.

PLUCK FIFTEEN NAVAL OFFICERS

Several With Distinguishe Records Are Victims.

Present Weeding-Out Sy tem May Be Discontinued.

German Publication Criticise United States Policy.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Fifteen naval officers, several of them captains with distinguished records, ended today their active careers upon the recommendation of the dreaded "plucking board." Secretary Daniels made public the names of those selected for compulsory retirement this year, with a formal announcement that he expected to ask for the repeal of the law of 1899 under which the annual "plucking" is done.

The officers retired, with their present stations and home addresses, follow:

Commander George N. Hayward, collier Hannibal, Chicago.

Lieutenant-Commander Walter M. Falconer, collier Leonidas, Springfield, O.

Lieut. William J. Moses, cruiser Raleigh, Seattle, Wash.

In addition to the plucking board's list, Secretary Daniels announced that the following six officers had been placed on the retired list at their own request:

RETIREMENT REQUESTS.

A number of other officers had asked for voluntary retirement, and all the applications been accepted the board would have been relieved of the necessity of "plucking." But last year the President decided not to permit the voluntary retirement of any officer who has not had twenty years' services after graduation from the Naval Academy. The law requires the creation of forty vacancies annually, with fifteen compulsory retirements if necessary.

Included in the list of "plucked" this year are the names of some officers who have been so prominent in naval circles as to cause great surprise among their colleagues at their retirement. Capt. Gibbons has been superintendent of the Naval Academy, naval attache to the American embassy in London, assignments given officers of the highest professional ability. Capt. Hill is one of the manager school of officers who became prominent through his outspoken criticisms of defects in the emplacement of armor on the older battleships which led to radical changes in the designs.

Secretary Daniels explained that there was absolutely nothing on the records of many of these officers to show that they were not fitted for active naval service in the matter of merit, temperament and professional ability. He pointed out that the existing law has some time ago resulted in the elimination from the service of officers who were palpably unqualified, but now the naval lists were in such shape that the board was confronted with the task of determining, not who was unfit to be retained in the service, but rather who could best be spared out of the list of thoroughly competent officers.

The Secretary added that he hoped that with the aid of a board headed by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, a law could be prepared before the meeting of the next Congress for the readjustment of the personnel of the navy which would eliminate objectionable features of the present law.

GERMAN CRTIICISM OF AMERICAN NAVY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, July 1.—The Nauticus, Germany's official marine annual, which has just been issued, in a review of foreign fleets declares that the building of the United States navy has been hampered by lack of a definite programme. As a consequence, the Nauticus adds questions of the country's defense, which should be outside parliamentary contention, have been drawn into party politics and the opportunities for advancement of young marine officers are so unpromising at present that a retire change in personnel appears probable.

The Nauticus declares that the labor troubles have hampered the proper training of officers and men of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets. During the last year, the Nauticus says, the most favorable for Germany's world interests and the opening of the Panama Canal will find Germany able to take advantage of the new canal without any subsidy, whereas, the annual asserts, the Italians and Austrians consider themselves unable to utilize the canal without State help.

TURN DEFICIT INTO SURPLUS.

MILLIONS SUDDENLY ADDED TO TREASURY RECEIPTS.

McAdoo Declares His Original Estimate Has Been Exceeded and Books Would More Than Balance If It Were Not for Panama Canal Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Treasury figures completed tonight showed that the Federal government went through its first fiscal year under the Wilson administration with its income exceeding ordinary expenses by $33,784,452.07. Nearly $33,500,000, pouring into the treasury yesterday, the last day, brought the total receipts for the year up to $734,343,700.20, a million and a half above Secretary McAdoo's original estimate, and turned into a surplus what had promised the day before to be a substantial deficit.

Corporations and income tax payments furnished the stream of gold at the finish. From this source came $26,161,782.82 between the opening and closing of the treasury yesterday, and tonight Secretary McAdoo and other administration officials were pointing proudly to the total figures as proof of their promises as to what would be accomplished under the new tariff.

The treasury surplus this year at least will be wiped out by Panama canal expenditures, which have been paid from the general fund. During the twelve months $34,526,841 has been spent on the canal, and when this has been charged off there will be a deficit for the year of $1,010,-058.81 on the books. Last year the canal expenditure amounted to $41,-741,258 and the final deficit was $400,723. Last year's total receipts were only $691,140,000, but on the other hand the ordinary expenditures were only $654,805,000, or $45,754,248 below this year's total.

Secretary McAdoo estimates that approximately $3,500,000 in scheduled income and corporation taxes, assessments not paid in June because penalty does not accrue against these assessments until July 10, would have been a clear surplus for the year of approximately $2,500,000.

The Secretary sent telegrams of congratulations to President Wilson, Representative Underwood, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and to Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate, upon the result under the new tariff laws.

M'ADOO STATEMENT.

Later he issued a statement, saying:

"The department is exceedingly gratified with the results for the first fiscal year of the new tariff and income tax law. Unquestionably very much better results will be obtained during the present fiscal year."

YEAR'S FIGURES.

The following figures were announced for the year, subject to revision upon analysis of complete returns:

Customs receipts, $292,128,527.63.

Individual income tax, $28,306,-326.69.

BIND DEMOCRATS TO STAY ON JOB.

Leaders Vote to Stick Until Trust Measures Pass.

Serve Notice on Business of Wilson Intentions.

Lewis Instructed to Keep Senate Quorum Ready.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Democrats of the Senate in conference late today adopted a resolution declaring their purpose to stay in session until the trust legislation passed by the House had been acted upon by the Senate. The resolution does not bind Senators to vote for the bills without change.

The resolution is designed to serve definite and final notice to business and the country that anti-trust legislation is to be passed before Congress quits Washington. It was proposed by Senator Stone after a talk with President Wilson and with other Democratic leaders. Senator Stone said it was intended as an answer to the propaganda for immediate adjournment of Congress.

The party leaders decided that in the future it will be necessary to make party measures of the three House bills or the substitutes offered for them, and another conference will be held for the purpose of binding Democrats to definite legislation. Some Senators believe the resolution might bind Senators to vote for the bills, but Senator Kern, chairman of the conference, declared that such was not its purpose and a clause stating this in specific terms was adopted by a close vote.

FROM THE RESOLUTION.

The resolution says:

"Resolved, that the conference of Democratic Senators after due consideration hereby declare that the present session of Congress should not adjourn until at least the following bills now pending in the Senate have been finally disposed of."

It names by the official number, the trade commission, the railroad securities and the Clayton anti-trust bills as the measures to be included. The explanatory clause attached to the resolution read as follows:

"The resolution hereinbefore adopted is intended merely as an expression of the purpose of the majority party in reference to adjournment."

Senators who hope to get away from Washington within the next six weeks or two months found a morsel of comfort in the announcement from the conference that Senator Kern, as majority leader, will ask the Senate to hold night sessions next week to take up the calendar and "other business."

TO KEEP LEWIS BUSY.

At the same time Senator Lewis, the Democratic "whip," was instructed to keep a quorum present at all times. These facts indicate an intention on the part of the majority to press the trade commission bill to a vote as soon as possible and to put the appropriation bills through when opportunity offers. The trade commission bill already is before the Senate and a vote may be asked for any day.

The railroad securities bill and the Clayton bill are still in committee, but it is possible one of them may be reported as soon as it becomes apparent that the commission bill is on the verge of passage.

Some leaders are hopeful that adjournment can be taken with the programme complete by August 20, or certainly by the first of September.

Only the Sundry Civil, the General Deficiency and the Rivers and Harbors Appropriation bills remain of the supply measures to receive Senate approval. The river and harbor bill is the subject of Republican attack, and its passage may take several weeks, but in the end Democratic leaders are confident it will be put through. The two others will be subject to some discussion, but so far as it is known will not cause prolonged debate.

Senators Clarke, Lewis, Williams, Shively, Pomerene and Rees made speeches tonight, but the conference was harmonious and lasted little more than an hour. Several Senators expressed dissatisfaction with provisions in some of the bills, but it was made clear that no one was bound to vote for any particular bill.

LIMIT ON CAPITAL.

An arbitrary legal limit on the amount of capital to be allowed in a single corporation engaged in any particular line of business was advocated in the Senate today by Senator Cummins, in a speech supporting the Administration Trade Commission Bill. The Senator announced he would propose an amendment empowering the commission to fix the limit, and establishing the rule that "no corporation should command an amount of capital which of itself tended to establish a monopoly."

CUMMINS'S INTENTIONS.

Senator Cummins said his efforts were not aimed against "big business as such."

"American business," he added, "must be carried on by large units that may take advantage of the modern developments, which make for economy and efficiency in business. But there is no business field in this country so small but that it ought to be occupied by at least two competing concerns."

Asserting that the United States Steel Corporation, though it controlled only about one-half of the country's steel industry, through its capitalization of $1,500,000,000 had power to eliminate competition, the Senator said he would limit the capitalization of any single company in the steel business to $300,000,000.

Senator Cummins also announced that he would offer amendments giving the proposed trade commission authority to eliminate interlocking directorates and holding companies. Both of these problems are dealt with in the Clayton bill, another measure on the administration programme which has passed the House.

NEWLANDS'S PLAN.

The determination of the Democrats to press the anti-trust bills to a vote as early as possible was made clear late today, when Senator Newlands sought an agreement to begin voting on the Trade Commission Bill at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Senator Cummins objected, saying the discussion had scarcely commenced.

Growing Crops.

COTTON ACREAGE SECOND BIGGEST.

PRODUCTION PROSPECTS BETTER THAN LAST YEAR.

California Has Thirty-five Thousand Acres in Cultivation, More Than Double That of Previous Season, With a Condition of One Hundred Per Cent.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 1.—On the second largest acreage ever recorded and with the prospects of production probably equal or better than those of last year, the growing cotton crop of the United States today was reported by the Department of Agriculture as being 79.6 per cent. of a normal, with the area in cultivation as 36,960,000 acres.

The area in cultivation is 498,000 acres, or 1.3 per cent. less than the revised acreage in cultivation a year ago. Oklahoma reported an 8 per cent. decrease and Texas and Virginia 5 per cent. decrease. In California the area was more than doubled and Louisiana reported an increase of 10 per cent.

The report showed 35,000 acres in California and a condition of 100 per cent.

Bad weather early in the season caused a low condition in a number of States, but during June conditions in those localities had improved. In Texas, where on May 15 the condition was 65 per cent. of a normal, the June 25 report showed a condition of 74 per cent.; in Oklahoma it improved from 68 to 79; in North Carolina from 76 to 82, and in South Carolina from 72 to 81.

PRICES AFFECTED.

NEW ORLEANS, July 1.—The government's report of 79.6 per cent. of the normal as the condition of the growing cotton crop on June 25 caused a loss of about a dollar a bale in the new crop options in the New Orleans cotton market. October lost eighteen points and December twenty points.

WILSON'S NO MAY MEAN YES.

Woman Suffragists Are Now After the Congressmen.

They Suspect the Sly Old Foxes Are Hiding Out.

Like the Militant Abroad They're Startin' Things.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Women suffragists, determined to wage their fight before Congress in spite of President Wilson's refusal to lend aid, were busy today about the Capitol and House office building, scouting and telephoning in a vain effort to assemble the House Rules Committee.

The women were informed that a meeting of the committee to discuss special rules for immediate consideration of the prohibition and suffrage questions, called for today, had been postponed until August 1, but, fearing some kind of a trap, they remained on watch and sent out searchers for committeemen.

Among members of the House it was generally understood that the committee would not meet August 1, and that neither suffrage nor prohibition would get before Congress before the December session.

The suffragists, many of whom came here yesterday for the visit to President Wilson, were headed by Miss Elsie Hill of Norwalk, Ct., daughter of former Representative E. J. Hill. They took possession of the Rules Committee room regardless of assurances of the clerk that the meeting had been postponed, and some held chairs while others went scouting.

Chairman Henry is campaigning in Texas for reelection, and Representative Pou of North Carolina, the acting chairman, was not to be found, though his office and the route to the Capitol were watched and his telephone kept steadily jingling.

Representative Campbell of Kansas played host to the ladies for some time, and Representative Lenroot of Wisconsin appeared later. Other members said they would come when a quorum was in sight, but that time never came.

Finally the suffragists called in their sentinels and left the Capitol, announcing that they proposed to continue their fight throughout the session.

PRINZIP EXULTS IN HIS GUILT.

Assassin Describes How He Killed Royal Couple.

Anarchistic Books Given as Inspiration of Deed.

Says He Had Nothing to Do With Bomb Attack.

SARAYEVO, July 1.—Martial law has been proclaimed at Tuzla, and Maglaj, because of the serious rioting in these towns, where much Servian property has been destroyed.

The preliminary examination today by a magistrate into the assassination of the Archduke and his wife showed that it had been the intention of Prinzip to accomplish his purpose at the time of the maneuvers at Tarsini, but the attempt was abandoned owing to the strict military guard which prevented any outsider from approaching the Archduke.

During the preliminary examination Prinzip gloried in guilt. He described the killing of the couple and said it had been his intention for a long time to kill a prominent Austrian. He had read much anarchistic literature and had become convinced that there could be nothing on earth finer than to be an assassin.

"I do not regret the deed," he said. "I had nothing to do with the bomb attack. When I heard the explosion I exclaimed: 'There are still people who feel and think as I do. This strengthened my resolve still further.'"

No evidence has yet been found against any of the other persons arrested, with the exception of Gabrinovics. They were taken into custody, because of their personal acquaintance with the assassins.

TRY TO INVADE PALACE.

VIENNA, July 1.—Several hundred students renewed tonight their demonstrations against the Servian legation, but were driven off by gendarmes.

The students then marched to the Emperor's palace in Ringstrasse, which they attempted to invade. This was prevented by a strong detachment of guards with fixed bayonets.

KANSAS CITY, July 1.—Two hundred Boy Scouts, acting as pages, are meeting the delegates to the twenty-first annual convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of the South, which will begin here tomorrow. Late tonight nearly 3000 delegates representing 6,000,000 Baptists have arrived.

Ulster.

and the Nationalists, who began to organize and smuggle in arms a little more than a month ago, said at that time that in six weeks they hoped to recruit 300,000 men. No figures of the strength they have attained have been given out.

A large part of the Ulster volunteer force is on paper. During a recent mobilization test about 20,000 volunteers assembled for a night of duty to show their effectiveness. The force has been divided into three parts, in the first class of which is placed 25,000 to 30,000 men, uniformed, well armed and drilled. There are also about 300 women nurses or signallers attached to this division.

The second class has about 25,000 armed men, of whom only a small percentage are drilled and partly uniformed. They know a little of simple marching and the manual of arms. The third class includes the remainder of the men who have been enrolled, between 40,000 and 55,000. Only a few have any knowledge of military practice or part of a uniform.

The force has no cavalry, but has a small body of mounted infantry that is well drilled. There is an aviation fleet and a splendid body of dispatch riders who own their own motorcycles.

Gen. Sir George Richardson, commander-in-chief of the force, has his headquarters in Portadown, County Armagh, where are also the headquarters of the Ulster Unionist council and other bodies.

About the Nationalists not so much is known. They were formed when John Redmond gave his sanction to the movement after it was proposed that as long as the opponents of home rule had organized, its adherents might as well do so also. This has led to the strange situation of two large semi-military forces existing outside of the control of the government and contrary to law.

Many attempts have been made by the government to prevent both volunteer forces from procuring arms, but without avail.

SAYS A CALAMITY IMPENDS IN IRELAND

LONDON, July 1.—When the bill to amend the Irish home rule bill came up today for second reading in the House of Lords, the Marquis of Lansdowne, the Unionist leader, announced that as Ireland was one vast armed camp, it was necessary to find a way out of the calamity which was threatening. The Unionists, he said, would give the amending bill a second reading and introduce amendments during the committee stage in regard to the area to be excluded from the operations of the home rule bill, the duration of the exclusion and the government of the excluded area. The Unionists, he concluded, would not agree to the second reading of the Home rule bill before.

NO OTHER WAYS.

Lord Lansdowne added that their action in passing the second reading of the amending bill would be misunderstood and misrepresented in many quarters, but there was no other way by which breathing space could be obtained with the prospect of averting the horrors of civil war. The amendments to be introduced in the committee stage would be directed solely to make the bill a really adequate exclusion bill, he said.

With a touch of pathos, he added: "The peers are so fast bound by the meshes of the Parliament act that there is no other course open to them which would be likely to prove effective."

Most of the other speakers were equally conciliatory in tone. A notable exception was Lord Willoughby De Broke, the leader of the "Die Hards," who moved the rejection of the bill.

The Archbishop of York said that what the country wanted now was not the rejection of the bill, but a settlement in some form. Irish self government, he declared, was now inevitable.

THE ULSTER OATH.

The Earl of Arran announced he could not vote for the second reading because it would be in violation of the oath of the Ulster covenanters.

Ulster volunteers have been notified according to the Belfast Echo, that the time has arrived when on an order from their commanding officers the men may carry arms openly and that any attempt to seize the arms of the volunteers who may be carrying them in accordance with this order is to be resisted.

LORD SAYE AND SELE DENIES PART IN CANTEEN SCANDAL.

Controller of King George's Household Declares He Did Not Tempt Army Officer Sentenced to Prison and Asserts His Right to Make an Honest Living.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, July 1.—The canteen scandals, which culminated last May in charges against nine British officers and the civilian employees of Lipton's, Ltd., had an echo in the House of Lords today. Lord Saye and Sele, formerly lieutenant-colonel of the Royal Scots Fusiliers and now controller of the King's household, said the charge that he had tempted Lieut.-Col. Whitaker of the Second Yorkshire regiment, who was sentenced to six months imprisonment, was a foul lie.

He declared he had been deeply wronged by Justice Sir Charles Darling, who said in reference to a letter from the present Lord Saye and Sele:

"The letter shows sad decadence from the traditions of a great family. I myself, if I belonged to such a family, would starve rather than get a living by cadging for orders for beer."

Lord Saye and Sele today repudiated the "mischievous idea that the possession of an illustrious ancestry" debarred a man from earning an honest living in trade or otherwise.

Baron Newton took up the cudgels in defense of the judge's strictures, in referring to the position of Sir Thomas Lipton, the Baron remarked:

"If I were chairman of a company which had engaged in proceedings of that kind, I should be inclined to seek temporary seclusion, rather than be continually advertising myself in every conceivable way."

INTIMIDATION OF WITNESSES

Heavy Weights Thrown In Chicago Courtroom.

Grafting Unionists Desperate Over Investigation.

More Testimony Offered Acts of Blackmail.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 1.—Government investigation of a plot to intimidate witnesses before the grand jury investigating charges made by contractors, builders and manufacturers that they have been mulcted out of thousands of dollars by unscrupulous business agents of labor unions became known today. It developed that James McBruff, special agent in the Pinkerton service, and a half dozen detectives have been investigating circumstances attending the mutilation of government property last Monday. At 1 o'clock on that day four brass knobs, each weighing several pounds, were hurled in the direction of the governor's grand jury room. One of the missiles crashed through the skylight in Judge Mack's courtroom and imbedded itself in an oak table. The second pierced the skylight between the office of the United States Marshal and the grand jury room.

LABORITES DESPERATE.

The theory the government investigators follow is that men bossed by John J. McLaughlin, State representative and building material manufacturer, who knew he was scheduled to testify before the grand jury Monday, took a desperate course to head him off.

They look upon the act as possibly conveying only a warning to McLaughlin—not intended to cause death. In this theory they connect the threats McLaughlin says were made against his life following sensational charges that certain business agents were extorting money from builders and contractors under penalty of strikes.

Federal officials were reticent about the case and Special Agent McBruff would not discuss the matter at all.

"Simply investigating," he said.

MORE TESTIMONY.

Ten men, several of them sisters, were examined by Asst. U.S. Atty. Hopkins today. Their testimony was taken down by a stenographer and later will be presented before the special grand jury which convenes July 13. It was carefully guarded partly because of the government's desire to protect those who have given evidence. Their statements are implied chiefly to McLaughlin's labor troubles.

Numerous victims of the alleged grafters came into the open today and told of paying blackmail to business agents on various pretexts.

UNION BLACKMAIL CORROBORATED

CHICAGO, July 1.—Strikes have been called by business agents of locals of the Teamsters' Union for apparent reason, Dist.-Atty. James Wilkerson learned today in his investigation of charges of extortion by agents of union organizations. Some of his assistants examined officials of teamsters.

"These men say they went on strike but they don't know why they struck," said Wilkerson. "They say they were directed to do so by their business agents."

The charges of John J. McLaughlin, State Representative and contractor, that business agents tried to blackmail him, have been corroborated by a number of contractors. Similar stories of similar practices have been sent to the District Attorney from several cities in the Middle West.

MORE SPORT FOR ANGELS.

Ryan Pitches Shutout Ball Seven Innings.

Harry Ables Is Disrupted in the Sixth.

Wolter and Metzger Lead Bombardment.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Jack Ryan pitched for the Angels, and Jack is too kind-hearted a man to break any club's losing streak.

Harry Ables rolled up his coat sleeve for Oakland. It was the first time that Harry's naked arm had been seen in Los Angeles this year. It also was observed when Harry rolled up his sleeve that he had cast aside his celebrated red undershirt.

And that was some shirt, made from strong, home-spun flannel. Ables used to sew it on for the season, but generally gave it a well-earned vacation in the winter. Draped in this long, flowing undershirt, Ables weathered many a hard storm on the diamond, and was mighty hard to beat. It was his coat of mail.

LOST SHIRT.

For a time last winter it was thought that Harry had lost his arm. This was a mistake. He had simply lost his shirt. He hung it out on the line, and somebody kidnaped it. Harry has never been quite the same man since. He has tried many shirts since, but had found it extremely difficult to adjust himself to the changed conditions. Yesterday, he tried out a brand new one on us. It was a white cotton flannel shirt; all right in its way, but it lacked the glamour and dazzle of his red one, and he was easily beaten.

Aside from his shirt, Ables looked almost natural for five innings yesterday. But in the sixth too much noisy stuff happened for his own good. The Angels scored five in a lump, which added to one picked up in the fifth, gave them quite a lead. They tallied again in the seventh. Ables then quit the place that Christian might use all kinds of pinch-hitters.

"Shot-putter" Pruiett worked the last inning, and did so right well, striking out no less than two men.

JACK RYAN.

Jack Ryan acted just as though pitching is second nature with him. Seven innings the Oaks toiled against him without getting a man beyond second base. This made Jack feel that he had earned a vacation, and he took it so easy in the last two rounds that the Oaks up and scored three runs. Of all those present, the Oaks were the most surprised at these three runs. It made them fairly giddy with ambition, and some little effort was required to curb them.

Of all those who had a hand in disrupting Ables, "Dutch" Metzger and Harry Wolter probably were the most efficient disrupters. Wolter, with two clean singles, a hot double and a satisfactory bunt drove in two runs and showed himself versatile. Metzger's portion was three clean singles, and two of them counted mightily in the run-getting. "Dutch" also ran home with two tallies himself. Left-handers are getting to be simply bread custard for "Dutch."

Taking up Metzger's trail, he is found making his second hit in the fifth. It is significant that the Angels scored their first run in this inning. "Dutch" hit directly to left for one base. Brooks was safe on Hetling's throw, which hoisted Gardner several feet off the bag at the critical moment. Ryan filled the bases with a high bounder that seemed greatly to perplex Messrs. Ables, Murphy and Gardner.

Murphy fielded Wolter's grounder.

At Long Beach.

BROWNE AND WAYNE WIN SPEEDY TENNIS BATTLE.

BY WILLIAM M. HENRY.

NAT BROWNE and Claude Wayne, "hopes of the south," and Peck Griffin and Willie Johnston, "hopes of the north," sat around and eyed each other yesterday for the greater part of the afternoon with an "I'll-get-you-yet" expression spread over their faces.

The opening day of the Pacific Coast doubles tourney at Long Beach demonstrated that whoever comes out on top at the end of the week's play will be well fitted to carry the honors of the West against the picked doubles teams of the country.

Browne and Wayne, the former attempting to disguise himself behind a beautiful pink mustache, defeated Freeman and Newell in the feature match of the day. The match was won in straight sets, but a close perusal of the score of 6-3, 6-4, 7-7, would lead one to believe that had another set been played the Freeman-Newell combination might have come perilously close to winning.

FIRST SET EASY.

The first set was easy for the winners. Newell was playing in great form, but Freeman had a hard time getting started. The games went to four-love before Newell managed to break through by winning his service, and Freeman also managed to win the seventh game on his service, but Browne ended things, taking the first set, 6-2.

The second set showed a big improvement on the part of Freeman and Newell. Newell dropped his serve in the opening game, but Freeman won his own, and in the fifth game Newell seemed to get his serve to working and played a wonderful smashing game, making the score 6-3.

Wayne won his serve, Freeman dropped his, but the next game Freeman and Newell broke into Browne's service and pulled up to 3-5 when the set seemed gone. At this point the game was slightly interrupted by a loud noise over in the grand stand, which proved to be Peck Griffin's new and very loud sweater. Newell took his serve, but Wayne came through and finished up the set, 6-4.

MUCH ACTION.

The last set was a corker from start to finish. After Freeman had won the opening game on his service there was a landslide in the Browne-Wayne direction, which resulted in their suddenly finding themselves on the long end of a 5-2 score.

Here both Freeman and Newell seemed to take a decided brace and by means of judicious placement shots by the former and some terrific driving by the latter, they took Wayne's service, then Freeman's, and amid wild squeals from the gallery Browne lost his nerve and the score was 5-all.

Newell, Wayne, Freeman and Browne each took their serves in order, putting the score at 7-all, and then the roof fell in on the hopes of Freeman and Newell, when the latter dropped his service, and though they fought to the limit for every point, Wayne took his serve and the match.

The winners hardly showed enough class to warrant their being picked as the winners of the tournament, but they were not forced to the limit except in the latter part of the third set. They seemed overburdened with caution and didn't play the slashing tennis of which they are capable.

KIDS WIN.

McCormick and Barber, the two L. A. High School boys, showed their disrespect for their elders by eliminating Hart and Alphonso Bell in a decided manner, the match extending until well into the evening. The vets got away with the first set, but the youngsters ran out on the next three, making the score 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2.

The hardest-fought match of the day was that between Noble and Barker and Young and Emory Rogers. The latter pair started off like a bunch of flies after a dish of strawberry jam, and won the first two sets in short order.

Barker and Noble came right back, however, and took the next two sets in an equally unquestionable manner. The fight waxed hot right up to the point of 4-all in the fifth set, when Young and Rogers finally pulled themselves together sufficiently to capture the set and match.

Braly and Duncan, the latter decorated with a cute new jockey cap, had no trouble with the Pedley brothers, who were sadly off form. Herd and Dawson put up a surprisingly good game against Eastman and Albers, also winning in straight sets.

This afternoon there are to be some matches which look on paper to be as good as anything in the tournament. Johnston and Griffin are to meet Young and Rogers. Braly and Duncan are to meet Browne and Wayne, and at 5 o'clock Maurice McLoughlin and Tom Bundy, national doubles champions, are to play an exhibition match against Gerald Young and Emory Rogers.

The schedule:

Court 1.—6 a.m., Bowers and Shook vs. Riddell and Ferguson (two sets all, one set to be played); 8:30, Rogers and Rogers, vs. Herd and Dawson; 9 a.m., Variel and Adams vs. winner of 6 o'clock match; 1:30, Johnston and Griffin vs. Young and E. Rogers; 4:00, Browne and Wayne vs. Braly and Duncan; 5:00, McLoughlin and Bundy vs. Young and Rogers (exhibition.)

Court 2.—1:30 p.m., Sinsabaugh and Mace vs. winner of Rogers and Rogers vs. Herd and Dawson match; 3 p.m., McCormick and Barber vs. winner of Variel-Adams, Bowers-Shook and Riddell-Ferguson mix-up.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Variel and Adams beat Peterson and McNaughton, 6-1, 2-6, 7-5, 6-3; Bell and Hart beat Leech and Boyer, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2; Harriman and Egbert beat Morris and Brent, 6-2, 8-6, 10-8; Rogers and Rogers beat Huse and Ashley, 9-7, 6-2, 8-6; Herd and Dawson beat Eastman and Albers, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2; Browne and Wayne beat Freeman and Newell, 6-2, 6-4, 9-7; Johnston and Griffin beat Sheldon and Donley, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2; Sinsabaugh and Mace beat Harriman and Egbert, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4; Braly and Duncan beat Pedley and Pedley, 6-2, 6-0, 6-4; Rogers and Young beat Barker and Noble, 6-2, 6-4, 3-6, 4-6, 6-4; Barber and McCormic beat Bell and Hart, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2.

COULON REFEREES VAISE OUT OF CANADIAN TITLE.

VANCOUVER (B. C.) July 1.—The Canadian lightweight championship changed hands today when Johnny O'Leary of Seattle was awarded a decision after a fast fifteen-round contest with "Frenchy" Vaise of Renton, Wash., who acquired the title just a year ago to the day in the same ring.

It was an unpopular victory. The worst that the Renton boy should have received was a draw and the O'Leary contingent was as much surprised at winning as Vaise was in having the title taken from him by the decision of Referee Johnny Coulon, formerly world's bantam champion.

HAL CHASE REOPENS HIS FIGHT ON ORGANIZED BALL.

BUFFALO (N. Y.) July 1.—A motion will be made in the Supreme Court here Monday for an order vacating the injunction granted on June 20 restraining Hal Chase, the former Chicago American League first baseman, from playing with the Buffalo Federal League club.

In the affidavit filed today, which covers thirty typewritten pages, Chase seeks to show that all his contract relations with the Chicago team were lived up to and that he was a free agent.

He declared his salary from the New York team was reduced from $8000 to $6000 without previous notice, and that the only notice of his transfer to the Chicago team was when he was told by the Chicago manager to join that team at Boston. He protested to Owner Farrell of New York against the ten-day clause in his contract, and was told by Manager Callahan of Chicago that the clause was to be stricken out.

Chase denied the allegation of President Comiskey of the Chicago club that he left that team surreptitiously. He personally handed notice to the White Sox president, he avers, and receiving no reply from him solicited a contract with the Buffalo team.

The affidavit goes at length into the "national agreement" and indicates that alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law will be one of the weapons used in the effort to quash the injunction that forbids Chase playing with Buffalo.

MOTOR BOATS RUN TO AVALON.

WILMINGTON, July 1.—Keen interest is being taken by the members of the Los Angeles Motorboat Club in the race to be run July 4 to Avalon for the Nordlinger cup. More than half the members of the squadron will participate, and many wagers are being made on the result. Most of the boats will get away at 5 a.m. on the morning of Independence Day, and the owners will probably stay at the magic isle until the morning of July 5, to make the run in the balmy morning. The cup, to be won by the motorboat which can make the best time to the island, is said to be worth $300.

Among the boats to be entered is the Little Eagle, skippered by A. L. Baron, the keeper of the clubhouse, which has won most of the races this year. A wager of big odds has been laid that she will be in the money. Then there will be the Grey Fox, the speedy craft captained by George F. Barber, and the Junipero, J. T. Dixon, owner, which promises to be in the running. This race will be one of the events of the club's season, and already more than twenty boats have entered.

Angels Beat Oaks.

using one hand and his left hip, Metzger coming home on the out, Murphy and Phyle cut off one for Page that looked safe, retiring the side.

RIOTOUS SIXTH.

The main event was staged in the sixth. Every man in the batting order did a shift in this round. Maggert retired on a grounder to Ables. The big southpaw then shook his sleeve, and spilled out four wide ones to Abstein. Ellis collected his daily blow, a single to center. Johnson drove squarely between Cook's legs, despite the fact that Petey had his arms wrapped around his feet. This contortion scored Abstein. Metzger here came through with his habitual hit. It was a sharp single to center, Ellis and Johnson both ran home on it. Brooks popped to Murphy, and Ryan walked. Wolter whanged the ball to the left limits of the pen, Metzger scoring with Ryan scampering along right at his heels. Page concluded the field events with a grounder that Hetling hugged and handed to Gardner.

Singles by Abstein and Ellis, a stolen base by Bill and a near hit by Johnson, promoted a final run in the seventh.

Mitze doubled rightwards in the eighth for Oakland's first run, singles by Alexander and Gardner, completing the same. It might be well to explain that Alexander was batting for Ables, who by this time was sitting under the clubhouse faucet.

There were two Oakland runs and some turmoil in the ninth. Ryan issued his first pass, and Zacher singled. Then the remarkable spectacle of two pinch-hitters making good in the same inning was observed. Arbogast singled, and Guest doubled. A couple of outs had been worked in between times, and Middleton made it three without much difficulty. Thus two men were left on bases. The Oaks are good at that. They probably have had more men left on bases than any other club in the league.

Venice Wins.

TIGERS PILE UP LEAD THAT STOPS PORTLAND.

PORTLAND (Or.) July 1.—Fleharty, the big Venice heaver who beat the Beavers the last time he was here, allowing only four hits, was the choice of Manager Hogan to oppose the veteran West today and this time he allowed nine hits and then the Beavers couldn't win.

Venice made three runs in the first inning.

Buddy Ryan made a bad throw in from center and Litschi came all the way in on what should have left him on first. West helped by making a poor throw to Fisher which failed to head off Litschi.

But that was the only shady part of the whole transaction. The Beavers kept right on coming, picking up a couple of runs in the third and fourth but saving the real brilliant work until the ninth.

Then that same little Dave Bancroft did valiant duty by clouting out a home run with two men down and Walter Doane on second. Not a man stired from his seat, and fans were just greedy enough to expect the Beavers to finish up that ninth as they did the Tuesday game.

But it was not to be. While the fans still were rioting over Bancroft's masterpiece of cubist art, Derrick flied to Kane. It was not a victory but there was a lot of satisfaction in seeing the Mack men play that kind of ball.

For the Tigers the game fared worse as time went on. Hi West stayed until the fifth but even before he gave way to Evans things were no longer so easy for the Venetians. True, Evans allowed Venice two more, in the seventh and eighth, but they were not the result of a disastrous pace.

The first inning runs were made by Carlisle, Kane and Litschi. Carlisle placed on a walk, went to third on Kane's hit and was brought in by the hit part of the Litschi melee. Kane followed around and went past third when Ryan's throw to third went awry and Litschi followed him up, getting in when West made a hurried throw to Fisher.

McArdle was responsible for the two runs in the seventh and eighth. His first double was made into adamant by Carlisle's hit. In the next he brought in Litschi with one just like it.

Portland's other runs came about through batting rallies down the order. Speas, Lober and Fisher brought in the one in the fourth and a walk resulted in Fisher scoring in the third. The score:

"LOFTY" WILLIAMS BEATS THE SEALS.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—A scant allowance of three hits to San Francisco by Pitcher Williams of Sacramento, a couple of errors by Shortstop Corhan, blended with two hits off Standridge in the third inning, gave the Sacs a second victory over the Seals, score 2 to 1.

It was a pitchers' battle all the way. Except for his weakness in the third, when the Wolves made their two runs, Standridge was all but unhittable. Four safeties was Sacramento's total. Corhan was chiefly responsible for the defeat. He made three errors in the game. Score:

WILL RELEASE TERRY TO MAKE ROOM FOR GEDEON.

Necessary to Sacrifice Stanford Man to Keep Club Within the Player Limit—Infield and Outfield Look Alike to Newcomer, and He Can Also Catch—Wolter Doing Great Work With Bat.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

"ZEB" TERRY will receive his unconditional release next Saturday. This more or less important piece of news was disclosed along "newspaper" row last night by "Boots" Weber, greatest rival of L. Gene Doyle in the great and sweeping field of free advertising.

"Zeb" leaves the Angels, not because he cannot play ball, but because Joe Gedeon is coming to the club from the Washington Americans. In order to make room for Joe and still keep within the twenty-player limit, it was necessary to sacrifice one man. When the slips were drawn out of Barney Berry's new $6 hat, Terry's name was found to be attached to the lucky number.

Terry hasn't had much of a chance to show his true worth with the local club, but in the few glimpses had of him he impressed the public as being fine baseball material clear from his Adam's apple to his instep.

Considering the hotness of the race, Zeb did not feel justified in separating the club from any of its experienced talent, because that is too hard to get. Terry had a lot of experience in education, being a graduate of Stanford. He also accumulated considerable baseball learning at that place, but was hardly ripe in a professional sense. This was the first time that he had played baseball for real money.

At that, had he been given regular employment he might have filled the bill. But in view of the hectic condition of the race, Dillon did not deem it good politics to bench any of the hardened regulars long enough to ascertain "Zeb's" possibilities.

Gedeon Is Versatile.

Mr. Gedeon, according to information and belief, left Washington yesterday, and this being the case he should be on hand to strengthen the club not later than next Sabbath, if not sooner.

Gedeon was with the San Francisco club a couple of years ago, and took only about two months of his valuable time for him to play his way into the big league. Some of our people may hold it against Joe for having played with the Seals. This is only natural, and the best thing to do under the circumstances is to let by-gones be by-gones. A by-gone which won't be a by-gone is not entitled to any respect, whatever.

Gedeon was in left field for San Francisco, but that is no sign that he won't play any other position. He played the infield before signing up with that wicked city. And since going to Washington he has played both the infield and the outfield, although seldom doing so on the same day.

Can Also Catch.

He also is a catcher of ability, but he will not be needed in that department as long as "Dad" Meek can keep a mask glued onto his face.

It is believed to be Dillon's dark intention to establish Gedeon at some point in the infield, but "Pop" has not definitely decided what rearrangement of the furniture he will make to accommodate him.

Gedeon is believed to come here as part of the deal by which it is supposed Kid Ehmke will go to Washington. It seems certain that the kid will reach that city sooner or later. If Griffith does not take him, the people of Tropico will foil Griffith by electing Ehmke to Congress.

Let Nagle on Blink.

Gedeon will be unkindly remembered here and in Santa Rosa as the chap who put Walter Nagle on the blink. One warm, characteristic July afternoon—July 4, to be exact—he caused Walter's noble chest in with a line drive. Walter never amounted to a great deal after that. This incident is cited merely to prove that Joe can hit the ball with great force. Beginning with next week, infielders should do well to wear chest protectors.

Batting Near .300.

Harry Wolter is rapidly revealing his true batting nature. It was fondly and freely predicted that Wolter would be better than .300 in this league, even before he had appeared in the flesh.

He started rather conservatively, as becomes a veteran ball player. It is the callow youth who frolics in the opening June, July and August are the months in which the athlete of three years becomes gay and festive. On July 1, which was no later than yesterday, Wolter, with four hits out of five attempts, whammed his way to within one point of the .300 mark, which is regarded as his natural pace.

Last week Maggert and Ellis moved into the .300 class, forming the acquaintance of Bill Abstein. The Angels are not a little bit pallid in the region of the punch, but until this week have had trouble in getting their knocks with the bases animated.

Successful Pinch Hitters.

Christian used three pinch hitters yesterday—Alexander in the eighth and Arbogast and Guest in the ninth—all of them delivering. The Los Angeles club, however, still holds the season's record. In the second game of the year, and it was against this same Oakland club, Dillon used four pinch hitters with success. Ellis, Meek, Calvo and "Pop" himself all came through on that occasion.

Baseball by Injunction.

Baseball is getting to be a grand old game. Pretty soon it will be almost as exciting as a set of Blackstone.

Soon we may expect to see every game fought out in the courts. If the umpire makes a decision which the manager doesn't like, the latter will appeal to the Superior Court.

B1072—The People vs. Hayes and Guthrie. Defendants charged with robbing the home team.

C99244—Walter Boles vs. Johnny Kane. Spiking. Plaintiff asks $100,000 for loss of knuckle.

Z2211—Frank Dillon vs. Ed Bush. Slander. Defendant remarked in hearing of witnesses that plaintiff should have changed pitchers, but didn't.

Q3114—Walter Carlisle vs. Official Scorer. Action to recover base hit.

K3232—"Dad" Meek vs. Official Scorer. Claims reputation damaged. Plaintiff says that he got only both hands and two feet on the ball, and yet scorer charged him with an error.

X3329—Rowdy Elliott vs. Bill Rodgers. Plaintiff seeks to have defendant enjoined from stealing second base, the home plate and other personal property.

L.A.A.C. TEAM GOES TO SAN FRANCISCO.

LUDY LANGER AND CLIFFORD BOWES ARE EXPECTED TO STAR.

The swimming team of the Los Angeles Athletic Club left yesterday for San Francisco to compete in the big open meet in that city on the Fourth of July. Ludy Langer, Cliff Bowes, G. Sylvester and Sol Tuttle are the men selected to take points for the local club. They will have some of the greatest swimmers in the world to beat. The crack Hawaiian and Illinois Athletic Club men are decided favorites in a majority of the events.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club and Illinois Athletic Club men will come to this city immediately after the meet in San Francisco for the big swimming affairs in Southern California. On Monday evening, July 6, the club team and the fast easterners have a dual meet in the Los Angeles Athletic Club tank, while the following evening both teams will be entered in the open meet at the Redondo Beach bath-house. These will be the finest swimming events of the year in Southern California.

The Illinois Athletic Club men have several world's champions and numerous record-holders on their team and they figure to walk away with a big portion of the events. Ludy Langer in the middle distances and Bowes in the diving stunts are the men most feared by the invaders.

MURRAY ENDS HIS TRAINING.

CHIP WILL CONTINUE TILL EVE OF FRISCO FIGHT.

Both Independence Day Battlers Make Ringside Weight and Appear in Superb Condition—"Might Get Fretty," Is Reason George Keeps on Working.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—That Fighting Billy Murray and George Chip are built of different clay is, perhaps, best evidenced by the windup of their training stunts, by which they are preparing themselves for the Fourth of July conflict at Coffroth's Daly City arena.

Murray, after a workout today that consisted of six rounds of boxing, announced that he was through with the heavy work of the gymnasium and for the next three days will content himself with light exercising.

Chip, more the fighter than the boxer, declares that he will go right on with his training up to and including Friday afternoon, not tapering off until the very eve of the bout.

Manager Dime explained that, so far as the weight is concerned Chip could knock off today, but he asserts that his boy is of the aggressive type and might fret without plenty to occupy his attention.

Weights were announced today from the opposing camps, and it is evident there will be no worry on either hand. Chip made 159 pounds after he was through with his performance. Inasmuch as he is to do 158 pounds five hours before the contest he stands within striking distance. Murray's poundage was announced as being 157 pounds.

W-o-l-l, He Might Win.

VAN COURT LOOKS OVER BOY WHO FIGHTS RIVERS.

Matty McCue Has a Style Somewhat Similar to That of Ad Wolgast, but Is Not So Clever—Seems Never to Counter—Likely to Give the Mexican a Very Hard Fight.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

MATTY M'CUE, who is to meet Joe Rivers on the coming Fourth of July instead of Ad Wolgast, worked out yesterday afternoon in great style.

The short notice Matty has had for the coming bout would be altogether too short for most fighters, but as he is a fellow who takes the very best care of himself at all times, and has been doing some training every day since he arrived here, he will be, by Saturday, in every bit as good condition physically as Rivers.

McCue has been so interested in the training of the other boxers at Jack Doyle's and likes the camp so well that he has not as yet even been uptown to take in the city.

Tom Jones allowed him to extend himself somewhat yesterday, but said he would not allow him to work as hard again. Jones is well satisfied with his condition and rightly believes he should take no chances as Wolgast did.

Matty went three fast and hard rounds with Freddy Andrews and four with Young Erne. While he is not a particularly showy boxer, he appears a dangerous one at all times. His style is similar to that of Wolgast, but he lacks the cleverness of the little Dutchman.

He hits hard with either hand, but did no countering at all. It remains to be seen if this was intentional or the lack of knowledge of that part of the game.

He landed several good straight lefts on both of his partners and several rights. His work seems to be best when he is at close quarters.

His style will puzzle most any good boxer for a while, and he has a chance of doing a lot of damage before he is lined up.

He is rough in the clinches and uses vicious swings both at the body and head.

When he finished his work his wind was good and he did not appear to be the least distressed at any time.

There is one thing sure, and that is, he will make Joe Rivers extend himself to the limit while it lasts, and has every confidence in his chances to win. This will be his first twenty-round contest, but as Tom Jones said: "If he can go ten and finish strong as he has done before, he can go twenty." Jones also says he has never even been knocked off his feet, let alone being knocked out.

McCue has met several good lightweights in the East and has never been beaten.

They are to box at catch weights, and this will give Rivers a decided advantage on that score, as Matty will not weigh over 130 pounds when he enters the ring Saturday.

Some of the fans believe the weight will be more in his favor than Rivers, as Rivers never cares to work any more than he is compelled to, and may lay off from now on and lose some of his present good condition. If Joe loafs any from now on he stands a good chance of getting trimmed if the contest goes over ten rounds.

JOE JEANETTE VS. BATTLING JOHNSON.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Joe Jeannette of Hoboken, N. J., outpointed Battling Jim Johnson, colored heavyweight of Philadelphia, in a ten-round bout here tonight. Jeanette weighed 197½ pounds; Johnson, 230.

Honolulu wants to secure Pacific Coast baseball players for a visit next November. It is probable that some of the major league stars will also make the trip.

MANAGER OF CROSS ASSAILS RIVERS.

OF COURSE IT WAS VERBAL BUT IT CHARGES YELLOW STREAK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, July 1.—Sam Wallach, brother and manager of Leach Cross, is today busy trying to square himself with Promoter Tom McCarey in regard to a story printed saying that McCarey wanted Leach Cross to give up the Red Watson match here and instead meet Joe Rivers at Vernon, Saturday.

Wallach states that had it been possible nothing would please Leach more than to meet Rivers. He says Rivers has twice run out of matches with Cross and without any good excuse.

Wallach asserts that only under such conditions as prevailed when Wolgast injured his hand and it looked as though there was no other good opponent available for Rivers, would the Mexican agree to meet Cross again.

Watson boxed four rounds today, two each with Solly Burns and Frank Fields. Watson weighed 150 when he quit work. Cross boxed nine rounds, three each with Danny Cullen, Kid Dalton and Patsy Reilly. Cross will leave here immediately after the Watson go for Los Angeles, where he will open camp to train for his fight with Jimmy Duffy, after a short rest. Leach is confident he will put Duffy away.

Promoter Gritton has signed Roy Moore and Eddie McAuliffe for his ten-round show July 17, regardless of the outcome of the Thompson-McAuliffe go, July 10. A week later George Thompson, local bantam, will meet Earl Puryear. Battling Chico will be offered a match with the winner of one of these contests the following week.

OLD RELIANCE ON SCRAP HEAP.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The famous old cup defender, Reliance, the largest, and probably on the whole, the fastest, of all the long line of white-winged flyers that in their time have sailed for the America's cup, left her native element yesterday afternoon for the last time in Furman's shipyard, Brooklyn, and by the same time this afternoon little will be left of her gracefulness but piles of scrap metal.

There was no ceremony, nor were there any mourners, when the old yacht was hauled reluctantly up the creaking ways, down which she'll never slide again. Michael Cowhey, a Brooklyn junkman, who bought the yacht from Adrian C. Iselin last December, simply had her towed around from Robbins drydock to Erie Basin, where she has been lying, and inside an hour the Reliance was high and dry, awaiting the onslaught of the wreckers who will dismantle her.

GREATEST FIELD MEET ON RECORD.

NEW YORK, July 1. — Twenty thousand boys, perhaps many more, will compete in the Fourth of July games which will be held on forty playgrounds in the greater city. Since many of the boys have entered in two events, the total number of entries undoubtedly will pass the 35,000 mark.

This not only breaks all records for the July 4 games, but is said to be the largest number in the history of athletics throughout the world. One of the causes for such keen interest is the fact that at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco next year there will be a set of games for representatives of the playgrounds, and the lads will try to win places on the team which will represent this city.

CARPENTIER TO FIGHT GUNBOAT; THEN JOHNSON.

Great French Boxer Discusses the Business of Prize-fighting—Says Langford or Jeanette Will Succeed Johnson—Then Smith or Himself Will Take the Crown—How and Why Americans Win.

BY GEORGE S. CARPENTIER.

[Copyright.]

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, July 1.—"I hope to beat Gunboat Smith. I believe I'll do it, and my intention is to challenge Jack Johnson afterward for the envied title of champion of the world. Has it ever struck you how odd it is to know you are going to fight a man you have never seen? I have never seen Gunboat Smith. I have only seen pictures of him, but have heard a good deal of talk about him. I believe him to be a very strong fighter, and am told he hits very hard.

"Yet I doubt if he can touch me, because he is much slower than I, although he has an advantage in weight, but I am counting on my science to make up for that deficiency.

"Science counts for a great deal in a boxer. So does instinct—that kind of instinct born in a good fighting man tells him what are the intentions of his opponent without any visible evidence. Johnson has this instinct very strongly developed, and I was forcibly struck by this fact while acting as referee during the contest with Moran.

"American boxers, like American people, are very practical. They are not scientific as a rule in outfighting, but recover themselves at infighting. Bombardier Wells, unlike the Americans, is very scientific at a short distance, but he cannot work at infighting. I am always at my ease before men like him, and I view my coming conflict with Gunboat Smith with absolute confidence and optimism. Glorious, unbounded optimism is the great asset of the fighting man. All the science and instinct in the world avail nothing if a fighter cannot convince himself that he is going to beat the other fellow.

"I find nothing to criticise in Johnson's style. His chief attack is always with uppercuts.

"I am sure that in two years or one year, perhaps even less, his conqueror, white or black, will come. I can see ahead very clearly the line of succession to Johnson, the negroes Langford and Joe Jeanette, followed by Gunboat Smith or myself. Who lives shall see."

Up and Down Broadway.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

OLIVER MOROSCO got home yesterday and locked himself up, but quite forgot the telephone. Even at that, when I got him dangling at the other end of the wire, hooked beyond possibility of escape, he said:

"Really I can't give you any real news right now, because I am too busy with lawsuits." However, he did confirm the news that Florence Martin, one of the "Pegs," has been engaged to play the title role in Dick Barry's play "Brenda of the Woods" and that that play will follow "Bought and Paid For" at the Burbank, and not "The Remittance Man."

Which reminds me that Miss Martin herself arrived yesterday and will begin rehearsals today, the Peg company she was with having closed its season in Denver.

Carl Walker of Pantages, plans to entertain the movie folks Friday evening in honor of Martha Russell, who is on the bill this week and who used to be the Essanay girl. All the boxes have been reserved, and they do say there is to be a big time afterwards. Having been to some of Carl's parties, I can well believe it.

And who do you think is on his way down here from wild and woolly Canada? Tom Baker who used to be house manager of the Lyceum when Pop Fischer had his big girl shows there.

Dick Bennett played yesterday to another of those wonderful and exclusively feminine matinees. Bigger than last week, in fact, for when everything else was cleaned out, Manager Wyatt put the orchestra out in the lobby and squeezed in fifty more seats.

Dick made another speech, too, and forgot to roast anybody. He might have but a young lady kept interrupting until he finally said "madam, if you will let me finish what I have to say, then I will answer your questions."

When he was finished he gave her the chance but she replied meekly, "You have answered everything I was going to ask you except do you really believe all you said?"

Valeska Suratt told me yesterday that next week she is going to wear all new gowns, and that they will be more startling than those she wears this week.

Also she confided that all her costumes are from Poiret, and the Orpheum stage hands call them Poiro-technic, which sounds something like fireworks. Well, they really are hot stuff.

Clarence Drown, by the way, has relinquished the management of the Orpheum to Bill Ham Cline and hied northward to Lake Louise for a month or so's vacation.

Of course you know pretty Ada Chase, who has been doing stage and cabaret work hereabouts for quite sometime. She has been rushed to the hospital with appendicitis and is in a critical condition.

CHESS BY TELEGRAPH.

A telegraphic chess tournament will begin Saturday morning at 9 o'clock between teams of the Los Angeles Chess and Checker Club and the crack chess team of San Francisco. Play will continue until 5 o'clock. Following are the players who will play for the Los Angeles club: E. R. Perry, M. A. Woodward, C. H. Whipple, S. W. Peterson, C. W. Waterman, W. Struve, L. Lommede, P. E. Greer, W. Lewis and J. Anderson.

RITCHIE TRAINING HARD IN LONDON.

LONDON, July 1.—Telegraphing tonight to the London Bureau of an American newspaper from his training quarters at Brighton Willie Ritchie says:

"I am fast rounding into condition for my contest with Freddie Welsh. I have already put in six hard days on the road and gymnasium work and today I eased up, so as not to get too fine. I have as sparring partners Willie Farrell and Dick Roberts, two of the best lightweights in England.

"Today Manager Emil Thiry added another good boy to the camp, Kid Black, the featherweight, who has just arrived from America. I will box all three boys every day until two days before the contest. I am also doing about seven miles of road work every morning."

BROOKS BEATS FROITZHEIM.

WIMBLEDON (Eng.) July 1. Norman E. Brooks of Australia beat Otto Froitsheim, the German champion, in the final of the all-comers' men's singles lawn-tennis championship here today. The score was 6-2, 6-1, 5-7, 4-6, 8-6. Brooks will now have to play A. F. Wilding, holder of the title.

AYER AND DIBBLE EASILY DEAD IN DIAMOND SCULLS.

Gardiner and Withington of Union Boat Club Go Down in Defeat. Serious Events Today When Four Heats of Challenge Event Will Be Rowed.

HENLEY ON THE THAMES (Eng.) July 1.—James B. Ayer of Boston, and Robert Dibble, the American amateur champion, the latter under the colors of the Don Rowing Club of Toronto, won today their preliminary heats for the diamond sculls in the royal regatta. Both won with comparative ease.

William Tudor Gardiner and Paul Withington of the Union Boat Club of Boston were eliminated.

In the next series Ayer will meet the Italian oarsman, Sinigaglia, who defeated today E. D. P. Pinks, one of England's best oarsmen. Dibble will measure skill against J. L. Tann of the Thames Rowing Club, who today defeated Withington.

The regatta tomorrow will enter upon a more serious stage, when four heats of the Grand Challenge cup will be rowed.

ENTRY LIST FOR VISALIA RACE.

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY EVENT ON FOURTH PROMISES TO BE BIG ONE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VISALIA, June 30.—The entry list for the 150-mile free-for-all sanctioned automobile race, to be the big feature of Visalia's Fourth of July celebration this year, closed today. This race will be the only road race sanctioned by the A.A.A. in the San Joaquin Valley on the Fourth, and is attracting much attention from various parts of the State. The list shows fourteen fast cars that will compete for the prizes, which are $1000, $500, $250 and $100. Following is the list:

No.	Car—	Driver.
1.	Packard	Campbell
2.	Overland	McKelvey
3.	Ford	Pilletin
4.	National	Sprague
5.	Ford	Elliott
6.	National	Devore
7.	Buick	Lawton
8.	National	Briscoe
9.	Buick	Roemer
10.	Mercer	Piper
11.	Buick	Lowrey
12.	Overland	Watkins
13.	Pope-Hartford	Tessman
14.	Buick	Sulprizio

This will be the fourth big road race held in Visalia over a course that compares favorably with any in the State. For the past month work has been done on the course, which is now in excellent condition, and local records are expected to fall.

Most of the drivers entered have competed in valley events before. Sprague, driver of Phil Baier's National, declared to be the fastest car of that make in the State, rules a slight favorite, with Campbell, who has won a number of valley races in his big Packard, a close second. The rivalry between the Waterman and Cobb-Evans entries from Fresno will add much to the interest of the race.

The entry of the Mercer, to be driven by Piper, from Los Angeles, was a sort of a dark-horse affair. Rumors have reached here that this car is likely to upset calculations. It will have to keep, moving to get in the money, however.

The Royal Canadian Yacht Club of Toronto a few days ago launched an $8000 yacht racing union cup defender at Oakville, Can. It was designed by George Owens of Boston, who planned the Defiance, one of the yachts trying to win the honor of defending the America's cup. The Canadians won the trophy with the yacht Patrica on Lake Michigan last summer. The races with the Chicago challenger on the Toronto Lake course will begin August 26.

Going Some.

RECORD SCORE MADE FOR CRAFT HIGGINS TROPHY.

Los Angeles Country Club Team Makes Fifteen Above Par—Last Year Exmoor Won With Only Eight. Mrs. Guy Cochrane Makes Splendid Individual Score. Chicago Out of the Ruuning.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Mrs. Guy Cochrane,

Who made the best score made by any Los Angeles woman in the Craft-Higgins match.

THE Los Angeles Country Club team surpassed the best score with which the Craft Higgins trophy has ever been won before. They finished 15 up on par.

Mrs. Guy Cochrane had the best individual score of 3 up—the same that Mrs. Latimer of the Homeward gained her gold medal for last year. Mrs. Cochrane also had the best individual score among the local players last year with 3 up.

The Exmoor Country Club were the winners in 1913 with 8 up on par.

Katherine Mellus of the Los Angeles team also made a brilliant score with 7 up, and Mrs. Frank Griffith finished 1 up. Mrs. Fred Griffith was only 1 down—altogether a brilliant showing which even the 103 par cannot depreciate.

Men's part at the Los Angeles Country Club is 76., At the San Gabriel Country Club 74. Yet the latter club only gets 95 for its women, owing to the special exigencies of computation.

Wherefore San Gabriel's score of 7 down is by no means poor. Mrs. Perley's team showed well—Marion Clark, 2 up; Mrs. Perley, 1 down; Mrs. Scales, 4 down, and Mrs. Marmion, 4 down.

Every one of our local players has improved upon last year's score—Mrs. Cochrane was 3 up; Miss Mellus, 2 up; Mrs. Frank Griffith, 2 down; Miss Clark, 1 up; Mrs. Perley, 3 down; Mrs. Scales, 10 down, and Mrs. Marmion, 5 down in 1913.

This Craft Higgins event is played for by teams of four women golfers on the links of their own clubs on July 1, each year. The trophy was donated by Craft Higgins of Chicago to stimulate interclub competition, founding a similar event to the Tom Morris competition for men. The Los Angeles team has won it twice before, but not on consecutive occasions.

The Western Golf Association appears to think highly of feminine honor and executive ability, for they just trust them to play properly eligible members on the team and take their word for their scores, which the captain of each team telegraphs to Chicago.

They don't do that with the men. Dear me, no. The men's teams almost have to take individual affidavits of their respectability, veracity, honorable intentions, purity of thought, innocence of guile and all that sort of thing, and then send in signed score cards with duly authenticated witnesses and so forth.

EASTERN SCORES STILL LACKING.

On the face of things, lacking full reports from the East, it looks as though Los Angeles had once more captured the coveted trophy.

The only eastern scores available at press time were those from Chicago, home of the donor of the trophy. These are far below the Los Angeles marks, being as follows:

C. C. Homewood, 4 up; Wheaton, 10 down; Hinsdale, 10 down; Exmoor, 11 down; Skokie, 17 down; Beverly, 17 down; Edgebrook, 17 down.

THREE PUT OUT IN CUSHION JOUST.

BAYNE BEATS MORSE AND MORSE DOWNS MORLEY, LEAVING FOUR ASPIRANTS.

E. B. Morse and James Morley yesterday joined Kirkland on the shelf provided for contenders who cannot now dispute the city three-cushion billiard championship, as exemplified in the current professional tournament at the Park Parlors.

Jack Bayne took Morse's measure in the afternoon, being handsomely assisted in his good play by the goddess of luck, who for the first time in the tourney turned her face in his direction. Her smiles provided him with eight tallies which might have been misses except for the kisses, while his opponent presented him four more through penalties.

Altogether Jack compiled fifty points to Morse's twenty-nine, with high run of five, in sixty-eight innings. Averages stood at .735 to .426.

Evening found Morse again in action, with James Morley as opponent, the former scoring fifty to forty-four in the longest game of the contest. Morley made high run of five twice, the averages being .495 for Morse to .440 for Morley, who shot 100 innings to Morse's 101.

This game was tied eight times, in a fairly close competition, though it was nearly as slow as the Democratic administration. Tallies stood at six points each, from the thirteenth to the twenty-third inning. The last tie occurred in the sixtieth round, with twenty-seven points made by each player.

Four men remain eligible for the championship trophy which stands in silvered beauty within Scott's show window on South Spring street, but either Banks or Gillette must go out as loser in their game tonight, and Bayne may lose to Morley this afternoon. Seymour cannot be headed by any save Gillette, and that can only occur by his losing to Morley and Gillette himself.

Scores give the following standing:

Seymour, won 4, lost 0; Gillette, won 3, lost 1; Banks, won 2, lost 2; Bayne, won 2, lost 2; Kirkland, won 1, lost 3; Morley, won 1, lost 3; Morse, won 1, lost 3.

OLD-TIME ATHLETE IN HEROIC ROLE.

AD MUNN, HOLDER OF WORLD'S RECORD, RESCUES CHILD FROM FLAMES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Followers of interscholastic and intercollegiate sport were surprised today to find in the headline the name of one of their heroes of ten years ago as a hero of another stripe.

"Al" Munn, all around athlete, star football player, track man and pole-vaulter, appeared as "Policeman Albert S. Munn of the San Francisco force, hero of a lodging-house fire, in which he saved a small boy from death."

Ten years ago "Al" Munn was the center of a historic controversy, which ended in the disruption of the then Amateur Athletic League, the governing body in High School athletics of Central California.

Eagerness to obtain his services, followed by charges of professionalism, was at the bottom of the scandal.

While a school boy in Modesto Munn won the interscholastic championship of the world in the pole vault. Oakland High won him away and later there was rivalry between Stanford and the University of California for his registration. Ultimately he matriculated with California, but did not graduate.

GIBBONS'S TERMS IN COFFORTH'S HANDS.

ST. PAUL (Minn.) July 1.—Eddy Reddy, manager of Mike Gibbons, today received an offer from James Coffroth, San Francisco promoter, to match Gibbons against the winner of the Chip-Murray bout, to be staged at the Golden Gate city next Saturday. Reddy is offered his choice of three dates—the latter part of July, the middle of August or Labor Day.

Coffroth asked Reddy to name his best terms for a twenty-round bout, and Reddy wired them. He asked for a good stiff sum, figuring that such a bout would draw from $15,000 to $18,000.

ST. JOE CLUB TO STAGE AMATEURS.

A boxing show, in which most of the best amateur boxers in Southern California will participate, will be staged Thursday evening, July 9, in the clubrooms of the St. Joseph Young Men's Club.

Frank Crowley, lightweight; Jordan, heavyweight, and Bob Mockenhaupt, welterweight, are among the boxers who will be seen in action.

George Blake will referee the eight bouts, which will be staged under the amateur rules.

HARVARD CAPTAIN ARRESTED.

Stremmel and Two Officers Accused by Passengers of Beating Stevedore From San Diego.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—On the complaint of a dozen indignant passengers, warrants were issued today by Judge Van Fleet of the United States District Court, for the arrest of the captain, first mate and chief steward of the Pacific Navigation Company's steamer Harvard, which arrived here today from San Diego and Los Angeles.

The three officers are charged with having brutally beaten Louis Lull a stevedore, after they had shanghaied him at San Diego. Lull, the passengers told Judge Van Fleet, got into a fight with Robert Hill, the first officer which ultimately landed him on the pier, victorious, but without a large share of his clothes. When he went aboard again to get his clothes he was locked up until after the ship had sailed. Then Capt. Harry Stremmel called him to his cabin, and there, with the assistance of Ernest Gruby, the chief steward, the complaints swear he was beaten and kicked until he was helpless. Several of his teeth were knocked out and the passengers described his condition as pitiable.

Capt. Stremmel was taken before United States Commissioner Krull after his arrest and was told to answer to the charges. He was released on $500 bail and permitted to return with the Harvard, which left at 4 p.m. for Los Angeles Harbor.

RACER KILLS SPECTATOR.

Steering Knuckle Breaks on Car Driven by Brock During Practice Spin on Tacoma Speedway.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TACOMA (Wash.) July 1.—The first fatal accident on the Tacoma Speedway in the three years of its existence occurred this afternoon, when a spectator who attempted to cross the track was hit by a car driven by S. F. Brock and instantly killed.

The man killed was R. C. C. Pellock, a carpenter. Brock, who was engaged in practice tests for the races Friday, was going at the rate of seventy-five miles an hour. An instant before he struck Pollock the steering knuckle of his car broke and it was impossible for him to guide his machine. Brock's car turned over, making a complete revolution as it rolled down the track, but he and his mechanician, William Green, were not injured.

RABBIS DIFFER OVER HANDBOOK

Compendium for Ministe Provokes a Controversy.

Prayers Namby-pamby, Sa a Cincinnati Speaker.

Restriction of Immigratio Found Poor Policy.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DETROIT, July 1.—Delegates to the Central Conference of Americ Rabbis engaged Tuesday afternoon the warmest controversy that h ever disturbed its sessions, while di cussing a proposed minister's hand book.

"The prayers are namby-pamby," declared Rabbi Kaufman Kohler Cincinnati.

"Such slangy expressions as 'L the child grow to be credit to itself and 'Team work,' have no part i such a volume," remarked Rabbi Harry H. Mayer of Kansas City.

"It's a retreat from a liberal and progressive policy to that of conservatism," said Rabbi David Philipson of Cincinnati.

"It is a blundering mass of material that would convert our liberal church and make it conservative to our beliefs."

"You haven't read the report and you are misrepresenting the fact," answered Rabbi William Rosenau of Baltimore, chairman of the committee that submitted the report, in reply to the attacks.

Rabbi Mayer, in criticism of Rabbi Rosenau, declared that the volume was only "seashore orthodoxy," and various prayers and services needed could be found in the union prayer and hymn books.

The discussion, which lasted several hours, ended in a motion by Rabbi Joseph Stulls that the report be sent to a special committee of five which would revise it and submit it to the executive officers for consideration at the next conference. This was adopted and a vote of thanks given to Rabbi Rosenau and his committee.

Wednesday was a busy day for the rabbis. At the morning session there were reports from all the officers. Rabbi Leo M. Franklin of Detroit, treasurer, reported the present resources as $38,138.50, an increase for the year of $4117.14.

At the afternoon discussion there was a scholarly paper on the "Significance of the Agada," a part of the Talmud, read by Rabbi Hyman G. Enslow of New York, with a discussion led by Rabbi Kohler of Cincinnati. Rabbi Israel Bettan of Charlestown, W. Va., gave a criticism of a new volume, written by Yuhuda, a Jewish author now living in Palestine; Rabbi J. Leonard Levi of Pittsburgh declared the leading Jews of America are opposed to any restriction of immigration now proposed by various national legislators.

"Instead of there being a surplus of labor in this country, there is room for 400,000,000 more people," he declared. "This year millions of dollars' worth of crops will not be harvested in the West because the farmers cannot obtain labor. The United States needs the immigrant. We do not want those who are mentally or physically unfit, but the man who is strong and able to earn his own living should always be admitted. There should not be an educational test, for the anarchist can read while many good men cannot. Detroit and the Pittsburgh district would be set back if immigration was restricted."

The business sessions Thursday morning and afternoon will be devoted to discussion of extension of religious education among the Jews.

LEASED WIRES INVESTIGATED.

CHICAGO GRAIN DEALERS COMPLAIN SYSTEM ALLOWS UNFAIR RATES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 1.—Complaints made by members of the Grain Dealers' Association of Chicago regarding the private leased wire system of the telephone and telegraph companies were investigated today at a hearing by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The order directing the investigation alleged the companies, by leasing wires, gives rates less than the published tariff, and that these wires are used by others besides those who lease for private commercial business.

Assistant Engineer Mason of the Western Union said the company was unable to grant a third of the applications for leased wires. Two applicants for a wire from New York to the Pacific Coast had been disappointed, he said. There had been no substantial decrease in the company's leased wire business during the past two years and a half, he added, and no change of policy regarding it during that period.

C. C. Adams, vice-president of the Postal Telegraph Company, said his company would not lease a wire to a firm in one city to be connected with a different class of business in another city. Codes, he explained, are used over leased wires to keep the clerks and operators from having access to the information.

The leased wire business of the Postal is on the decline, Adams declared, the drift being toward telephone arrangements.

Investigation of Hempstead Matron's Murder in Doctor's Office Reveals Peculiar Condition—Physician Questioned About Mysterious Hand Which Fired Fatal Shot.

FREEPORT (N. Y.) July 1.—No arrests had been made late tonight in connection with the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, a Hempstead matron who was shot last night while in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman, a physician.

Sheriff Pettit said today he had discovered in the Carman home a telephonic device, the wires of which led from the doctor's office to a closet in the bedroom of his wife. According to the Sheriff, Mrs. Carman admitted to him she had the instrument installed because she "wanted to hear what went on" between her husband and women patients and that she had been "much comforted" by what she had overheard.

The Sheriff said also that Dr. Carman, when questioned about the telephonic device, told him his wife admitted to him that she had the machine put in. He said she removed the receiving end in her closet early this morning and hid it in the attic.

The Sheriff said that Mrs. Carman at his request had gone to the attic and brought the instrument to him. A revolver of small caliber also was found in the physician's home today. In her talk with the Sheriff Mrs. Carman denied ever having seen Mrs. Bailey.

Dr. Carman also was the subject of close questioning concerning occurrences in and about the house before the mysterious hand with a revolver in it was poked through the broken window pane and a shot fired which killed Mrs. Bailey. What he told the authorities seems to have satisfied them that he had no knowledge of the person who committed the crime.

One story in circulation today among the townspeople was to the effect that persons passing the physician's residence at the time of the murder saw a woman dressed in white run across the lawn immediately after the shot was fired.

WATER POWER REGULATION.

Conflict Between Adamson and Ferris Dam Bills Is Straightened Out at White House Conference.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 1.—What threatened to be serious differences between conservationists over the form of legislation now pending in Congress to regulate water power projects on navigable streams were practically straightened out tonight at a White House conference. The Adamson and Ferris dam bills, which contained conflicting provisions, were thoroughly threshed over and made to conform to each other. As a result the administration leaders interested predicted that both bills would be passed quickly.

The conference, which ended near midnight, was attended by President Wilson, Secretary of War Garrison, Secretary of the Interior Lane and Representatives Adamson, Ferris, Lenroot and Stevens.

Under the agreement it is said the new legislation will permit the War Department to retain jurisdiction over all obstructions in navigable waters, and the Interior Department to be free to control the construction of dams.

A clause probably will be included in the Adamson bill to provide that nothing contained therein shall interfere with the jurisdiction of the Interior Department over the public lands and waters, while the Ferris bill will be amended to provide that the question of whether the construction of any of the artificial works and dams constitute an interference with the navigability of the streams shall be referred to the War Department for decision.

TO SUPPRESS OPIUM.

Slow Progress Being Made by International Conference at Hague Toward an Agreement.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

THE HAGUE (Netherlands) July 1.—The International Opium Conference here is making slow progress toward an agreement. The delegates are finding much difficulty in drafting a form of resolution which will command the unanimous support of all the powers. Turkey entirely refuses to commit herself to any rules for the suppression of the traffic. Other powers refuse to proceed without Turkey.

The United States and China are the two nations taking the most active part in the negotiations. The Chinese delegates give every evidence that their government is very much in earnest in its policy of suppressing opium.

FLYING BOAT AS WAR ENGINE.

Aeroplane Status Unchanged, Says Signal Corps Man.

America Shows Speed of Sixty Miles an Hour.

Alights and Rises from Lake Without Any Difficulty.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Maj. Edgar Russell of the Army Signal Corps, returned from Hammondsport, N. Y., where he inspected the giant flying ship which is to attempt the trans-Atlantic flight. He expressed the opinion that while the flight, if successful, would be of momentous interest in aerial achievement, its consummation would be unlikely to have immediate effect on the status of the aeroplane as a war instrument.

RISES FROM LAKE LIKE A DUCK.

HAMMONDSPORT (N. Y.) July 1.—Speed trials and a bench test of the new propellers marked the day's work on the Rodman Wanamaker trans-Atlantic flying boat.

At noon Lieut. Porte, who is to pilot the boat, took the America out for the longest trip she has made in the air since the trials began, a week ago. He flew off down the lake several miles alighting on and rising from the water several times. Apparently he had no difficulty in bringing the machine to planing speed on the water. On a trial against time over a marked course the machine showed a speed of sixty miles. During this test the motors were running at 1200 revolutions per minute instead of their maximum of 1300.

A weight-carrying test with the new propellers was planned for this afternoon, but rain again interfered with the programme. A bench test of one of the propellers showed static thrust equal to that of the standard propellers installed for the preliminary tests, but it is claimed for the new propellers that they will do relatively better under actual flying conditions than on the test block.

Lieut. Porte leaves tonight for New York, but expects to return here before sailing for Newfoundland to make certain that the permanent changes to be made to the pull have the desired effect. He said tonight he hardly expected to be able to make the Friday boat for St. Johns.

AMERICA III MAKES HER FIRST FLIGHT.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The balloon America III, which with officers of the Aero Club of America as passengers, made a trial flight from Philadelphia, landed in Northern New Jersey early tonight. Leaving Philadelphia in a rainstorm at 2:40 p.m., after the christening of the balloon, the party came down safely at 6:10 on the edge of Lakawanna Lake near Hopatcong.

STOCKTON, July 1.—The Superior Court of Amador county has rendered a decision in the famous $700,000 damage suit filed by the Kennedy Extension Gold Mining Company against the Argonaut Mining Company, in favor of the defendants. This has extended over four years. The complaint was filed December 1, 1909, but the case did not come to trial until September, 1913. The plaintiff sought to recover $700,000 for ore alleged to have been extracted by the defendant. The territory in dispute is worth probably $1,000,000 more.

The Argonaut admitted extracting a large quantity of valuable ore in the designated territory, but justified its right to extract the same by claiming the apex of the ore body. The Kennedy Extension company claimed that the apex of this ore body is not in the Argonaut ground, but in one of its own mining claims east of the Argonaut.

SENATE GOLD MINE INQUIRY.

Investigation of Use of Official Stationery by Promoters Will Be Begun Today in Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Investigation of the use of Senate stationery in the promotion of a North Carolina gold mine will begin tomorrow before a Senate Committee.

Senators Overman and Chilton, whose committee stationery is said to have been used by the mine promoters, and Senators Pomerene and Swanson, stockholders in the mining company, probably will be the first witnesses.

The examination will extend into the sending of a government expert by Comptroller of the Treasury John Skelton Williams to look into the mine.

ASQUITH READY TO EXCLUDE ULSTER.

LONDON, July 1.—There was an unconfirmed rumor today that 50,000 rifles had been landed on the coast of County Mayo for the Nationalist volunteers.

The precise effect of the House of Lords' proposed amendments to the government's amending bill will not be known until the home rule bill reaches the committee stage next week, but favorable omens are drawn by the London morning newspapers from the conciliatory tone of the speeches on both sides of the House of Lords yesterday for a renewal of the negotiations between the party leaders, which it is expected will result in an agreement.

The Daily Mail asserts that Premier Asquith's attitude has undergone a modification and that he is now ready to grant exclusion to Ulster by statute instead of by the ballot.

HYGIENE FAD "PIOUS PIFFLE."

SOCIAL CAMPAIGN CALLED HOT AIR BY OFFICER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 1.—"Hot air and pious nonsense," were the terms applied to the educational campaign of the Social Hygiene Societies to stop young men from immorality by Christopher Ruess, probation officer of Alameda county, before the Pacific Coast Federation for Social Hygiene today.

Ruess told the hygienists that it is idle to talk to boys of moral restraint and consequences so long as the general opinion of men of the world is on the other side and so long as they have before them the open example. Medical and scientific talk, he said, is utterly unconvincing to young men under these circumstances.

Ruess declared that the temptation of vice must be removed, that physicians must unite to teach moral self-control, and that parents must be instructed, in public classes if need be. He proposed that the schools should take over the work of the juvenile courts and the probation officer and employ experts to study and deal with the problems of the neighborhood as well as give instruction in moral conduct to children.

The Alameda official found a cause for the deafness of present-day young people to moral teaching in what he declared is a breaking down of the sense of responsibility and duty. "The schools," he said, "have been letting the children do the easy and pleasant thing with the result that the principles of the whole nation have been weakened. Until the sense of duty is restored it is idle to talk to young people of moral restraint."

ACTION OF CONVENTION.

Indorsement of the principle of red light abatement laws with a stand against the introduction of social hygiene into the schools as a distinct subject but coupled with an affirmation that when the facts of sex are taught they should be imparted as an organic part of the biological sciences, were the principal decisions reached at the close of the three days' session.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously tonight. The federation declared the social evil to be one of the greatest present menaces. A conservative attitude in regard to the teaching of sex hygiene in the schools was expressed by all the delegates. Resolutions were adopted recommending that the State appropriate funds for the education of the public on the dangers of venereal diseases; urging the formation of more social hygiene societies, and the inclusion in the programmes of campaigns for the suppression of immorality, asking the Postoffice Department to assist in the suppression of quack specialists; and urging the American Social Hygiene Association to hold a national conference in San Francisco during the exposition.

PAINT STORE BURNS.

Business House of the W. P. Fuller Company at Stockton Is Partially Destroyed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STOCKTON, July 1.—Fire partially destroyed the big business house of the W. P. Fuller Company, dealers in paints and oils, on Market street this evening. The fire was confined to the second and third stories, in which large stocks were held, but the first floor and basement, in which oil was stored, were saved. Adjoining structures, the Henery apartments and Physicians' building, were damaged some, but the loss is small. Loss in the paint and oil house will run large, but is covered by insurance. Estimates of losses on buildings run about $75,000.

LOCHINVAR METHOD NOW OUT OF DATE.

OREGON GIRL STEERS AUTO AS COUPLE ELOPES TO THE PARSON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 1.—When Lochinvar came out of the West he grabbed up his beloved, set her on his horse and galloped away to the parson's. In this day of the feminist movement elopements are conducted the other way around. Witness, Frank Jackson and Miss Velma Leta Woolery.

Jackson is a wealthy San Francisco broker and the son of Charles Gordon Jackson, a capitalist of that city. Miss Woolery—that was—is the daughter of the late J. Woolery of Ione, Or.

The two met three years ago on the edge of one of those volcanoes in Hawaii. They fell in love with each other right there, but things sort of dragged along until yesterday.

"Let's get married," said Jackson.

Miss Woolery said all right, and the two jumped into her motor car, Miss Woolery at the wheel.

It was about 4:30 o'clock when they started, and it wasn't much later than that when they reached Vancouver. Miss Woolery broke all amateur records for the run and several speed laws. Two friends for witnesses were in the back seat.

First they got the license and then the party drove to the home of the Rev. F. H. Templeton, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and were married beside the machine. Miss Woolery didn't think it necessary to stop the engine for the ceremony.

Today Mrs. Jackson telephoned the news to her mother. Mrs. Woolery invited the young couple to "come right up." They did. And later the marriage was publicly announced.

INSANE PATIENT JUMPS TO STREET.

LEAPS DOWN THREE STORIES FROM OFFICE OF CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—After a furious struggle with Mrs. Ada C. C. Best, a Christian Science practitioner, who was treating him for insanity, and a friend, John E. Burgess, George Brew leaped from the third floor of an office building on a busy corner today. His skull was fractured and he received internal injuries, from which he will die.

Brew is an employee of the Navy Department at Mare Island. As Mrs. Best started towards the door he sprang from his chair and leaped for the window. Burgess and the practitioner grappled with him, but he struggled, shaking them off. Mrs. Best's wrist was injured in the struggle.

"BETTER PAY" SWAIN'S SLOGAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) July 1.—Dr. Joseph Swain, president of the National Educational Association, arrived here for the annual convention which opens July 4 and continues one week. Dr. Swain, who is president of Swarthmore College, was elected president of the association last year after his presentation of a report on teachers' salaries, tenure and pensions.

"Better pay for teachers" is the slogan of Dr. Swain.

M'CARN MUST PLEAD.

U. S. District Judge of Honolulu Refuses to Quash Indictment Against District Attorney on Assault Charge.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

HONOLULU, July 1.—Judge C. F. Clemons of the United States District Court denied a motion today that an indictment by the Federal grand jury charging United States District-Attorney Jeff McCarn with assault with a deady weapon be quashed.

Counsel for McCarn argued that the indictment was illegally returned. It grew from an altercation between McCarn and Claudius McBride, opposing counsel in a trial.

The court did not set a date for entering a plea to the indictment.

5 ACRES AND INDEPENDENCE AT NORTH WHITTIER HEIGHTS.

THE "CREAM OF ORANGE, LEMON, WALNUT AND AVOCADO LAND SUBDIVISIONS.

A personal investigation of the citrus industry on the slopes of the Whittier Hills will convince the most sceptical that a 5-acre orange or lemon grove in bearing in this section will make a comfortable living for any average family, and 10 acres will bring you wealth.

No other horticultural or agricultural district in the whole of the United States can boast of so many prosperous ranchers or orchardists who have started with so small an amount of capital.

The North Whittier Heights subdivision is being sold in either planted or unplanted tracts of 5 to 50 acres, and on exceptionally easy terms if desired. We will also contract to plant or care for groves for those who desire to have us do so.

Call at our office and let us take you out by automobile to see the 800 acres of young groves on our property and talk to the satisfied owners.

If you are in the market for an investment in a choice piece of foothill citrus land which is also a desirable location for a country home, you will be pleased with North Whittier Heights.

At the time of her death Miss Fisher was employed as laboratory chemist with the Western Wholesale Drug Company, which position she had creditably held the past five years, her knowledge and services being valued by her employers. NILAND GIVEN WARM TRIBUTE.

DINNER COMMEMORATES GREAT PROGRESS OF TOWN.

More Than Quarter Million Invested at New Town Since Opening in March—Event Precedes Excursion and Opening of New Imperial Valley Tract on Saturday.

A "$280,000 dinner" was given last night at Christopher's to celebrate investments of that amount made in the new town of Niland, on the main line of the Southern Pacific, in Imperial Valley.

The dinner last night was given by the California Land and Water Company to the sales force that has handled Niland investments since the town was opened on March 14. It preceded, also, a special excursion that is to be made to the town Friday night for the celebration the following day, July Fourth. At that time a new tract, Abyssinia, will be first opened to purchase and settlement.

Nearly 100 members of the Niland Improvement Association were participants in the dinner. The room had been artistically decorated with flags and streamers, with alfalfa, cotton and other products for which Imperial Valley is noted. A feature of the menu was the "jumbo melons," a new variety of cantaloupe of which dozens of crates had been purchased through the "Woman's Ten Thousand Club of Brawley," of which Mrs. E. Fawcett is president.

The dinner was accompanied with many entertainment surprises aside from the toasts. Mrs. E. Swickard appeared as "Martha Washington," spinning Imperial cotton at an old-time wheel, while Clockwork Washington sat at her side and perused the latest edition of the Niland Review. There were readings and musical selections, a Russian dance by Mary Beth Cox; a Niland "yell" and Niland songs. One of the guests was Mrs. S. F. Wiles, known as the "cotton queen" of the valley.

Arthur E. Hull, president of the California Land and Water Company, was toastmaster, and his "Niland Greetings" was followed by the following responses by Niland salesmen: "Niland—What's in a Name?" J. W. Orton; "Niland—Location and Transportation," W. H. Boland; "Niland—Soil," James Watson; "Niland—Population in Ninety Days," W. T. Payne; "Niland—Street Improvements," J. W. Hedges; "Niland—Scenery," J. L. Bruce; "Niland—Popularity," D. T. Hampton; "Niland—Aspirations," E. L. Gilman; "Niland—Our Expectations," William Smyers; "Niland—My Hobby," Douglas Bradley, "Niland—Oh, Joy," D. W. Hayman.

The menu contained a certified ledger sheet showing the following sales of property in and around the new town: Niland townsite, 361 lots, $150,410; Alexandria tract, twenty-eight blocks, $36,860; Suez tract, fifty-four blocks, $23,500; Numidia tract, thirty-eight blocks, $33,689; Soudan tract, thirteen blocks, $18,752; Nile-land Farms, $18,800.

FIRECRACKERS; FIRE.

The firecracker, that is under the ban in many cities because of its record for Fourth of July fires, got in its first work here for the season, when the garage of J. F. Green, No. 2322 Juliet street, was partially burned last night. The loss was $200.

You are mighty particular about the pedigree of your animals.

You never accept anything as a substitute or as "just as good" in that case.

"Just horses" or "just cattle" or "just chickens" receive "just ordinary" attention from you.

But you have a big interest in something that has a name and a record behind it—something that has character, quality, individuality and efficiency for a purpose.

You are not particularly interested in "just clothes" either—but if they are "Benjamin clothes" you then have a peculiar and lively interest in them, because of the name and record behind them and because then you know what to expect.

TWO LIQUOR RAIDS.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CHINO, July 1.—With one person on his way to jail for having distributed beer too lavishly, Mrs. Gracia Gutirrez, wife of Margarito Gutirrez, was arrested Monday by the constable and charged with selling liquor. A partly emptied case that originally contained thirty-six half-pint bottles of whisky, is held as evidence. In jail is Alfonso Alejandro, serving ninety days. Ninety quarts of beer were found in his house.

LUNATIC ON RAMPAGE.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, July 1.—Frank Donahue, who escaped from the insane asylum at Patton, held the Buaro neighborhood in terror this morning. He threatened to blow up houses, and declared he would kill persons who approached him. He had a long-bladed knife, with which he slashed up a postoffice box. Constable C. E. Jackson and Deputy A. K. Cravath caught him unawares and got the knife. He is in the County Jail.

Rain has also fallen in Arizona, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico and Florida. High temperatures were registered Tuesday in the Plateau States and in the south, though less generally than earlier in the week.

The usual summer barometric depression exists this morning over the valley of the Colorado and the San Joaquin Valley, giving clouds or fog in the coast districts. Little change is indicated in the conditions for Los Angeles and vicinity during the coming thirty-six hours, and generally fair weather, with early morning clouds or fog, may be expected. Temperature changes will be slight.

Robert Bragg, cattle dealer of Laramie, Wyo., and George Max, merchant of Winslow, are at the Westminster.

The guests at the Angelus include the following: Florence E. Martin, bond broker of New York City; M. A. Bossier, shoe dealer of St. Louis, and George Erwin, banker of St. Louis.

C. F. Maxwell, tourist of Sydney, Australia, is at the Alexandria, and also H. H. Wood, lumber dealer of Portland, and Frank E. Robins, grain dealer of Chicago.

Guellermo Munoz, a banker, and Mrs. Munoz, and their three children and two servants arrived at the Westminster yesterday from Chihuahua, Mex., for a stay of indefinite length. Mr. Munoz, who is well-known in financial circles in Mexico, was reticent about discussing conditions in the war-ridden republic. He is not hopeful of an immediate improvement there.

WANT MORE FUNDS.

With an available appropriation of $395.65, the Metropolitan squad, under command of Sergt. William Hackett, made 167 arrests during the month of June, including seventy-seven cases of vagrancy and sixty charged with gambling. More than $2300 in fines was collected, and there is still pending cases represented by $6000 bail money. The members of the squad are making plans to have the appropriation increased, as they assert the present funds are inadequate to properly protect the city.

SUGAR BEETS READY.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, July 1.—Announcement is made that the Visalia factory of the San Joaquin Valley Sugar Company will begin its 1914 campaign on Monday. The first suger beets will be sent in from Alpaugh, where a large acreage was planted. Beets of the Visalia section are also nearly ready for harvesting and have done splendidly this year. All told the sugar factory secured contracts this year for 5200 acres of beets, nearly half about Alpaugh. The beets at the latter point are expected to show an average sugar content of from 22 to 24 per cent. Forty-three tests last week from forty-three fields showed an average of 20 per cent., and this will increase considerably by the time the beets are gathered. Some beets showed a sugar per cent. of 27.1 per cent. at Alpaugh, and factory experts expect some record-breaking 30 per cent. beets.

NAME SCENIC ROAD.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, July 1.—"The San Bernardino Mountain Crest Highway" is the name of the wonderful new scenic loop road through the local mountains to Big Bear Valley and return. The Board of Supervisors received more than 300 suggestions for a name, but not one of those submitted met with their approval and they christened it themselves. Consequently the $10 prize money goes to no one.

FIND HAYSTACK A BIG SALOON.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CORONA, July 1.—The premises of John Garcia, who lives on Quarry street, were searched for wet goods last evening, and the tip to the officers that he had just received a large quantity for the Fourth of July trade proved quite true. Marshal Ramsey, with several officers, raided the place, and when they had finished more than 1000 bottles of beer had been secured from underneath a hay pile. He was taken to the City Jail, and before Judge Hull he pleaded guilty and paid $150 fine.

MAMMOTH UNDERTAKING FATHERED BY COUNTY.

Flood Control Plans Are Approved at Representative Gathering.

Expenditure of Nine and One-half Millions Is Contemplated—State and Federal Aid Will Be Sought—Tax Levy to Provide Money for Initial Work Before Winter Floods Arrive.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY put its hand to a $9,500,000 undertaking yesterday, when 250 representatives of municipalities, civic organizations, drainage districts, and private interests met with the Board of Supervisors in Blanchard Hall, effected a permanent organization, approved the flood-control plans of the board's advisory commission of engineers, and authorized the imposing of a tax of 10 cents on the $100 to get the work under way.

The amount that will be raised by this tax levy was estimated by Chairman Pridham at $675,000. This sum will be used under the board's direction to safeguard the county against possible flood loss the coming winter and to carry out preliminary work in connection with the larger conservation plan.

Eventually it is believed that the State and Federal governments and private interests will join the county in the work. This will mean, it is believed, an equal division of expense. The Board of Supervisors was authorized to take such steps as it deems best to secure the co-operation of these other interested parties. It is possible in this connection that the State Legislature will be asked at the January session to erect Los Angeles county into one homogeneous drainage district similar to that now controlled by the Sacramento River Drainage Commission.

ALL TOGETHER.

With the flood-damage last winter estimated at close to $7,000,000, the assembly early manifested the desire to tackle the problem as one in which sectional interests should be forgotten. The result was the organization of the Los Angeles County Flood Control Association, with Chairman Pridham of the Board of Supervisors as president; A. W. Fry of Clearwater as vice-president, Secretary McPherrin of the Board of Supervisors as secretary and Col. H. C. Hubbard of San Fernando as treasurer.

There were few hitches in the proceedings. One was when it seemed possible that the resolutions would contain no provision by which money would be provided for work this fall. This difficulty was solved when the special tax levy was provided for. Another came when Supervisor Norton

ASSETS RATHER THAN MAN'S LOVE?

DEFENSE IN HAYWARD DAMAGE SUIT SEEKS TO SHOW WIFE MERCENARY.

Mrs. Laura Ayers, daughter of Dr. Henderson Hayward and one of the defendants in the $100,000 alienation suit on trial before a jury in Judge Houser's court, testified yesterday that Mrs. Lester Hayward, the plaintiff, asked her as soon as she arrived in Los Angeles about certain jewelry and property given Lester by his mother. Considerable evidence of this character was brought by attorneys for the defense to show that the bride thought more about Lester's possible financial assets than of his love and affection.

Several times while Mrs. Ayers was testifying Mrs. Hayward mumbled to herself and shook her head vigorously.

"Mrs. Hayward told me that Lester had been a great expense to her," said Mrs. Ayers. "She said she had to give a $75 present to Lester's captain's wife to get her to help to get him out of the army. Afterward she gave him $25 to buy a suit and look presentable. Lester spent the money for something else."

The trial is rapidly nearing the end and will probably go to the jury tomorrow.

FATE SAVES LIFE OF BABY IN FALL.

TUMBLES OUT OF MOVING CAR WINDOW, HEAD ON STREET.

Falling from the open window of a moving trolley car, the two-year-old baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Ackelson, No. 813 West Fourth street, struck on his head on the pavement on Second street near Beaudry avenue yesterday afternoon, tumbled away from the car wheels and escaped with only a small cut on his skull.

That the baby was not killed is the marvel of physicians at the Receiving Hospital. There was no evidence of concussion or fracture and no explanation of the escape from death was attempted.

The baby, Harry, was with his mother, a passenger on an Edendale car. The window to the middle section was down and the baby was leaning out, waving his chubby arms and chuckling with delight. An automobile, with flags and pennants flying, atracted his eyes and they followed the machine as it passed.

In doing so the baby lost its balance and slipped from the mother's grasp. The scream of the mother was answered with the sharp jerks of the conductor's bell cord and the car was brought to an abrupt stop.

Pedestrians had picked the child up but the mother was the first of the passengers to reach it. Sidewalk witnesses say that had the baby tumbled toward the car instead of away from it, it would have passed under the wheels.

HIS THEORY, FIGHT NOISE WITH NOISE.

FIRES OFF GIANT CRACKERS FOR REVENGE ON A CORNETIST.

So when an incipient cornetist jumped with both feet upon the auditory nerves of the neighborhood, Mr. Blanchard thumbed over the leaves of his red, morocco-bound book of apothegms and wrote in a new one: "Fight noise with more noise."

Whereupon Mr. Blanchard went down to Chinatown and bought himself a box of giant crackers. These he took to the house at No. 762 East Fifty-second place, which is next to his own. The space between the two had often been filled with threats, and counter-threats, not forgetting the brassy notes blown out of the cornet. The cornetist is a roomer there.

Just as Mr. Blanchard lighted the fuse to his cracker box, Mrs. Prow, the landlady, putting out her daily milk bottle, happened onto the stoop and her advent was simultaneous with the explosion. Mrs. Prow fell over backward. Off to the side she found one unexploded cracker.

So yesterday afternoon she took a car down town, sought out Deputy City Prosecutor Blythe, showed the lone cracker and issued a complaint charging Mr. Blanchard with violating the fire-cracker ordinance.

Mr. Blanchard is now thinking up a new maxim.

EXAMINATIONS SET.

Civil Service Tests Are Ordered for County Counsel and Registrar of Voters.

The County Civil Service Commission has set August 1 as the date for holding competitive examinations for County Counsel and assistant and for Registrar of Voters. Both County Counsel Hill and County Registrar McAleer assert they will oppose the action.

Meantime the commission is held to answer an alternative writ of mandate, made returnable the 27th inst., ordering it to show cause why a competitive examination had not been held. The alternative writ of mandate was issued by Presiding Judge Wood and made returnable before Judge Finlayson.

The writ commands the respondents, the Civil Service Commission, to do the act in question or show cause why it has not done so. The time customarily fixed by the court to show cause is not ten days, but sufficient time to enable the act to be performed, if it ought to be, thus avoiding the necessity of a hearing if the act is one that should be and can be performed.

Under the law the return that must be made by the commission is that the act either has been performed, or a sufficient reason why it has not been performed. The issue is thus presented and the court either vacates the alternative writ or makes it peremptory.

Dark Altars.

POPPY'S BLOOD DRIPS HISSING.

God of the Black Smoke Dies on the Furnace Bars.

Singed but Triumphant Flies Upward the Eagle.

BY JOHN LLOYD.

Close to the old shanty where Burr Harris lived and planned his acts of weird ferocity in the city incinerator, a shabby loom of smoke. Up the dusty lane that leads to it yesterday came a one horse wagon, freighted with contraband from the United States Customs office.

In an automobile that followed immediately in the rear was the collector of customs, a special agent of the treasury, and several others. With some small ceremony the goods to be destroyed, cartons of opium, and plumage of various value, were dumped on the platform before the door. A trim roadster bearing a chauffeur and a woman drove up to watch the spectacle. A Chinaman, lazily entertained, stopped his vegetable wagon to look on.

The five-tael cans, 833 of them, were taken first, a stuffed eagle was next in order, and then came a beautiful bird of paradise, with a slight blue tinge at the feather tips, a very rare effect.

The fire in the furnace was low for the day. The stoker opened the door, and with a quick twist, shunted twenty cans within. More cans followed immediately, until half the consignment was within. And then from out the tiny crevices there issued fitful bubbles of smoke, thick and grey-black—the smoke of the burning opium. The bubbles broke, and the smoke balls stretched themselves, rolled out and covered the other boxes. It covered the eagle and the bird of paradise. The latter had on it the tag, "property of Mabell Trenchard."

It had been taken from her along with several other articles when she came to Los Angeles from the Orient. She had struggled to save them, but the customs officials were obdurate. They thought she had made a great to-do about them, for she had cried.

THE TALE.

In her way, she had been a woman of distinction, so their information had gone. A girl from Denver, she had come to San Francisco, there learned the artifices of dress and the art of conversation until her talents had become polished and her scruples had become clouded. Gradually she had drifted into the set that is smart but not elect. One day she disap-

A large quantity of contraband opium and a stuffed eagle, with some other things, were burned yesterday by the local Collector of Customs. The fumes of burning opium produce curious effects upon those inhaling them.

Promise.

THEY'LL RUE IT, SAYS THE WIDOW.

MRS. MORGAN TAKES STAND IN OWN DEFENSE TODAY.

Alleged Victim of Conspiracy and Object of Damage Suit for a Love Lost Declares She'll Make Her Detractors Wish They Had Never Been Born When She "Tells:"

Mrs. Ida Morgan, widow of "Gold Dust" Morgan and the defendant in the Budd-Morgan $100,000 "lost-love" suit, will tell her story today on the witness stand in Judge Morrison's court.

The wealthy widow, charged with stealing the affections of O. O. Budd, a strapping miner, from his wife, is anxious to face the jury and relate in detail the various features of the curious desert scandal.

"I am so glad my turn has come," said Mrs. Morgan. "They have said many terrible things about me, but I feel certain the jurors will be favorably impressed with my testimony. I intend to tell all I know about this affair and will spare no one. My case is already won. I feel certain of that. But before my attorneys finish with certain persons who tried to blackmail me they will wish that they never were born."

Mayor L. N. Whealton of Long Beach, alleged director of the midnight raid on Mrs. Morgan's boudoir, was on the stand all day yesterday. It was another trying day for the witness.

A letter from Budd, in which he complained that his position in the desert home of Mrs. Morgan was "awful dangerous," and that he was allowed to work only half the time, was brought to light by attorneys for the defense. The letter was unsigned, but it was identified by Mr. Whealton has having been written by Budd and received by himself.

As it was read, Mrs. Morgan leaned over and whispered to a woman friend and then glared angrily at Mr. Whealton. The witness did not look in her direction.

Letters between Mr. Whealton and Mrs. Budd formed the chief part of the testimony. Every detail of what the defense alleges was an extortion plot was dealt with in letters and telegrams introduced into the evidence.

Mr. Whealton denied with some heat that he planned or arranged the alleged frame-up to extort money from Mrs. Morgan. He also said that he knew nothing about the flashlight picture until he received a telegram from Mrs. Budd sent from Cima at 2:41 o'clock in the morning, two hours after the raid.

J. C. Rich, a court reporter of San Bernardino county, was called by Mrs. Morgan's attorneys for the purpose of impeaching the testimony of Mrs. Budd in connection with the taking of the flashlight picture.

Hurry and Death.

MYSTERY NOW ALSO TRAGEDY.

Body of Missing Chauffeur Found at Roadside.

Killed by Two Passengers Who Are Robbers?

His Taxi Abandoned at a Different Place.

The mystery of Richard B. Wharton, the chauffeur, became a tragedy yesterday, when his body was found tucked away in a hummock of weeds off the Rincon Beach road near Ventura. A camper, driving his team along the highway and letting the horses graze at will, came upon the forsaken dead yesterday afternoon.

So long had the body been a subject for the wind and sun that it could only be identified by a chauffeur's license, left in one of the inner pockets of his clothes, along with a few dollars. Slaying was obvious.

Agents of the Sheriff's office, who have been working actively to discover the whereabouts of the missing chauffeur, were not surprised when the final word of the murder was received.

Early last Thursday morning Mr. Wharton, who had a taxicab stand at No. 452 South Spring street, was approached by two overcoated men, who demanded that he take them immediately and at high speed to Lankershim. They appeared very nervous and agitated. It was the morning following a jewelry burglary in the downtown district. The men are believed to be robbers of the most cold-blooded type.

GETS RUSH ORDER.

As soon as he received the commission, Mr. Wharton hurried to some friends, who were seated in other machines, told them that he had a rush order to Lankershim, and asked one of them to lend him a coat. The coat was quickly secured and the chauffeur returned to his motor car, cranked it rapidly, and the party of mystery was off.

That night Mrs. Wharton became alarmed when her husband did not return to his residence, No. 1813 South Bonnie Brae street, for dinner. He had ample time to make the Lankershim trip and return. When she learned of the action of her husband's passengers she suspected foul play and reported Mr. Wharton's disappearance to the Sheriff's office.

Immediately a search was begun. It was favored by the discovery of Mr. Wharton's car, wrecked in a ditch by the roadside near Ventura. This ditch is an old river bed and a logical place to leave the car, as the rank growth by the roadside partly concealed it. In the tonneau were found the driver's hat and an empty revolver holster. These confirmed the suspicion that all was not well with the driver.

The body was found yesterday two miles west of Ventura, several miles from the place where the machine was abandoned. It was close to a much-traveled road, but concealed by the weeds and a willow corpse that shielded it.

Near by is a highway grading camp, where several hundred men are located. It is one of these campers who was permitting his team to stumble along the side of the roadway that came upon the body. It gave voice to the murder because of the long abandonment.

It is the theory of the Sheriff's officers that the two men who ordered Mr. Wharton to drive them to Lankershim Thursday killed him to conceal all clews to their identity, drove to the secluded spot, there left the body, and returned to Ventura with the Notorious Santa Ana Match Burned to the End.

Judge Calls St. Clair Baby and Denies Decree.

Scores the Too Good-Natured Marriage Officials.

The microbe of love jumped sideways when Alton M. St. Clair and Miss Christine A. Robinson ran away to be married at Santa Ana, June 27, 1913. It was a freak wedding, according to Mr. St. Clair in Judge Monroe's court yesterday, and he married a freak wife. Because they jumped into matrimony with their eyes open, the court refused the annullment asked for by the husband. Incidentally, he scored the Orange county Gretna Green for permitting such marriages.

While Mr. St. Clair and his mother, Mrs. Cherry St. Clair, were testifying in Department Thirteen, the young wife was taking down notes in the Miner Fill case in Department Eleven. She found it hard to keep her mind on the shorthand she was writing, for it was groping over into the Hall of Records and wondering whether she was still a wife and if the knot hastily tied at Santa Ana a year ago was hard and fast.

"I asked her to tell her folks," testified young Mr. St. Clair, "and we would go to housekeeping. She said she wanted to be free for two years and go with the fellows."

"Did she tell you that before the marriage?" asked the court.

"No, while we were on our way back to the city. I told her I did not think that was right, but she said it was the only way she wanted to do it."

"Well, the decree will be denied," commented the court. "You are simply tied up for keeps."

The story of the marriage is the story of a dare broached over a luncheon for four at the Oriental Cafe, June 27, 1913. A girl friend of the bride's suggested it. She called up the young man and dared him to join them and marry her.

"He thought she was joking," said Mr. St. Clair, "and would not come to the cafe. I took it as a joke when I was dared to marry Miss Robinson. She asked me if I was game and I said I was."

"Did you have anything to drink?" asked the court.

"We just had one beer apiece."

"Then you knew what you were doing?"

"Oh, yes. I did not think of the seriousness of it at that time. Miss Robinson went back to the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company's office, where she is employed as stenographer and bookkeeper, and later she went to a hotel where she called up the marriage license clerk at Santa Ana and told him to be at the Courthouse at 9 o'clock that night. I went out to collect bills for my stepfather's garage."

"Then you had lots of time to think it over?"

"Only about the joke I thought it was. I didn't think she would go. I met her downtown and we left for Santa Ana about 7 o'clock."

"Did you still think it was a joke when she got the license?"

"I could not very well back out then," was his reply.

"Was there a bet made in this dare?"

"No, sir."

"No money was collected?"

"Not a cent."

To the mother Judge Monroe put the question whether she knew about the marriage until after it occurred. She said she did not.

"Why didn't you spank your son?"

"He deserved it well enough," was her candid admission.

"Where is the wife?" the court asked Attorney Cate, counsel for Mr. St. Clair. He was informed she was in Department Eleven.

Then said the court:

"These young persons went to the County Clerk's office and lied about their ages. It is perjury; they ought to be prosecuted. There should be no faltering about things of this sort. He went to Santa Ana and committed a crime for the sake of marrying a girl on a dare, then he comes into court and pleads the baby act. That's all there is to it.

"There is a penalty for marrying persons under age without the consent of their parents. Lots of them do it and then they come here and want the marriage annulled. It is a serious dare for Mr. St. Clair. They are tied for keeps. The decree is denied."

PEDDLERS WANT HIGHER PRIC

Complain That Signatur Are Hard to Find.

Rush of Candidates Expecte at Last Moment.

Direct Primary Makes Wor Doubly Difficult.

Petition peddlers raced into "Pr gressive" county headquarters yeste day with a complaint that they a unable to get signatures for some the "Progressive" candidates and th will be obliged to raise their contra price per sig. The market price 5 cents a name, but many of the ca didates are not sufficiently well know —or too well known, however (h case may be—to attract the voter.

Chief among the petitions whic the petition peddlers are finding di ficult to fill is that of C. H. Rowe of Fresno, candidate for United State Senator on the "Progressive" ticke One of the peddlers, who begs fo signatures and collects a commissio upon each one, complained that n one will sign the Rowell petition. H has a stand at Sixth and Broadwa and hawks his wares as a newsbo exploits his.

Secretary Vincent Gelcich of th "Progressive" County Committe yelled for help when the complaint came rolling in. Some of the pe dlers demanded a new contract call ing for 10 and 12½ cents a name, in stead of 5, and threatened to abando their work if the money was no forthcoming.

A house-to-house canvass is being made, but this is productive of few signers, for a majority of the people are against this method of placing a candidate before the people. The house-to-house canvass is being abandoned by the "Progressives," and they are throwing their force of petition peddlers into the down-town streets, button-holing every passer-by. Some of them have a dozen petitions.

LAW WORKS HARDSHIP.

County Registrar McAleer was unable to make a forecast yesterday of the number of candidates who will be placed upon the primary ballot. Instead of giving him a chance to map out his work, which will be tremendous this year, the direct primary law fails to require candidates to obtain their petitions from the Registrar, but allows them to buy them by the bundle at any print shop which has the blank forms. Most of the candidates have been buying their blanks in this way and until the petitions are filled out and returned to the Registrar of Voters he has no idea how big the ballot will have to be or how heavy the burden will be upon his force in the last few days of the petition-circulating period, which ends in two weeks.

Because of the uncertainty of his task, Registrar McAleer will be seriously handicaped. It is expected that in the last few days there will be a rush of candidates to file their petitions that will make it almost impossible for the force of clerks to check the signatures in time to certify the petitions.

KNOWLAND COMING.

ACTIVE WORK IN SOUTH.

The first campaign speech of Joseph R. Knowland, Republican candidate for United States Senator in Southern California, will be made next Monday afternoon before the Women's City Club in Blanchard Hall. Mr. Knowland is due to arrive in Los Angeles Monday morning.

Monday evening, Mr. Knowland will address the Independent Civic League in the Higgins building at Second and Main streets. The following day he is expected to go to Ventura, where he will speak before the Republican Club of Ventura county. On July 3 he will speak before the Lincoln-Republican Club at Santa Ana.

Mr. Knowland, according to William B. Calderwood, secretary of the Knowland Senatorial Club, has already received numerous indorsements of his candidacy throughout the State, among them being the indorsement of his candidacy by the California Women's Republican Club, which has headquarters at San Francisco. He has also received the unanimous indorsement of the Republican County Central Committee of Imperial county, according to a telegram received yesterday by Secretary Calderwood from Senator Clifford Coggins.

The local campaign of Mr. Knowland is being organized under the supervision of the Knowland Senatorial Club, which has headquarters at No. 410 Wilcox building.

Democrats to Meet.

The Woodrow Wilson Club, at the head of which stands Dr. Randolph W. Hill, who will doubtless be Ham Cotton's successor as Democratic county chairman, will entertain State Senator John B. Curtin and Thomas F. Griffin next Monday night at Symphony Hall, Hill-street side of the Blanchard building. Griffin will tell the Bourbons why he, and not James B. Phelan, should receive the Democratic indorsement for the United States Senate. Curtin will deliver an address upon his own capabilities as a candidate for Governor.

Stockwell for Controller.

Edward J. Stockwell, chief accountant in the County Tax Collectors' office, yesterday announced his candidacy for State Controller. He is the only Republican in the State who has shown a sincere effort to land the plum, although one or two candidates from the north have been mentioned. On the theory that the south has not enough candidates running on the Republican side, friends of Stockwell urged him to enter the race. He will have the backing of Southern California Republicans. For eight years Stockwell has been holding a vital and important office in the county service and his work has been commended by the grand jury after another and by others familiar with the duties he has performed.

Chamberlin Indorsed.

The first indorsement to be made by the Republican Club of the Seventy-second Assembly District was made yesterday when the candidacy of Attorney Harry A. Chamberlin for the Republican nomination for Assemblyman was indorsed. It is the plan of the club to organize the Seventy-second Assembly District thoroughly and secure volunteer workers in every precinct in the district. Indorsements of candidates for every office to be voted on at the coming primary will eventually be made. The officers of the Democrats to Meet.

The Woodrow Wilson Club, at the head of which stands Dr. Randolph Bell, who will doubtless be Ham Lewis's successor as Democratic party chairman, will entertain State Senator John B. Curtin and Thomas Griffin next Monday night at Symphony Hall, Hill-street side of the Orchard building. Griffin will tell the Bourbons why he, and not James Phelan, should receive the Democratic indorsement for the United States Senate. Indorsements of candidates for every office to be voted upon at the coming primary will eventually be made. The officers of the club are: President, George W. Perkins, and secretary, Ethel W. Robinson.

Political Notes.

The Italian-American Political Club will be addressed this evening by Deputy District Attorney W. J. Ford. The club meets at its hall at North Main and Macy streets.

"Progressives" who would like to be fusion candidates and procure indorsement of other parties are now calling themselves "co-operative candidates." H. A. Wishard, a candidate for the Assembly in the Sixty-first District, has started the habit. He is seeking a "Progressive" nomination, and also has petitions out labeled "Republican" and "Democratic."

Frank W. Blair, candidate for Superior judge, will make the principal address at the Independence Day celebration at Ocean Park Saturday.

"Efficiency in Public Office" was the topic of an address delivered last night in Washington Hall, on Central avenue, by Deputy District Attorney Ford. He pointed out the vital necessity of electing a District Attorney who is experienced, and cited the city requirement of five years' experience of a City Prosecutor, as an example of desired efficiency.

A. L. Shinn of Sacramento arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to tell the folks that he is a Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor. He will make a tour of the South and will give out first-hand information about the rottenness of the State administration.

State Senator Curtin was in San Diego yesterday conferring with the Democrats of that locality. Later he will go into Imperial Valley to further his candidacy for Governor on the Democratic ticket.

Surprise Party.

TOMCAT JUMPS UPON AND ROUTS BURGLAR.

ATAVISM yesterday found an illustration in Buster, a big gray tomcat owned by Charles H. Ziegler, No. 679 East Forty-second street. For a minute in the morning Buster was not a domesticated family pet but a fierce denizen of the jungle. And today Buster is no longer the target of pelting schoolboys, but the hero of a neighborhood. The cat changed his status by dispatching a burglar from his owner's house after a clawing, biting fight.

The cat sleeps in the kitchen of the Zeigler home. Early yesterday morning a burglar entered through the open back doorway. Buster slunk away stealthily before the man, retreating. The man unconsciously followed him to Zeigler's room. Mr. Zeigler was asleep. The burglar reached up to take Mr. Zeigler's trousers and the cat, probably feeling itself pursued and cornered, let out a screech and jumped on the breast of the intruder. The noise awakened Zeigler. He sat up to see the strange sight. The cat clawed at the burglar, then jumped back on the bed and again at the burglar, now fleeing. And the man, unable to shake off the angered animal, broke into a run and escaped the way he came, without having taken anything.

Buster is the cat who is credited with having prevented a burglary in his master's home by attacking the nocturnal intruder and scratching neat designs on his neck and shoulders. The little girl who is feeding Buster is Miss Helen Winslow.

NEW POSTMASTER AT THE HELM.

SLIDES INTO THE PLACE AS SMOOTHLY AS A SHIP INTO THE SEA.

As smoothly as a dreadnought slips down the ways into the embracing arms of the sea, where she rides full-breasted and at ease, the new administration of the postoffice was launched yesterday at 10 a.m.

The retiring postmaster, W. H. Harrison, was not present when the oath of office was administered to the new postmaster, Harrington Brown, by Clerk Van Dyke of the United States District Court, to break a flagon of good will on the prow of the new ship, but he called later in the day, tendered his congratulations and was of material assistance to the new official in "getting the hang of the barn."

Others present were Assistant Postmaster Dishman, Postoffice Inspectors Webster and Ranger, who took the oath for the reason that yesterday they were promoted and rerated; Thomas Burns, cashier of the postoffice; Charles S. Anderson, superintendent of the money order division, and Howard Switzer, stenographer in the office of the postoffice inspectors.

Mr. Brown made a good impression upon all callers during the day, who tendered their congratulations. He expressed a desire that his administration might be as successful in every way as that of his predecessor.

motor car, which they abandoned in the river bed.

ON THE TRAIL.

Descriptions of the two men believed to be involved in the slaying have been in the hands of the Sheriff since the day of Mr. Wharton's disappearance, and two deputy sheriffs assigned to find them reported last night that they believe they are on the trail.

The victim's complete ignorance of the identity of the men is vouched for by several chauffeurs, who had asked him who they were, and whom he had answered: "Never saw them before, but they promised to give me an extra ten if I get them there fast."

When notified of the discovery Mrs. Wharton was prostrated last night. She had hoped that the delay argued that he had been taken with the men for safekeeping and not killed.

An autopsy of the body will be conducted in Ventura today, when an effort will be made to discover the cause of death. Mr. Wharton had been shot several years ago near the heart, and two of his ribs, protecting that organ, had been removed. Because of that disability a slight blow in that part of the body might have caused death, and it is possible that the two men knew of that weakness.

"The Man Who Did It"

During the stern struggle for supremacy which took place between the American and British forces, many noteworthy incidents occurred, the memory of which help to prove the golden character of the immortal George Washington.

It happened on one occasion that a party of men under command of a particularly fiery headed sergeant were engaged in removing a heavy tree which had fallen across the road, barring the way to the oncoming army. The sergeant, full of uniform and importance, instead of helping, was rating the men soundly for their lack of effort and for the length of time they were taking to move the tree. Just at this moment another soldier, mounted on a white horse came up, and noting the ineffectual struggles of the men, he instantly dismounted and applied his strength to the stubborn barrier, with the result that it began to move and was soon clear of the road.

The important sergeant, to further show his authority, chimed in with another volley of abuse and was about to issue another command, when the stranger went up to him and in a quiet and telling manner said: "Sergeant, the next time you need any help, send for your general." Without another word he mounted his horse and rode off, leaving the pompous sergeant to think the matter over.

America is now reaping the benefit of George Washington's genius and foresight. Today, however, we are more concerned in the matter that you have an enjoyable holiday on the Fourth, and, consequently, we are anxious to let you know what our service can do to help you. NOT ALL UNKIND.

That was a noble and beautiful letter The Times published on Tuesday from some of the property owners in the vicinity of the proposed Florence Crittenton Home. We are exceedingly glad to find that spirit after the unloveliness of one individual out there. Perhaps he will not stone those girls to death. It may be that he will only sell out and go some place that seems good enough for a man of his spiritual altitudes. We would not advise him to try going as high as heaven, as there is supposed to be some charity up there. We have even heard that some of the inhabitants of Paradise are Christians.

A MILD EXPLOSION.

The firecracker is gradually finding its way back to the American city. For three or four years it was banished. The result was disastrous. A Democratic administration came in as a sort of lukewarm climax to the mild and mushy Fourth. The policy of watchful waiting was another pale result. Patriotism began to wane. The flag hung limp. People stopped cheering for "Yankee Doodle" and yelling for "Dixie." The country was going to Bryan and perdition. No wonder the firecracker, the toy pistol and the torpedo came back. This is not a declaration of war, but heaven forfend that America should lose the militant spirit. Militancy is godly when it is on the right side.

THE LION AND THE LAMB.

England is the lion and Villa the lamb. They are not likely to lie down together while the memory of Benton's murder lasts. All the watching and waiting that Washington ever did in its life will not efface this memory. Sir Lionel Carden has advised the British to quit Mexico City at once. Villa is expected there. What will the British do if the rebel general reaches the palace? The least Villa can do is to avoid repeating his Benton mistake when he does arrive at the capital city. King George and Woodrow Wilson may have different ideas about protecting the lives of their people. It may be that a man pays more attention to subjects than to fellow-citizens.

TELL THE WHOLE TRUTH.

A man in search of a bungalow consults the columns of real estate for sale in The Times. He desires to know where the property is and what the price of it is, for these factors will control him in making a purchase. An advertiser who declares that the price of his property is "reasonable" and that it is "eligibly situated," and "within five minutes' walk of a car line," will probably receive no attention from an investor, for an "eligible" situation may mean that the property is on a hill or in an arroyo, and "five minutes' walk" may mean anything from 200 yards to a third of a mile—it depends upon how fast you walk, and a "reasonable price" may mean $1000 or it may mean $5000. Don't be afraid in your advertisement to tell "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth."

"HORRIBLE PLOT CONCEIVED BY FUTURISTS."

In an editorial which, under the above heading, appears to have slipped down from its caption to the milder heading of "A Perfectly Feasible Plan Is Proposed," a steamed one-cent Progressive contemporary says "The Republicans show a disinclination to disband." This disinclination is evidenced by their registering twice as many voters as the Progressives in California, in Pennsylvania and in about every State where registration has been going on.

The steamed cotem further says: "The party name, leadership, platform and prospective ticket that must win the battles of the future are clearly those of the Progressives." At which The Times remarks "Hope springs eternal in the Progressive heart."

Then follows the "perfectly feasible plan:" "Let the Republicans adopt the name Progressive." The Civil War might have ended sooner if the United States had by constitutional amendment pursued a perfectly feasible plan and adopted the name and constitution of the Confederate States and substituted the stars and bars for Old Glory.

Our steamed one-cent cotem further says: "Let the Republicans ditch their present discredited leaders and in a wholehearted way accept the leadership of men of vision" (that's Holy Hiram who has his vision "sot" like those of a dying donkey on the Governorship) "men of the new era" (that's Guy Eddie, whose new era will be an era of metamorphized eugenics) "men of broadened horizon" (that's His Majesty Myself E. Tooplous.)

Our one-cent cotem further says that this would be "a successful amalgamation." Just so. When the lion and the coyote lie down together with the lion inside the coyote; when a two-minute trotting horse can be induced to travel in double harness with an alligator; when a mastiff consorts with a polecat; when a rose is twined in a bouquet with a stink weed, then there will be a "successful amalgamation" of the Republican leaders, with the discredited, down and out, broken-shinned Rowell and Eshleman and Heney.

Our cotem says that the combination it suggests would "sweep the country." It would be in the sweeping sure enough, but it would be even as the dirt which goes before the broom, out of the back door and into the garbage heap.

RETURNING BY THE BACK DOOR.

All the indications point to the return to the Republican party in California of great numbers who for one reason or another were inclined to ally themselves with the so-called "Progressive" party. These indications are obvious to everyone who mixes with the public and notes the conversations upon political subjects. The Democratic party has made a failure. At home it has changed good times to very indifferent times, and abroad it has made a mess of every question that has arisen. Those who have dreamed of being in at the birth of a new party, have generally reached the conclusion that the tried and established policies of the Republican party are the right ones to bring back great prosperity at home and respect for our country abroad. So the "Progressives" have been returning to their first allegiance from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and the registration in California is an indication that their movement here is as strong as it is in any other State.

They are very welcome, too. The front door is wide open, and they will be received into full fellowship, with all the rights and privileges that appertain thereto. But Republicans will insist that they come in by the front door, in upright, manly fashion.

There are numbers of "Progressives," however—the candidates for public office—who are planning to get back into the Republican party just a little, about half way, and not by the front door at all, but through a back door entrance, which conveniently was left open for them by the late lamented "Progressive" Legislature. That body passed a new primary law which contains the famous, or infamous, provision that the candidate of one party may become the candidate for nomination of another or several other parties. To save the face of the candidate he does not make the application himself to go on another party ticket, but the application may be made by five friends, who make affidavit that he has given consent thereto. The difference is hardly sufficient to dignify it as "technical." After the five friends have made the application, the usual number of names may be secured for nominating papers, and the candidate's name automatically goes on the regular ticket for the nomination of the other party, just as though he "belonged." Many voters are not familiar with the names of the candidates. They take it for granted that all the names on their party ticket are of that party, and if the name happens to be familiar, they vote for it as likely as not. Then the "Progressive" candidate whose name is wished onto the Republican ticket through the back door, may pick up quite a lot of votes, and in a scattered field of a number of genuine Republicans, he even might possibly become the Republican nominee, as well as the so-called "Progressive."

The success of this back door scheme depends greatly upon secrecy. It will not stand the test of general knowledge or discussion. Now that it has been made public "Progressives" will continue to return by the front door, and there will be less prospect of success of those who are Republicans only so far as they can secure Republican votes.

THE "CONSPIRACY" OF MR. WILSON.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, representing 585 associations whose membership exceeds 250,000 individuals and concerns, by a special and unanimous vote of its directors, has presented a protest to the President and to the Judiciary Committee of the Senate against the proposed provisions of the Clayton bill, wherein it is stipulated that labor unions and farmers' organizations shall be exempt from the penalties and restrictions of the anti-trust measure.

It is believed that this action on the part of the Chamber of Commerce is in part responsible for the statement emanating from President Wilson to the effect that a "conspiracy" is on foot to defeat the bill.

Let it not be forgotten that President Wilson is somewhat given to crying "conspiracy" any time an opposition develops against his official desires. He called "conspiracy" once before and raised a big hullabaloo over a confessed liar—one David Lamar—who told many things for a sensational effect and not one of which, other than that he was a contemptible and mendacious shark, was worth considering.

So now President Wilson cries "conspiracy" because the Chamber of Commerce of the United States protests against an odious and unjust bill; and because the editor of the Pictorial Review, published at New York, called upon his subscribers to write letters of protest to Congress.

Conspiracy, indeed! If 't is a "conspiracy" to inform the citizens of this nation of perilous legislation impending in Congress, directed and instigated by the President himself, in conjunction with Samuel Gompers, and to arouse them to a spirited protest by presenting in cold statements the alarming facts, then there is a "conspiracy" on foot to prevent the creation of a favored class by the Democratic Congress.

But it is not and cannot be a "conspiracy" for the people of this country to proclaim with emphasis their satisfaction or dissatisfaction with proposed measures in Congress. The Congressmen, the Senators and President represent the people, and do not, as it now must appear, merely represent the class of people who happened to be members of labor unions and agricultural organizations.

It is not and cannot be a "conspiracy" for the business men whose property and rights are imperiled to disseminate the facts pertaining to the proposed congressional legislation, and to appeal to the citizens for support in opposition.

Did Mr. Wilson form a "conspiracy" when he appealed to the citizens to support him for the Presidency? Was it a "conspiracy" when President Wilson broke his word of promise, at the instigation of England, and established tolls for American ships at Panama, and when he encouraged the Democratic newspapers to arouse the nation's citizens to support his questionable action?

All that the business men ask for, all that the laboring men not affiliated with Samuel Gompers's unions demand, all that citizens who view the facts and realize the consequence insist upon, is that all men—union members, farmers, bankers, butchers and jacks-of-all-trades—shall be equal before the laws. Acts which are criminal in one person should not be declared innocent in another.

The purpose of the Clayton bill is to allow unions to boycott and picket establishments that do not comply with the demands of the American Federation of Labor; it is to allow unions to control the labor market of the United States, and to use those vicious methods as weapons to intimidate opposition; it is to permit them to organize and enter into conspiracies for the purpose of crushing competition and punishing competitors.

The purpose of the Clayton bill is to make a criminal of and to punish any man engaged in another form of business than selling labor or farm products who enters into any combination.

In the face of that dangerous measure is it any wonder that a formidable opposition has manifested itself in all parts of the country, and has called upon Mr. Wilson and his Congress to desist from the iniquitous proposal? Mr. Wilson, in his egotism, calls it a "conspiracy," as though he were so infallible that none, unless maliciously inspired, would protest against his measures.

The entire nation is protesting. It is clamoring. It is insistent and persistent because the people of this country want and demand equity before the law. They are not willing to stand by in idleness and see an administration bartering with the heritage that came down from the founders of this republic for the votes of the members of American Federation of Labor and of the farmers' organizations.

SENATOR NEWLANDS AS A DEMOCRAT.

"You call yourself a Democrat," said a white-whiskered Democrat of the vintage of 1860 to Senator Frank Newlands of Nevada. "I reckon hell is full of your kind of Democrats."

Senator Newlands has introduced a bill for the Federal incorporation of railroads engaged in interstate commerce. If the bill stopped there it would not be so objectionable, for most of the railroads in the United States are engaged in interstate commerce. But it goes further. The law he proposes would stretch the power of Congress so as to regulate commercial operations which are conducted wholly within a State. "When things are sold and bought," says the New York Journal of Commerce, "and the transaction is completed and settled within a State it is not interstate commerce, whatever may become of the articles traded in after they come into the possession of the buyer."

If the purchases are to be delivered by the vendor in another State their transportation comes under Federal control, but the trade is completed under State jurisdiction and Congress has no constitutional control over the regulation of the trade itself or the charges for transportation within the State where it was made.

A merchant purchases and has delivered to him ten tons of cantaloupes in Imperial Valley with the intention of shipping them to Los Angeles. He finds that Los Angeles is well supplied with melons so he changes the destination of the fruit to Chicago and their shipment becomes interstate commerce. Ought that to give an interstate commerce commission any power to interfere with the transaction of sale and purchase between the melon seller and the melon buyer? or any power to fix the rate of transportation between Calexico and Los Angeles?

Or a Los Angeles merchant buys a carload of goods in Chicago, which are delivered to his agent there who ships them to the buyer in Los Angeles. Ought that to give the United States any right to revise the contract of purchase and sale of the goods?

In introducing his new bill Senator Newlands referred to the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the Shreveport case as pointing "decisively toward the necessity of organizing as national corporations the great railway systems of the country. The constant trend," he said, "of the decisions, which is toward the absorption of all the powers over commerce by the United States government by reason of the grant to it of jurisdiction over that part relating to interstate commerce, indicates the necessity of incorporating the great railway systems under national law."

The New York Journal of Commerce says that this statement requires an important qualification, for it should properly apply only to the business of transportation, which is an instrumentality of commerce and not in itself commerce or trade. It can hardly be contended that the "trend of decisions" is "toward the absorption of all the powers over commerce by the United States government." In regard to what is really commerce, a clear distinction has been made and is likely to be maintained between that which takes place within a State and that which extends "among the several States."

The California Railroad Commission has a right to fix rates that shall be charged for transporting a carload of grain or oil or dried fruit from Bakersfield to Los Angeles, but the Federal Interstate Commerce Commission has no such right. If Senator Newlands's bill should become a law, and the Federal commission should establish one rate of freight and the State commission another, which rate would prevail?

THE HARVEST HAND.

WALT MASON IN "THE TIMES."

Triumphantly the toiler roared, "I get three bones a day and board! That's going some, eh, what?" And on he labored, brave and strong; the work was hard, the hours were long, the day was passing hot. I sat at ease beneath a tree—that sort of thing appeals to me—and watched him as he toiled; the sweat rolled down him in a stream, and I could see his garments steam, his face and hands were broiled. He chuckled as he toiled away, "They're paying me three bones a day, with board and washing, too!" That was his dream of easy mon—to stew and simmer in the sun, for that, the long day through! And I, who earn three iron men with sundry scratches of a pen, felt sorry for the jay; but, as I watched his stalwart form, the pity that was growing warm within me, blew away. For he was getting more than wealth—keen appetite and rugged health, and blessings such as those; and when the day of toil was through, no doubt the stalwart worker knew a weary child's repose!

PANAMA CANAL REGULATIONS.

The shipping conditions for vessels passing through the Panama Canal will be as follows: The tolls must be paid in cash, or by some financial guarantee acceptable to the Governor of the Zone. The payment must be deposited with the Canal Treasurer before the vessel enters any lock.

Preceding the payment of tolls a document must be presented showing that the capacity of the vessel has been measured by some recognized authority. Then, deducting all the space used for the crew, machinery, and ship's stores, there remains a certain number of cubic feet available for passengers and cargo, which is its earning capacity.

For every 100 feet of this earning capacity the rate of Panama Canal tolls will be $1.20. As these rules and rates are different from those governing the Suez and other canals, all vessels must be measured for this purpose. The measurement should be made and properly certified to before applying for passage through the canal. But the measurement will always be subject to revision by the officers of the canal.—[Condensed from the Boston Transcript.

HOWARD ELLIOTT'S EPIGRAM.

The successor to former President Mellen in the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad system, Howard Elliott, has been giving the public a statement which the Boston Transcript says should be read and pondered by Congress, the Department of Justice, the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the legislative bodies of the various States. He epigrammatically declares that the obstacles against which the railroads have to contend "are the three R's—raising wages, raising taxes, and reducing rates." These conditions enter vitally into the present situation.

Elliott says that next to agriculture the transportation business is the largest in the country, but that while the government is doing all that it legitimately can to help the agricultural interests, it is pursuing an opposite course with the railroads.

The Twins.

"Oh, mother, look at the twins!"

MEXICO'S AGRARIAN PROBLEM.

BY FRANCES DOUGLAS.

The war in Mexico has in no small degree grown out of agrarian troubles. Scarcely had the conquering Spaniard set foot upon the soil of Montezuma than the squabbles over land commenced. Enormous mercedes de tierra (grants of land) were awarded to the "pacifiers" of the savage region, and many of these are tenaciously held by their descendants of the present day. Discontent has been increasing for over three hundred and fifty years until it has been concentrated in the cry of the Constitutionalist army in its demand for land.

One of the ideals cherished by the Madero administration was the division of the land into small holdings and the formation of so-called military-agricultural colonies. The plan has the sanction also of Provisional President Huerta; but the exigencies of war have prevented his carrying it into effect, if, indeed, he seriously contemplated so doing. One difficulty barring the way to the partition of the land into tracts of two hectares, or approximately five acres, is that all the choice agricultural land is held in desperate grasp by men who refuse to give it up. In order to escape heavy taxation these great land barons have rated their estates at a low valuation. However, under the Madero regime a plan for the formation of military-agricultural colonies was mapped out and approved by the thinking men of the republic, who prophesied then that unless the agrarian problem were solved the country would be torn to shreds by a class war; but the rich gave no heed. By exploiting the poor man they continued growing richer. Meanwhile the poor continued growing poorer until, as they express it, they are attempting a settlement with their own war-scarred hands. Patriotic men eager for the welfare of their country have come to the conclusion that the only feasible means of acquiring the land for colonization purposes is for the government to appraise the land at the valuation placed upon it by the landholders themselves for the assessment of taxes, and to purchase it at that price.

The division of the land and its colonization were to be undertaken either directly by the government or by a colonization company, the State assuming to guarantee the titles. It is the ambition of the originators of this plan to convert the country into a vast field of intense agricultural activity, providing every man with a house and a parcel of land. Unmarried youths from eighteen to twenty years of age are to be induced to enlist as soldier-farmers for a term of five years. Enlistment in this army will be absolutely voluntary. The soldier-farmer is to be given to understand that it is intended to make him at once a soldier and an agriculturist, for which purposes he will be subject, without undue restriction, to the orders of his superior officers. This army is to be directed by a personnel of chiefs and officials of high standing, some exercising authority in military affairs, others acting as instructors in agriculture and engineering. The divisions of this army will be movable, going wherever the services of the soldier-laborers may be required, either for government or private enterprises, contracts being made through the Secretary of War. The minimum wage will be one peso a day; while in case of contracts with private enterprises the latter will pay the wage prevailing in the region, but never less than a peso per diem, half of which is to be set aside for the accumulation of a fund to be utilized at the end of the five years' service for the construction of a house for the soldier-farmer, who will then be considered a member of the agricultural-military colony. From the same fund he will be provided with furniture for his house, implements, animals, seeds, and a daily allowance for one year for himself and the family which it is assumed he will then establish.

The military colonist, according to the plans proposed, was to be allowed perfect liberty in the application of his labor and in regard to the disposition of his produce, the technical director and adviser of the colony being prohibited from all manner of speculation, either in regard to the supplying of labor or the marketing of products. Each parcel of land belonging to a soldier, and also his house, furniture, live stock, and agricultural implements are to be exempt from mortgage and alienation on account of civil debts; such liabilities to be discharged by the soldier-colonist with a portion of the fruits of his labor.

During the five years of active service the corps of soldier-farmers are to participate in all manner of public or private enterprises directly or indirectly related to the agricultural advancement of the country, such as any variety of agriculture, road building, clearing of land, drainage of fields, canals, opening of artesian wells, irrigation systems, or the harvesting of crops. Thus they would benefit by the broadening influence of travel outside of their own district and by contact with their fellow-citizens. When laboring for the government or for a private enterprise, the working day was to consist of nine hours, with one hour allowed for dinner. A portion of each day was to be devoted to military drill, and one hour daily given over to instruction in the fundamentals of an education, while instruction in agricultural science was to be obligatory.

It was argued that the military instruction acquired would make them defenders of the Fatherland, genuine veterans, ready to form the nucleus of a great army in case of a foreign war. The hobby of the peon, who for so long has endured servitude, is liberty. He has the idea, not pasted in his hat, but woven into it, or he is frequently seen strutting about the streets wearing a broad yellow palm sombrero which shades his shoulders, and along its upturned brim is woven in large black letters "Cuida la independencia nacional"—take care of the national independence! Each of these men fighting to defend the bit of ground which feeds his children would make a force to be reckoned with in terms of blood at the slightest trespass upon the sovereignty of his beloved Mexico.

Such was the idea of the Mexican idealistic reformers, and such would it be in very truth if the Utopian plan could be carried into effect. In attempting to settle the internal troubles of Mexico it is essential to realize that the visionary schemes of idealists have imbued the people with notions of a combination of militarism with bucolic peace, and that the principle of absolutism, which the Mexican understands from long experience, is interwoven with socialistic plans in which the individual is mysteriously to be a free agent and yet a pawn in a great social mechanism.

In Mexico's agrarian problem not only lie inherent practical difficulties to confiscation and re-partition, but impracticable dreams which are the fruit of the class-war now raging.

With one notable exception, every Congressman from the State is seeking re-election. The exception [illegible] in the Sixth, where Congressman Knowland steps out of the Congressional fight in order to [illegible] the breadth of the United States Senate. In all of the eleven districts warm contests are looming up and the overwhelming Republican registration indicates that a Republican majority will be sent to Congress this fall from California.

In the Ninth District, which includes Pasadena and Long Beach and the east half of Los Angeles county, generally, there are four candidates in the field and Congressman Bell, "Progressive," is hanging onto his seat only by one suspender button. Frank C. Roberts and Dudley W. Robinson are opponents for the Republican nomination, and the prospects are bright for Mr. Roberts. In fact, few Republicans in the district or outside will venture a guess that he will fail of the nomination. He is a power in the district, is an old tried and loyal Republican, and has stood the brunt of many a Republican fight. He owns a newspaper at Long Beach and recently acquired another at Pasadena, is thoroughly posted on national and California affairs, and is regarded generally as especially fitted for Congress. He is receiving the backing of the Republican strength of the district.

Congressman Bell has no opposition for the "Progressive" nomination and no Democrat was in the race until yesterday, when a candidate sallied forth. He is George L. Roodenpyl of Long Beach, a law partner of Steve Long's, and it is quite likely that his attractive name will adorn the ballot in November.

The Tenth District presents another interesting situation. Capt. H. Z. Osborne and Gen. F. C. Prescott are contesting for the Republican nomination. Capt. Osborne is looked upon as a winner of the nomination by a wide margin because of his wide knowledge of affairs, his familiarity with big issues and big situations, and his long and honorable career as a stalwart, unwavering Republican. He is a pioneer newspaper man, although long since retired from the field, and was once president of the Chamber of Commerce. In this year when Republicans generally are looking to those who have stood by their guns as the available material to rout the Democratic party from power, Capt. Osborne is regarded as one of the faithful whose party service should be rewarded. That the Republican nominee will defeat Congressman Stephens there isn't the slightest doubt. Although Stephens is running as a "Progressive" some of his friends are circulating Republican petitions for him, and they must have had his consent. Until yesterday the field was unadorned by a Democrat. John Topham had announced his candidacy, but he failed to procure the indorsement of the county committee, and Sam Haskins declined to run, so the committee hit upon one Nathan Newby, an attorney, and he consented to make the fight for the Democrats.

Taking the First District as another example of rivalry in the Congressional districts, Congressman Kent, Demo.-Independent, is having a difficult struggle to convince his partisans that he should be re-elected. Chairman Campbell of the Democratic State Central Committee tried to get by with an indorsement of Kent, but he was spurned, and spurned hard. Campbell holds a Federal office by the kindness of Kent, and when he suggested that Kent be indorsed Steve Costello, Mrs. A. Gammetti and others sat upon him. Kent is accused of being no Democrat, of having opposed Wilson two years ago and supported Roosevelt. The only supporter Campbell had in the committee was Louis H. Mooser, who is a candidate for a regional bank office.

The Democrats in the First have made it pretty clear to Congressman Kent that they would much rather see a Republican elected than a man who has flirted with all three parties and has been true to none. Edward M. Hart is the Republican candidate and as the registration is overwhelmingly in his favor, he will probably beat Kent, as the "Progressives" seem to have no more show than a one-armed billposter in a typhoon. I. G. Gunswalt, who tried twice to beat Kent, is in the race and out, and then in again. He may be in and he may not. No one can tell.

The registration in the Second gives the Republicans a book strength of 37,982; the Democrats, 14,552, and the "Progressives" 5316. Congressman Baker will have a strong opponent in

Congressman Bell has no opposition for the "Progressive" nomination and no Democrat was in the race until yesterday, when a candidate stepped forth. He is George L. Hoodenpyl of Long Beach, a law partner of Reeve Long's, and it is quite likely that his attractive name will adorn the ballot in November.

The Tenth District presents another interesting situation. Capt. H. Z. Osborne and Gen. F. C. Prescott are contending for the Republican nomination. Capt. Osborne is looked upon as a winner of the nomination by a safe margin because of his wide knowledge of affairs, his familiarity with big issues and big situations, and his long and honorable career as a staunch, unwavering Republican. He is a pioneer newspaper man, although he has long since retired from the field, and was once president of the Chamber of Commerce. In this year when Republicans generally are looking to those who have stood by their guns as the available material to rout the Democratic party from power, Capt. Osborne is regarded as one of the faithful whose party service should be rewarded. That the Republican nominee will defeat Congressman Stephens there isn't the slightest doubt, although Stephens is running as a "Progressive" some of his friends are obtaining Republican petitions for him and they must have had his consent. Until yesterday the field was occupied by a Democrat. John Fredericks had announced his candidacy but he failed to procure the endorsement of the county committee, and Mr. Haskins declined to run, so the committee hit upon one Nathan Frank, an attorney, and he consented to make the fight for the Democrats.

Among the First District as another example of rivalry in the Congressional districts, Congressman Kent, Dem.-Independent, is having a difficult struggle to convince his constituents that he should be re-elected. Chairman Campbell of the Democratic State Central Committee tried to get by with an indorsement of Kent, but he was spurned, and turned hard. Campbell holds a Federal office by the kindness of Kent, and when he suggested that Kent be turned Steve Costello, Mrs. A. Campbell and others sat upon him. Kent is accused of being no Democrat, of having opposed Wilson two years ago and supported Roosevelt. The only supporter Campbell had in the committee was Louis H. Mooser, who is a candidate for a regional bank office.

The Democrats in the First have made it pretty clear to Congressman Kent that they would much rather have a Republican elected than a man who has flirted with all three parties and has been true to none. Edward Hart is the Republican candidate and as the registration is overwhelmingly in his favor, he will probably defeat Kent, as the "Progressives" seem to have no more show than a one-legged flapjoster in a typhoon. I. G. Newhall, who tried twice to beat Kent in the race and out, and then again. He may be in and he may not. No one can tell.

The registration in the Second gives the Republicans a book strength of 31,000, the Democrats, 14,882, and the "Progressives" 5316. Congressman Kent will have a strong opponent in the Republican candidate, who is expected to be in the field today.

In the Third District Congressman Curry is looked upon as a winner again. The district is largely Republican.

Congressman Julius Kahn is regarded as winner in the Fourth District, which embraces a part of San Francisco, and so far no serious opposition has cropped out. Henry C. Colombat is circulating petitions and William F. Humphrey, president of the Olympic Club, may yet enter the race.

In the Fifth District Congressman Nolan, "Progressive," is seeking renomination by the aid of a second petition for Republican indorsement. Stephen V. Costello, Democrat, who was beaten by Nolan two years ago, is being urged to try again, and Henry Eickhoff has been asked to seek the Democratic nomination.

The hottest Congressional war in the State centers in the Sixth District, now represented by Congressman Knowland, who aspires to be United States Senator. The Democrats are grooming W. H. Brunk, Berkeley, who is likely to decline, and J. J. McDonald of Alameda. The "Progressives" got into a row that has not yet been smoothed out by the steam roller. The "Progressive" machinists started Judge William R. Geary of Oakland, then John W. Stetson, and to make matters still more complicated, C. C. Young, the professional explainer of the sloppy primary law, announced himself as a candidate. Young was former Speaker of the House. At the height of it all, J. Arthur Elston of Berkeley was selected by the temperamental leaders. Stetson flopped out. Young said he would have to get out and Judge Geary took a slant at the dictum of the party leaders and said he guessed he had had enough.

All the while Philip M. Walsh of Oakland was waiting for the cat to hop before he decided which way he would point his ambition. At first he was going to seek the Attorney-Generalship as a Republican. Then he cast about from his Oakland law office and decided to go to Congress from the Sixth to fill the ample shoes of Congressman Knowland. Meanwhile, Republicans of the Sixth have considered others, among them being Mayor Frank K. Mott, Victor H. Metcalf, former Secretary of the Navy, and former Mayor W. R. Davis of Oakland. Dr. George H. Derrick has been in the race several weeks and has a good organization. Walter W. Cooley of Alameda, long an active Republican, has a big organization furthering his candidacy.

In the Seventh District the Democrats say they are going to re-elect Congressman Church. This prophecy may be upset by Joseph P. Bernard of Fresno, as a Republican, or by W. B. Buckner, who may run. Assemblyman Sutherland might have found favor among Republicans except for the fact that he is tarred with the Johnson stick.

In the Eighth District Congressman Hayes, Republican, has a cinch on the renomination. The Republican registration in the Eighth is away over that of the "Progressives" and Democrats combined. L. D. Bohnett, who prides himself on his participation in the framing and passage of the primary law, made the mistake of his young career when he bragged about it in his district. He is running as a "Progressive" and the voters don't take kindly to anyone who helped put the rotten law over.

Skipping Los Angeles county and going into the Eleventh, we find Congressman "Bill" Kettner struggling hard to hold his Washington assignment. The Republicans so far outnumber the Democrats and "Progressives" in the Eleventh that there is hardly a chance of Congressman Kettner succeeding himself. J. C. Needham, former Congressman, and a staunch Republican, is making friends all over the district. He will have no trouble landing the nomination, it is said, although former Mayor Grant Coward, formerly a "Progressive" and now a Republican, says he will make a fight. The fight in the district will be between Kettner and Needham. Col. Ed Fletcher declined to be a victim, at the invitation of the "Progressives."

Summing it all up, the Republicans have a splendid chance to send back a majority to Congress.

By the way, has anyone heard from Theodore Bell?

W. Ona Morton is considering an invitation to run for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant-Governor. John C. Wray, Frank D. Haddock and other Democrats waited upon Morton yesterday. They reminded him of the good race he had made for Congress in the Tenth four years ago and made him listen while they told him he is a splendid orator and a tried and proven Democrat, and can get the votes if any Democrat can. Morton is a Hall man, but would run independently of any combination.

It used to be said that "Politics makes strange bed-fellows," but that won't be considered ladylike in this campaign.

THE WATCHMAN.

DIXIE WANTS HER PARENTS.

Has Never Spoken Their Names Nor Heard Their Voices—Left at County Hospital.

Dixie Russell, now 6 years of age, has never spoken her mother's or father's name, and has never heard their voices. A month ago yesterday she had her last sight of her parents, and yesterday the police department instituted a search for them.

June 1 a man and woman drove up to the County Hospital, taking the girl with them. They said they were Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Russell, No. 442 Howard street. They wanted the child treated for a minor affection. During the time they were at the hospital they appeared lab ring under some repressed excitement. They promised to call again the next day. The next day passed without a visit to the girl, and the alleged parents have not been seen since. Two letters addressed to the number they gave have been returned.

Yesterday a woman saying she was the mother telephoned to the hospital and asked how the girl was faring, and was told that she had been ready for removal for three weeks. The hospital attendant then asked for the name of the woman, but her only answer was to hastily hang up the receiver.

MORPHINE PROVES FATAL.

After surgeons at the Receiving Hospital had battled for hours in efforts to save his life, Albert Carter, a chauffeur 21 years of age, died yesterday afternoon from morphine poisoning. A search of the records showed that Carter had been convicted of using both cocaine and morphine. His death is attributed to an overdose, taken either accidentally or by intent.

Extreme, Not to Say Intolerant.

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] There seems to be among many Americans considerable sympathy with the objections by a minority of the people of Ulster to home rule, a sort of unexpressed belief that the fears that they will be oppressed by the Catholic majority when home rule becomes a fact, have some reasonable grounds. Nine out of ten Americans who share this view are under the vague impression that at some time in the remote past the Catholic majority of Ireland has grievously oppressed the Protestant minority, and that the Carsonites are determined that this shall not happen again.

Exactly the opposite is the fact. For 500 years the Ulster majority ruled Ireland, ruled it cruelly, brutally, unmercifully. For 300 years a Catholic had no more political power than a negro in the South before the war. Priests were hunted like wolves, in fact, a price was paid for the head of a priest as for the ears of a wolf; Catholics were robbed, plundered and oppressed in an infinite number of ways. This period ending in 1821, the period of the penal laws, is as great a disgrace to the Protestant Ulsterites as the inquisition is to the Catholic Church.

The Irish Catholic has never shown in all his history any sign of religious intolerance. Twice in the history of Ireland he was in the saddle, and on those occasions he always invited the Protestant minority to an equal share in the government with himself. As the Irish poet, De Vere, sings:

"We, too, had our day—it was brief;
It is ended.
When a king dwelt among us, no strange king but ours,
When the shout of a people delivered ascended,
And shook the broad banner that hung on his towers.

"How fared it that season, our lords and our masters
In that spring of our freedom, how fared it with you?
Did we trample your faith; did we mocked your disasters?
We restored but his own to the leal and the true.

"Ye had fallen, 'twas a season of tempest and trouble.
But against ye we drew not the knife ye had drawn,
In the war field we met, but your prelates and nobles
Stood up 'mid our senate in ermine and lawn."

The cry that "home rule" means "Rome rule" is utterly untrue. There is not a single fact in history to support it. The Catholic Irishman has never been an ultramontane. O'Connell, the great liberator, when ordered from Rome to cease his agitation, replied in the immortal words that today echo in millions of Irish hearts all over the world,

"I will take my religion from Rome, but not my politics."

Today there are over a dozen of the home-rule members who are Protestants and are elected from constituencies that are almost entirely Catholic, while the ablest and most prominent among the leaders of the Irish people in their struggle for home rule have been Protestants.

It is true as a correspondent of yours recently states that conditions have improved in Ireland during the last twenty years. For this we can by no means give any credit to the Ulster members, but to the home-rule contingent in Parliament, who had to fight for every one of them.

The home rule question can be expressed in a few words: For 700 years England has tried to make the Irishman into an Englishman and she has failed. She has recognized her failure and is now ready to let him remain an Irishman.

Ten years from now there will be no more loyal and enthusiastic supporters of home rule than the Ulster Irishmen. Carson and his volunteers are a joke, and will go down to history as such.

FRANK M'CARSON.

Our Peanut Fourth.

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] If we were deliberately trying to breed a race of milksops, the most ingenious inventor could not devise a better way than what our denatured effeminates call "A Sane and Safe Fourth." The wisdom of the world is slowly, but surely turning toward universal peace—but if any nation turns toward national poltroonery, there never will be universal peace.

Patriotism, does not depend on noise—but neither does youth depend on desicated, impotent standards. Perhaps youth ought not to like noise, nor love, nor haste, nor venture; but when it does not love them, it will be no longer youth, but a dastard thing, which becomes senile when it should be in flower.

It is true that many foolish children get hurt with the old-fashioned Fourth. Naturally, old women of both sexes can see only one little boy or girl with a finger burnt or an eye put out as against the whole temperamental education of a people of 100,000,000 individuals. And so they have impressed their sappy sentiments until we have a peanut Fourth of July.

It is easy to understand their mental processes—which are without a friction of thought. But it is wonderful to observe that what is probably the majority of the still sane and virile men and women, are placidly allowing such a robbery of one of the finer privileges of youth. It may be that our present laws are made in accordance with our present fortune—by a people who have no children and who have forgotten that they were once children themselves.

A "Safe and Sane Fourth" indeed! How about safe and sane streets? Fifty times as many people are killed and injured by automobiles, street cars and other vehicles every year in the United States are were ever injured or killed by the crudest and most youthful Fourth of July. Why not abolish everything except foot traffic, and have things safe and sane on our highways?

More people are drowned every year than were hurt in ten years of honest American "Fourths." Why not abolish water? Ladies could have their bathing suits on the sand, but not be allowed to get them wet—and I presume this is what we shall come to under our Progressives.

Ten times as many people of all ages are killed and maimed by fire as have been damaged by all the Fourths of July since 1776. Why not pass an ordinance to forbid the use of gas, gasoline, matches or fire in any other form? The people who have put these cowardly and foolish and unscientific and unpatriotic restrictions upon us might have to drink their tea cold. But that would suit the temperature of their blood—and it is much more important that the young people should keep their blood warm in the time when it is due to be so.

The pusillanimous fear that some child will get hurt if it plays, or will dirty its clothes if it gets out on the breast of Mother Earth, is, perhaps, no more satiric a reflection of some tendencies of our modern life than the only other objection that is urged against the real Fourth—namely, the noise.

If we have come to the time when we cannot stand at least occasional noise, let's put to sea or take to the desert. Children make noise with their feet—tie their feet up. They shout and sing and jabber. Sew their mouths up. The mocking birds keep awake at night the class of people that are worried by children and Fourths of July—kill the mocking birds.

Musicians make noise agreeable to them and to some of their audience, but troublesome to the grouches next door—pass an ordinance against pianos, horns, violins and singing. The trains rumble and whistle—abolish trains, and let our immigrants walk in. Our electric cars are a matchless system of transit, but they make an awful rumble—cut them out. It is not far to walk from Sixth and Main to Covina.

Church bells and noon whistles and all these other things also disturb the minds of those that have none, and the nerves of those that have nothing else.

In the name of all the gods at once, let's call a halt on this obsession of degeneracy, cowardice, brainlessness, unpatriotism, and try to get back at least a little way toward a really sane view of life, in which even the Fourth of July is not only a mile post, but also an indication of these—of our spirit and our manliness.

Midweek.

NEW MUSICAL COMEDY NEXT.

"The Money Getters" Coming to Morosco Next Week.

Percy Bronson and Winnie Baldwin at Orpheum.

New Offerings at "Pop" and Film Houses.

There will be but seven more performances at the Morosco of the "Gaiety production of "The Isle of Bong Bong," which will conclude its three weeks' run with the performance Sunday night.

Beginning next Tuesday night at the Morosco the Gaiety organization will present for the first time on any stage the new farce with music, "The Money Getters."

"The Money Getters" is from the pen of Waldemar Young of San Francisco. It has been rehearsed and prepared at the Morosco under the personal direction of Walter Lawrence, and it is announced as a real summery production with a good plot and a wealth of musical features, specialties and big chorus numbers.

Briefly, the story tells of a bright young man in New York who has more debts than he knows what to do with, and he is constantly dodging creditors who are trying to get a little of their money, or else he is seeking new fields to conquer. There are two pretty love stories running through the play.

The cast will be headed by Frances Cameron, Will H. Sloan and Walter Lawrence, who will all have important parts in the new production. Others are Louise Orth, Arthur Clough, Maude Beatty, Jack Pollard, Willard Lewis, Lew Dunbar, little Bud Duncan and Marion Rochester. The chorus will include more than fifty, and the costuming, stage investiture and all properties will be entirely new throughout. The musical department will be under the direction of William Lorraine.

Burbank.

"Bought and Paid For" is proving one of the most popular offerings of the Burbank for this year.

This George Broadhurst story of the poor American girl who married the rich business man and refused to be controlled by his display of wealth but insisted upon living for the better things of life, has had a powerful appeal upon the American public for the past five seasons, and is attracting unusual attention at the Burbank.

Forrest Stanley as the financier, Selma Paley as the girl, Grace Travers, Walter Catlett, Beatrice Nichols and James K. Applebee and George Rand are presenting "Bought and Paid For," and their efforts have resulted in a most enjoyable production.

Orpheum.

This is the last week at the Orpheum of Eddie Foy and the seven little Foys—a fact deeply to be regretted by all who love clean, bright fun. But it is good news to be able to record that Valeska Suratt and her temperamental grotic, "Black Crepe and Diamonds," sketch stays another week, beginning the coming Monday. Miss Suratt will again headline the bill, but in popular interest will share honors with a little Jap, Tameo Kajiyama, a handwriting marvel such as the world has never seen. Tameo writes with either hand, or both; he writes upside down, end to end, up and down, backwards, any old way that is suggested; he writes two words, alternating the letters, reversing one set; he writes different words with either hand at the same time, and lets you pick his words. He does marvels and is looked upon as a scientific wonder.

Two next week will bring Percy Bronson and Winnie Baldwin back, with some new picking from song and dance land; both are great local favorites, and Percy is a fashion plate in life. Willette Whitaker, with F. Wilbur Hill, in a series of negro dialect exemplifications, will display her skill as an imitator, as well as her musical qualities—and Mr. Hill's, also. McMahon, Diamond and Clemence will bring back their scarecrow dance, well remembered as a feature of the Bernhardt tours. Besides Miss Suratt, the new bill will retain Walter de Leon and Muggins Davies in their new act, "In Reel Life," Jim Cullen, and Stelling and Revell.

Mason.

Richard Bennett and his co-workers in "Damaged Goods" will positively close their engagement at the Mason the coming Saturday night. Despite the warm interest in this sociological play, and the intense discussion aroused by it, Mr. Bennett is anxious for a rest, and will refuse a further stay. There will be performances every night this week, with the final matinee on Saturday.

After Mr. Bennett closes his stay the Mason will enter upon its summer vacation, to be broken at intervals, however, as special engagements are announced from time to time.

Majestic.

Mme. Mimi Aguglia's engagement at the Majestic Theater is proving to be one of the most notable of the season. The remarkable versatility of this astonishingly clever actress has been abundantly demonstrated through her presentation of a number of widely-varying characterizations. It is evident, however, that her greatest success has been achieved in the tragic roles of her repertoire, and in arranging her programme for next week, the last of her engagement, Mme. Aguglia will be seen in "The Daughter of Jurio," "Salome," "Malia" and "The Schemer's Supper."

This evening "La Cenne delle Beffe" (The Schemer's Supper) will be given for the first time in this city. It is said to be one of the strongest plays in the repertoire of Aguglia. The Wednesday matinee having been abandoned this week in order that the strength of the players might not be overtaxed during the first week of their engagement here, "Salome" and "The Glove," which had been announced as a double bill for that afternoon, will be given Friday night. For the Saturday matinee "The Daughter of Jurio" is announced, and Saturday night we are to see Mme. Aguglia in the familiar but compelling "Camille."

Empress.

Manager Worley for his headline attraction on the coming week's bill, which opens at the Empress Theater next Monday afternoon, with the regular matinee, has secured Onaip, the scientific sensation. "Onaip" will well be remembered by the Empress patrons from the sensation that he caused on his former visits to this city, when he played his first engagement at the Empress. He proved to be one of the greatest puzzles of the season by his uncanny control of a heavy upright piano and its player, upside down or half way around, the player kept right on playing while the piano kept revolving. "Onaip" will no doubt prove as great a sensation as he did on his earlier visit, as no one as yet has ever been able to solve or figure out how the trick is done.

Other features on the forthcoming week's bill will be, The Scandalous Scamps, two Georges, the inebriate and the ballboy; the distinguished Irish comedy star, Tom Nawn, and his company, in "Pat and the Genii;" winsome and winning Mary Gray, the waltz girl; the melody monarchs, Raithskeller trio, three voices and a piano, while the always new and first-run Keystone comedies complete the bill.

Pantages.

The Pantages producing department has been working overtime recently with the result that two new acts were offered two weeks ago on the same programme at San Francisco. These were "Smithy and the Eel" and "The Love Chase." Of the two, Mr. Pantages selected "Smithy" as the better, and will send it to Los Angeles at the head of the show opening here next Monday matinee.

"Smithy" and his finny friend are supported by a cast including Dalrymple, Pat's chauffeur, a character; Miss Georgia Townley, and Miss Georgia's maid, and a policeman. This latter character is not a moving picture cop, but an honest-to-goodness officer, who gets what he goes after, be it fisherman or fish.

Four other standard Pantages acts make up the body of the show, and as an added attraction come Clayton and Lennie, the happy chappie and his dunderhead English friend, with the moustache and cane, who created a genuine comedy sensation at Pantages last season.

Hippodrome.

A whole cluster of delightful features are promised by Manager Fountain for the Hippodrome next week. In fact, it will be an all-headline affair if ever there was one.

There will be, for example, the MacKinnon Twins, two remarkably clever English girls, and Peter Lawrence and company will present a classic in slang, called "The Fresh Freshman."

Jane O'Roark and Broderick O'Farrell will present their best tabloid drama, "The Devil," which is said to be fully as intense as its name implies, and Raymond, the juggler, has a novelty which has been pronounced well worth while.

Max Fisher, who this week is scoring so heavily with his ragtime violin, will be held over with a new repertoire, while Jack and George, aptly described as "the two nuts," are due to supply real hilarity.

The big feature act, and one in which the children are sure to take infinite delight, is Howard's bears and dogs, an animal act of real merit. Of course, there will be the usual complement of motion pictures, too.

Republic.

The popularity of Armstrong's Baby Dolls has been of such volume this week that by popular request they will be held over for a second week as headliners of seven acts of first-class Bert Levey vaudeville.

They will present a sensational new production, "October Eve," said to be a sister piece to the famous "September Morn." In this the baby dolls are given ample opportunity to display their shapeliness. Paul Chabas, the painter of "September Morn," is the hero of the musical comedy. He comes to a summer resort to paint a companion piece, "October Eve," and is desirous of finding a suitable model.

New songs and plenty of new comedy will be introduced. Ed Armstrong and Lew Dunbar are the leading comedians, George Henry the juvenile lead, Honora Hamilton the prima donna and Hazel Wilson, soubrette.

Other acts on the bill include the Howard sisters in a musical novelty turn; both are comely lassies and are versatile musicians. Mac O'Neill is a Scotch comedian of note who will appear; O. B. Wise is billed as a chalk-talk entertainer; the Dallas comedy four will furnish another musical comedy act; Lasky's Hoboes will appear as a comic novelty and the Hearst Selig weekly and comedy first-run motion pictures will complete the bill.

Clune's Auditorium.

"The Jungle" has taken hold of Los Angeles as only a strong drama can. The great story by Upton Sinclair, which has caused a furore of excitement at Clune's Auditorium this week, cannot be held over and Saturday will close to make way for Hall Caine's mighty story, "The Christian." Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock all ministers and prominent newspaper men of Los Angeles are invited to attend a private exhibition of the film drama. This is a story of interest to the men who guide the world. Kathlyn Williams's pretty story of the African jungle preceeds Upton Sinclair's production this week.

Clune's Broadway.

Mt. Lassen will erupt all this week at Clune's Broadway Theater in motion pictures taken at great risk on the rim of the crater. It is the tenth, eleventh and twelfth eruptions of the volcano that the camera has registered. These explosions were the most furious of all. The pictures are most spectacular and were made at great hardship to the photographers. The film, after being shown at the Broadway, will be sent to the geological institution. A government agent who accompanied the camera man declared that Mt. Lassen will be another Mt. Vesuvius. The crater is constantly enlarging and is now 400 feet long and 100 feet wide. The heat is rising each day.

There will be big film dramas and comedies as usual, with the splendid Clune music, but the sensation is the first showing here of California's volcano, which has the eyes of the world.

Tally's Broadway.

Following "The Valley of the Moon," Jack London's great story in motion pictures, which will end a highly successful week at Tally's Broadway Theater on Sunday night, comes another great photoplay feature that should prove equally successful. That captivating little star, Hazel Dawn, who made such a decided hit in the title role of "The Pink Lady" this season, is to be seen for the first time in motion pictures next Monday in the famous international romance, "One of Our Girls."

Miller's.

For the balance of the week, including Sunday, Miller's Theater offers the wonderful five-reel production, "Protea," as the headline attraction. This unique, daring, sensational, thrilling motion picture is without doubt the most unusual attraction ever shown in Los Angeles. The spectator is carried through a succession of thrills and surprises, changes of costume, rapid and startling, and feats of skill and daring that keep him gasping with expectancy.

The management booked this picture after receiving reports of its wonderful success in San Francisco, where it broke all attendance records at the great Tivoli Theater for weeks. Good comedies and the latest news in motion views complete the offering.

Woodley Theater.

"Captain Alvarez" a Broadway star feature in five reels direct from the Vitagraph theater New York, where it has scored a greater success than "A Million Bid," comes to the Woodley theater for a full week, beginning with the matinee Monday, and it is believed that it will repeat its New York success.

For the past sixty days the picture has drawn record crowds to the Vitagraph theater where the prices range from 25 cents to one dollar admission.

It is admittedly Edith Storey's greatest success in spite of the fact that this popular actress of the Vitagraph forces has been starred in nearly all of the Vitagraph's largest productions. Miss Storey recently crossed the continent to the Santa Monica studios where the picture was produced in order to work under the instructions of director Sturgeons.

The plot of the story revolves around a young American who goes to South America as a representative of vested interests and there meets, loves and wins the daughter of the Minister of War, the central figure in the turbulent South American republic.

Casting his fortunes in with the insurrectos, the young American assumes the name Captain Alvarez and performs such deeds of daring as not only to win the hand of the senorita but to wrest the government from the hands of the tyrant. The production is taken from the book by Paul Gilmore, which was first dramatized by H. S. Sheldon.

LAURA JEAN LIBBEY TALKS HEART TOPICS.

Can a Man Love Twice?

"'Tis said that absence conquers love;
But oh, believe it not!
I've tried, alas! It's power to prove,
But thou art not forgot."

This is the question which a young girl asks me in her letter. No wonder she is skeptical. Could a philosopher answer her in the affirmative or not on this most subject, especially as the hearts of some men are cold and immovable, iron-bound, as it were, responding to but one affection, while others are of the elastic or omnibus sort—always room for one more.

Some believe that love should last forever. Those who have watched its vagaries know that there is nothing in this world so ephemeral as the tender passion. Whether it be a transient or permanent guest depends not on the person, but on circumstances.

A man may be infatuated with a fair girl, see nothing but the roseate side of her disposition in escorting her to places of amusement or in moonlight strolls, during which time she is giving him her sweetest smiles and attention. If perchance she is a creature fickle of heart and throws him over for a more desirable man, the discovery of her mercenary trait kills the love in his heart, root and branch, at one fell blow. If he meets another woman, after time, who has the good traits which the first one did not possess, his admiration and respect may warm into love.

The second love is entirely different from the first. It is founded on the rock of judgment. No two loves are exactly alike, even in the breast of the same man. Even the man who has loved well and been bereft by that hand which none can stay may feel the warmth of love's tendrils once again in a heart which he believed could never know happiness again.

Some woman's kindliness and sympathy can plant a new seed in his heart no matter how long it has lain fallow. It may not possess the warmth and exuberance of youth or even the glow of middle life, but it will be love just the same, though its quality takes on more of the nature of dignified contentment.

Unwise is the woman who would probe her lover's heart to discover how many loves it has held. As long as she is the last love, she should consider that all former courtships were unsatisfying. Flames quickly started are soon burned out, leaving not even amber capable of being rekindled.

The younger the man, the more susceptible is he to what he supposes to be love. Unless he is of a certain turn of mind, he's apt to be on with the new love before he is off with the old. Because a man admits he has had a previous love, but states frankly that the old love is dead in his heart past all rekindling, he should not be doubted when he aspires to win the heart of another woman. With some men the second love is more precious.

MISS LIBBEY'S REPLIES TO THEIR LETTERS.

Address them to No. 918 Prestage street, Brooklyn, N. Y. Correct name and address must be given to insure attention.

Helping Her Out.

Dear Miss Libbey: I am a school girl of 14, and in a quandary. I want to recite a verse which tells about "Fortune taken at the flood," but cannot find it anywhere and I appeal to you to help me, if it is not asking too much—and also who wrote it, and in what book or selection it is to be found. I am sorry if I have put you to any trouble. BERTHA DAY.

The lines you ask for come from Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar," and are as follows:

"There is a tide in the affairs of men
Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune;
Omitted, all the voyages of their life
Is bound in shallows, and in miseries.
On such a full sea are we now afloat,
And we must take the current when it serves,
Or lose our ventures."

Sh! The Children Are Listening.

Dear Miss Libbey: I am a woman whose heart is seared with grief, and I am asking you for advice. I have four children, the youngest 9 and the eldest 14. My husband is cruel to me. He comes home sober but intensely abusive, for no reason on my part. He heaps curses and terrible names upon me until I turn like the worm and fight back, even though the children are there looking on and listening. Yesterday the children were playing with neighbors' children, and I overheard them all quarreling frantically. When I rushed out they all laughed, declaring they were only playing house. The eldest boy was playing he was "papa" and the youngest girl playing she was "me." I whipped them, but they were at the same game today. What can I do?

Your case is certainly a pitiful one. When next your husband commences warfare in the presence of your children, remind him that they are looking on and listening to words and a scene which they will never be able to forget. Should he continue, leave the room with dignity. If that is impossible, maintain a discreet silence. Your husband will find little satisfaction in having the quarrel all his own way and will soon subside. You must use great tact, my dear, to make home peaceful.

Are All Actresses Beautiful?

Dear Miss Libbey: Will you please tell me, if you know, whether all actresses are really beautiful, or is it all paint and rouge that makes them appear so. I would like to be on the stage, but I am not what you call really pretty. Do you think I would have any chance? I could do the best of reference as to my ability to speak lines. I took a course of elocution lessons. GERALDINE.

It is often amusing to learn the opinions young girls entertain of the requisites of stage life—and actresses in general. Generally speaking, most actresses have a pleasing face, and, in addition, a charming personality. They also have some presence and a patient adaptability to hard study—which is hard work.

It takes no small measure of talent to satisfy a critical public and secure them the verdict of being successful. Even the most noted have made small beginnings, however. No woman can forecast what she will be able to accomplish on the stage without experience.

This is a rather trying period with actresses. There are more actresses women seeking positions than there are places to fill. However, if you feel the call of the footlights so strongly you might try to secure a position as extra lady with your local manager. A fortnight will either destroy your hallucinations or plant the star spark hope more strongly in your breast.

Pasadena.

Burglars Load Themselves With Sport Goods.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, July 2.—Held fast to a sewing machine, the needle of which had pierced one of her fingers, and caught so that she could not release herself, Mrs. B. C. Chandler of No. 179 South Delacy street yesterday afternoon was sinking into a faint, when several workmen near by heard her shrieks and ran to her relief.

Had it not been for their assistance the accident might have been much more serious, as Mrs. Chandler, after calling once or twice, became too weak to summon aid, and she was alone in the house.

The men peered in at the window, and, seeing what was the matter, rushed into the house and released her. This was a painful proceeding. The needle was finally broken and her finger withdrawn from the machinery, but the largest piece of the steel remained imbedded in the flesh and had to be drawn out later by a physician, who was called.

GETTING USED TO IT.

The store of W. T. Hauser, a dealer in bicycles and sporting goods at No. 34 South Fair Oaks avenue, was burglarized for the third time Tuesday night. Patrolman Shelton early yesterday morning discovered that the glass in a rear door had been broken, and, upon investigating, found that the store had been ransacked.

Among the articles taken were 10,000 rifle cartridges, eight flashlights, a pair of boxing gloves, a pedometer, two knapsacks, some knives, a water bag and some batteries. Hauser estimates that his loss is about $200.

The police believe that the store was robbed by boys and that they have probably gone into the mountains with the plunder.

WANTS IT CHANGED.

If the advice of Chief of Police McIntyre is taken the city ordinance governing the sale of fireworks in Pasadena will be amended before another Fourth rolls around, so that it will be unlawful for merchants to sell fireworks at all. As it is now, there is no law against the sale of fireworks, but it is unlawful for the children to make use of them. The result is that store windows are piled full of fireworks and firecrackers, and the country children are paying daily visits to the city and making purchases, while all the city kids can do is to stand by and look on.

"I do not think," the Chief said yesterday, "that we should have an ordinance which snabjes merchants to sell firecrackers, but which prevents the children from using them."

The recommendation made by Building Inspector Shaver that the children be roped in and given area in Arroyo Springs Park the morning of the Fourth and there be permitted to shoot firecrackers under the supervision of the police was not adopted. Three of the City Commissioners were in favor of the plan, but the other two opposed it, and so no such provision has been made. The Fourth of July here will be a "sane Fourth," just as have been the last few preceding it.

CITY BRIEFS.

Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, who went East about a month ago to attend the biennial convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs at Chicago, where she spoke, is expected home this afternoon. She is president of the Woman's Civic League of Pasadena.

John B. Miller, president of the Southern California Edison Company, who returned to America a short time ago after an extended trip abroad, is expected to arrive in Pasadena at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Miller, their daughter, Miss Thila Miller, and son, Theodore, went on to New York to meet him, and are returning with him.

H. L. Perkins of No. 352 Worcester avenue clung to a moving Short Line Pacific Electric train yesterday and allowed it to drag him for over fifty feet to save falling under the wheels. He attempted to board the train while it was in motion, and it could not be stopped any sooner.

The banquet that the Board of Trade will give tonight at Alpine Tavern on Mt. Lowe will be largely attended, and promises to be a fitting close to the series of banquets and luncheons of the organization for the season. They will be resumed again next winter.

QUARTERMASTER RESIGNS PLACE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOLDIERS' HOME, July 1.—The beginning of a fiscal year is invariably attended by a number of changes, official and otherwise. First among them is the going of Capt. J. W. Barr, quartermaster, after nineteen years continuous service in the National Home. He goes today on a thirty-days' leave of absence, with pay, his resignation to be effective July 31. His successor is Capt. M. S. Murray, U.S.A. (retired,) the present commissary of subsistence.

Capt. Barr was first employed here in 1895 as secretary to Col. J. G. Rowland, second Governor of this branch. Accompanying the latter when transferred as Governor to the Western Branch at Leavenworth in 1898, Capt. Barr remained there until his appointment as quartermaster of this branch in 1908. Upon taking over affairs in the quartermaster's office, he found them in chaotic condition. In the six years he has held office he has brought such system and order to the various working departments under his supervision, as to make an easier beginning for his successor.

Other changes are, the appointment of J. T. Williams, veteran of Civil War, as builder and draughtsman, vice Alonzo Sweet, resigned; J. C. Katow, Spanish War veteran, as foreman plumber, vice Grossman, resigned, and Mrs. J. A. Madden of Los Angeles appointed stenographer to the quartermaster, vice Miss Grohe, resigned.

HOME BURNS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MONROVIA, July 1.—A fire, supposed to have originated from the cooking stove, destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Larson, two miles south of Monrovia, yesterday. Neighbors, seeing the blaze, ran to the Larsons' assistance, but the only water to be had was in an irrigating ditch some distance away, and the frame house went like tinder. In trying to get out some of their furniture and valuable papers, Mr. Ryan and his son were severely burned.

DEATH IS ECHO OF EMPIRE DAY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, July 1.—Though more than a year has passed since the Empire Day disaster, that has involved the city in extensive litigation, Mrs. Hannah Clarbour, No. 626 Magnolia avenue, a victim of the accident, passed away today from injuries received at that time.

Mrs. Clarbour, who was 77 years of age, was among the first to fall when seats gave way. A heavy man fell on her, injuring her knee and causing internal hurts. She had been lame since and only a few days ago complications caused by the internal hurts became acute.

She was not among the hundreds who brought suit against the city. She was a member of the Friends sect and was deterred by religious reasons.

The deceased was a native of England and had resided here for twenty years. Two daughters, Mrs. John Sneal and Miss Emily Clarbour, live in Long Beach; a son, John C. Clarbour, in Los Angeles; another son, Arthur Clarbour, in Chicago, and a daughter, Mrs. Kate Perris, in Oregon.

The funeral will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon from the residence.

COMMITTEE OUT WITH PETITION IN "SHOESTRING."

Site Selected for Ten-Thousand-Dollar Structure; Teachers and Pupils Enlisted in Campaign—New Association Is Formed to Secure Paving of Vermont Avenue.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GARDENA, July 1.—Determined to have a $10,000 library erected in Gardena within the next few months, a special committee representing the Chamber of Commerce, Parent-Teacher Association and the Women's Wednesday Progressive Club is circulating a petition in the shoestring strip for signatures and requesting special donations from the citizens living in the "off section" of Gardena. The Central Committee is composed of Prof. Robert J. Teal, Peter Robertson and Peter Hanson.

The general working committees held a meeting Monday night and voted to buy the Sayre tract of land, located on East Palm avenue, for the site of the new library. Citizens living in the strip are signing the petition requesting the City Council to form an assessment district. School pupils and teachers are taking an active part in the campaign.

A special meeting of citizens will be called some time this week to discuss a co-operative plan in obtaining donations from private individuals.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

The Vermont-Avenue Improvement Association was formed last night by members of the Manchester Improvement Association, Woodcrest Improvement Association, West Athens Improvement Association and the Gardena Improvement Association, at a co-operative meeting held in the West Athens Hall. The object of the new association is to make a solid fight to have Vermont avenue properly paved from Los Angeles through Gardena.

The Gardena Chamber of Commerce has been very active in bringing about road and street improvements in this vicinity during the last few months and the entire city was gratified today when Los Angeles city workmen arrived and began work on certain streets in the shoestring strip.

Four blocks of fifteen-foot concrete sidewalks in the business district and nearly twenty blocks in the residence district of Gardena were completed by contractors early this week. Contracts have been let for several blocks more of concrete walk in the residence section.

One hundred and thirty-nine forty-watt street lights were installed in the residence section this week. Los Angeles city has appropriated enough funds to put twenty-five new lights in the shoestring strip side of the town.

Removal notice: The California Title Guarantee Company has moved from 329 West Third street to 315 West Fifth street, ground floor, main entrance of Metropolitan building.—[Advertisement.

GREAT FOURTH CELEBRATION.

Elaborate Pageants Picture Country's History.

Ocean Park Committee Votes Change of Name.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN DIEGO, July 1.—Commencing tonight with the opening of Liberty Trail on Broadway, where King Carnival will rule, and continuing until early Sunday morning, San Diego will celebrate the Glorious Fourth with the most elaborately-planned celebration in the history of the city. Gorgeous pageants depicting incidents of American history, from the discovery by Columbus to the present day, brilliant spectacles on the bay at night, a monster old-fashioned Fourth of July parade and exercises, water sports, a twenty-round boxing match, and a carnival each day and night are included in the programme, conceived and carried out by members of the Order of Panama.

The floats, costumes, fireworks and decorations will cost more than $16,000. A thousand persons in elaborately-planned costumes will take part in the pageants. For weeks prominent business and professional men and society women have given up all of their time to preparation for the big three-day event. Old chests have been ransacked for Colonial costumes stored away for years, artists have been engaged in designing floats and costumes under the guidance of Dr. W. W. Kimball, master of pageants, and flower gardens for miles around have been stripped of their blossoms.

Tomorrow at 10 o'clock the first gorgeous pageant will be seen. It will consist of twelve floats, depicting early Indian and Colonial history. Lief Ericson, with a number of Vikings on the first visit of Europeans to America will be represented in the first float, the discovery of the Pacific by Balboa, the landing of the Pilgrims, and home life of the early settlers are to be shown with faithful detail.

A second pageant will be seen tomorrow at 2 o'clock, a Revolutionary parade. Commencing with "The Spirit of 1776," and taking in many events of Colonial history, the pageant will include some 300 men and fifty women in costume. In the evening a reproduction of the Boston Tea Party will be given on the bay. A vessel representing the Gasper will be moored to the wharf and men disguised as Indians will seize the chests of tea and empty them overboard. The firing of the ship will be most spectacular.

The third historical pageant will be given Friday morning and will be in two sections, representing the period of 1542 to 1848 and the more recent California history, beginning with the raising of the Bear flag. The evolution of the steamboat from the Claremont, the Fulton steamboat, to the Imperator, the modern floating palace, will be shown in miniature.

Friday evening a spectacular reproduction of the naval battle between Le Bon Homme Richard and the Serapis will be given on the bay. John Paul Jones, commander of Le Bon Homme Richard, will be impersonated by M. M. Moulton and T. H. Tracy, as Sir Richard Pierson, will command the Serapis.

The big Fourth of July parade, which will require two hours to pass a given point, will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. It will be in six divisions and will include a military division with detachments of Coast Artillery, naval reserves, a semi-military division, a fraternal division, an elaborate floral division of fifty floral floats, an industrial division and a county division.

At noon, Hon. Charles A. McGee will deliver an oration from the steps of the Courthouse and Carl Heilbron will read the Declaration of Independence.

The afternoon will be devoted to water sports and the Capps-Watson boxing match. In the evening there will be an elaborate display of fireworks on the bay.

The committee in charge of the celebration is composed of A. J. Morganstern, Carl H. Heilbron, Duncan MacKinnon, T. H. Tracy, G. J. Champlin, Winfield Hogaboon, R. V. Dodge, C. A. Richardson, John A. Gillons, C. W. Holmquist, M. M. Moulton, Hugo Grosser, R. J. B. Goodbody, C. W. Fox, Dr. W. W. Kimball, Dr. Harvey N. Jackson and F. H. Wurster. Otto Jeancon is general secretary.

SANTA FE SHOP WORK INCREASED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, July 1.—Signalizing the opening of the fiscal year of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad Company, the big shops in this city today began a working schedule that shows a fifteen-hour increase per week over the running time in effect during the past three months. The 1000 mechanics will work fifty-five hours a week and in many of the departments it is announced that there will be material increases in forces. The annual "opening up," or the loosening of the strings of the company's expense purse, is general over the system. The increase will affect all departments, including the locomotive, coach, roundhouse and wheel shops. It is estimated that the pay roll for the coming month will total $180,000.

George Searles, veteran roundhouse foreman of the Santa Fe in this city, has resigned to accept a position as master mechanic of the Los Angeles division of the Salt Lake Railroad, the change being effective today. Searles will have headquarters at Las Vegas, Nev. Frank Kemplin, general machine foreman in the Santa Fe shops here, will succeed him.

LOSE PROPERTY TO KEEP AUTOS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, July 1.—According to the report of City Treasurer and Tax Collector Joseph Mullen, there were sold this week for delinquent taxes 449 parcels of property, amounting to $4117.30. Last year the total amount of property sold for taxes was $2335.26. It is said that some of the increase this year is attributable to the large number of automobiles in use here, quite a number of people having acquired them who cannot afford to own and operate them and thus let their other interests suffer.

The members of the City Council will sit as a board of equalization as soon as the Assessor has his annual estimate of the assessed property valuation of the city ready and it has been totaled by the City Clerk. Following the adjournment of the Council as a board of equalization will come the business of fixing the tax rate for the next year.

HILLS POPULAR.

With the special attention given to the canyon and mountain patrol to prevent fires and to improve conditions by Forest Ranger Frits, attached to the Angeles Forest Reserve, the popularity of the canyons north of this city as summer vacation retreats is gaining annually in favor. A number of local people have summer bungalows, including ex-Postmaster Avis, C. P. Bowen, K. K. Fritz and Harold Dewey, in Live Oak and Bear canyons. Among Angelenos who have cottages near Bear Canyon are the Pioneer Roll Paper Company, J. Clem Arnold and Deputy District Attorney Helms. Camp Baldy is already filling up and a busy season is anticipated. The camp fraternity and sorority houses of young men and women of Pomona College will house merry parties this summer in San Antonio Canyon.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, July 1.—Proved by the census of 1910 to be the fastest growing city in the United States, Long Beach keeps up its remarkable building record. The report of the building inspector for the fiscal year ending last night shows that $2,743,905 was spent for the erection and repair of structures of all kinds during the twelve months. This was the record year for this city with the exception of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913. The number of permits issued was 2019, mostly for residences of the better class. It is figured by the building inspector that Long Beach spent more per capita for residences last year than any other city in California.

The banks are in a prosperous condition, as shown by the report of interest and dividends paid to depositors and stockholders today. Interest to the amount of $61,938 was paid to patrons by the seven banks, and $36,000 in dividends went into the pockets of the stockholders. Not one failed to pay a dividend except the Marine Bank, which was opened only May 11. The deposits of the banks here as shown by the last statement were $7,734,115.

ANOTHER RESIGNATION?

Resignations and removals pile up on one another in Mayor Whealton's administration. Last night the City Council accepted the resignation of John G. Teeple as member of the Board of Public Works, and today it became known that City Engineer Ben F. Dupuy will probably present his resignation to the Council at the next regular meeting, Friday night. Dupuy is threatened with a cut in salary from $200 per month to $150. He says he will quit if his pay is reduced, and President James of the Board of Public Works is firm in a decision to make the cut.

The Council did not take kindly to the bills aggregating $2150 presented by Mayor Whealton, on account of the blind pig investigation. The Councilmen disallowed the bills, and those who labored and paid out money to convict one "sightless porker" will have to sue the city. Mrs. Cora M. Morgan tendered a bill for $1005.71 for stenographic services. Sam Browne wants $574.75 for services and expenses, and Mayor Whealton must have $579.45 for money he paid to sleuths.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, July 1.—While she was at play this afternoon, Josie Machado's dress caught fire at a bonfire, and she was burned literally from head to foot, hardly a space as large as her palm being left untouched by the flames. She will die. The girl is 10 years old. Her mother was so paralyzed by fright that she could not wrap the girl's torchlike body in a rug. Her father, a Mexican laborer, lives at No. 1306 West Third street, where the accident occurred.

FIGHT VERY PEACEFUL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, July 1.—Last night the council, meeting in committee of the whole, repealed certain clauses and sections of the new vocation tax ordinance, thereby acceding to the demands of the half-hundred merchants who had assembled there to bitterly fight the measure.

After hearing the merchants, through their committee of three, composed of S. L. Berkley, Robert White and E. F. Hanson, the members of the municipal body replied and adjourned to the anteroom for consideration. They acted on the requests of the petition submitted by the merchants, and returned with a report even better than the citizens demanded. While the council was out, the merchants got together and formed a committee headed by S. L. Berkley, which would work to demand the request in the case that the council did not grant it. What promised to be a big fight ended in a vote of thanks by the citizens.

BUILDING INCREASES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, June 30.—Building permits in Glendale for the month amount to nearly $40,000, more than three times the amount for last month, which, however, did not come nearly up to the general monthly average. For the month just ended thirty-two permits were granted, almost all of which were for the building of good houses. Several nice homes as well as a number of larger and handsome business buildings are contemplated for the very near future.

The lyric section of the Thursday Afternoon Club will hold a French fete July 9 in the gardens of the Tom C. Thornton home on Central avenue. A charming musical programme has been arranged, and cards and dancing will be other features of the pleasures planned.

HOLDS UP PETITIONS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, July 1.—City Clerk W. A. Anderson has filed an adverse report on the petitions for the recall of Trustees O. N. Tomlinson, W. J. Hess and E. T. Thompson on account of insufficient signatures. The petitioners are very wrathy over the stand taken by the clerk and accuse him of partizanship. Mr. Anderson contends that the 25 per cent. of the vote cast means, according to the decision of the City Attorney, 25 per cent. of all the votes cast for all the candidates, whereas the petitioners contend that the law explicitly states that it means 25 per cent. of the total vote cast at the last municipal election.

The petitioners through their attorney, Oscar Horn, applied to the courts today asking mandamus proceedings to compel the City Clerk to render a full and complete report of the reason why the petitions were deemed insufficient. As the other side have ten days to answer, nothing will be done until that time.

WAGON INJURES BOY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OCEAN PARK, July 1.—Russell E. Buck, a 7-year-old boy, was seriously injured this morning on Breeze avenue when he was run down by a wagon driven by David E. Ready. The lad was playing in the street with other boys and did not notice the approach of the vehicle and although the driver called a warning, and tried to draw up his team, it was too late.

The injured boy was taken to the Van Dyke apartments where Dr. Sands attended him. As one wheel passed over his body, he is in a precarious condition, and may have a possible fracture of the skull. In addition to the injury to his head he has several cuts and bruises.

STANDARD OIL PAYS TAX AFTER PROTEST.

SANTA ANA, July 1.—County Assessor James Sleeper was notified at 6 o'clock tonight that the Standard Oil Company, the heaviest taxpayer in Orange county, would deliver a check to him tomorrow for $62,736.43 in payment of its personal property taxes on the Emery and Murphy oil leases near Fullerton. The notification came to Mr. Sleeper after he had taken steps to force collection, the company having failed to make payment by today in accordance with Mr. Sleeper's ultimatum.

Mr. Sleeper had asked John D.'s corporation for the modest sum of $66,672.94. The agents paid $3,936.51 without protest, but declared that the assessment of $3,268,910 on the rest of its property in this county, upon which the tax was $62,736.43 was too high.

Mr. Sleeper gave the company until this morning to pay the tax. Today he reported the situation to District Attorney L. A. West and the two officials went to the Standard's property to pick out that upon which to levy an attachment tomorrow for the amount of the tax.

The Standard Oil Company's assessment in 1913 was comparatively small. A few months ago, however, the greatest well in the history of the oil industry was struck on the Emery lease at Fullerton. That well is credited with producing $500,000 worth of oil in four months. When that well was brought in as a huge gusher, the mineral rights in all nearby land went skyward.

Mr. Sleeper estimates that the mineral rights on the eighty acres on which the big well is located have jumped so high that an assessment of $2,560,000 is equitable. On the Murphy lease of 2240 acres, held by the Standard, Mr. Sleeper put an assessment of $708,910. These are the assessments that the Standard's agents decline to accept.

Mineral rights are personal property, and the taxes are payable at the time of the assessment, and not later than July 1. That is why Mr. Sleeper demanded immediate payment. He declares that the assessments are reasonable and fair, and because he thinks them reasonable and fair he stood pat.

STATE CONTROL OF ATHLETICS.

Plan Discussed by High School Teachers.

Silent Rule of Policies Declared Pernicious.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERKELEY, July 1.—The need of state commissioner of athletics, to whom all disputes could be referred and who could spread in a statewide way the newer plan which emphasizes general participation and love of sport, rather than victory and financial return, was voiced today at a session of the instructors of physical education at the State Convention of High School Teachers here.

From the discussion it is probable that a recommendation that a state supervisor of at least high school athletics will be made.

TO HOLD PAROCHICAL SCHOOL.

The control of athletics within the high school, said P. S. Rossiter, principal of the Fremont High School in Oakland, should be in the hands of the pupils. The school should be run on a democratic system which looks to the students the power to frame and put into effect the policies of the school or the idea of half-baked ideas shaping the policies of the pupils is to me pernicious."

WOULD GIVE ALL A CHANCE.

Recommendations tending toward the abolition of gate receipts, cups and medals, representative teams and competition with other schools were considered. It was held that a system which gave all the pupils an opportunity to make class or school teams was preferable to that of one where a small group of athletes were the only ones benefited.

DIFFICULT TO OVERCOME.

The difficulty in convincing the student body, alumni, townspeople, and often the high school board, was recognized as the handicap which must be overcome. In the smaller communities, where there are near-by rivals of established reputation such a plan as that of high school teams was declared impracticable.

"To produce upright men and women we must do away with the old system of athletics entirely," declared Gracy Van Voorhis, of the Berkeley High School, who then outlined the difficulties she had met with in installing the new system. "The student wants a team that he will cuss him all over the field for, but he also wants a winning team, and the boys wish victories, gold cups and big letters."

Possible remedies for the improvement of English as used in the schools and to promote a love for reading will be suggested by Benjamin P. Kurtz.

YOUTHFUL LOVERS ARRESTED.

Romantic Pair From Portland Intercepted at San Francisco En Route to San José.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 1.—Romance and a desire to travel were the lures that led Miss Lillian Schabert, 18 years old, and Edward Freeman, 19 years old, to flee from Portland and come to this city for the purpose of getting married. The youthful lovers were arrested today on advices from the Chief of Police of Portland as they were preparing to leave for San Jose, where it was their intention to become man and wife.

The flight from Portland began on the night of June 17, when Miss Schabert, in company with Freeman, attended the wedding of the former's sister, Barbara. While the festivities were at their height the couple quietly slipped away and took the train for this city.

Freeman said that his father, a prominent contractor and realty man of the northern city, had objected to his getting married.

FARING FORTH FOR A FIGHT.

Go to Pittsburgh to Capture Big Convention.

Carry Invitations from the Entire State.

The twenty or more members of the Los Angeles Realty Board who will leave this city tomorrow as delegates to the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges, to be held in Pittsburgh July 8 to 11, inclusive, will be given such a speeding by their fellow brokers and leading commercial and civic organizations as is accorded to warriors faring forth to battle.

The departing delegates are off for a fight, and they know it and the Realty Board knows it. The realty delegation from Seattle will play the role of foe, and the great prize in the conflict is the national convention of 1915.

Until a few months ago the Los Angeles board was blissfully secure in its belief that the coming of the big gathering of real estate men to this city during the exposition year was an assured fact. The local delegates to the 1913 convention at Winnipeg had obtained the actual promise of most of the representatives of the various boards of the United States and Canada to use their influence to secure the annual meeting for Los Angeles, and had become convinced that everything was over but the shouting. The news that the hustling city of the great northwest had entered the lists for the strongest fight in its power put a different complexion on things and startled the Los Angeles board into action.

BIG SEND-OFF

Like college men frenziedly cheering their team off to a championship contest with an opposing team that has unexpectedly developed an unsuspected and disconcerting strength, the Los Angeles Realty Board will be out in force to give its picked representatives a mighty send-off. Joined with the board in this demonstration of encouragement and hearty well-wishing, will be special committees from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, the Los Angeles Ad Club, the Rotary Club, the local newspapers, the National Sales Managers' Association and the County Board of Supervisors.

The feature of the big send-off will be an automobile parade, headed by a band and the cars carrying the Pittsburgh delegation. Assembling at the Realty Board building on South Spring street at 11 o'clock in the morning, the participants will drive to the starting place on Olive street, just south of Eighth. The parade will move north on Olive to Eighth, east to Broadway, north to First, east to Spring, south to Fifth, and thence to the Santa Fe depot, from which the special car of the delegates will depart at 1 o'clock. A rousing reception, with speeches by Mayor Rose and others, will be held at the station.

The committee in charge of the parade arrangements is known as the "Jolly Send-off Committee," and is headed by Horace G. Hamilton. The other committeemen are George N. Black, Warren McIntyre, L. J. Durnerin, R. B. Armstrong, Thomas C. Bundy, Oscar E. Farish, W. Ross Campbell, Charles G. Andrews, H. R. Callender, John D. Foster, Robert Marsh, C. F. DeWitt, Elmer E. Cole and Glenn N. Deuel. The committee is urging every member of the board to augment the parade with his machine.

STRONG PULL.

The convention delegates are bearing the signed invitation, not only of the Los Angeles Realty Board, but of the Mayors of Los Angeles, San Diego and San Francisco, the Governor of California, the president of the California Realty Federation and the presidents of both the Panama-Pacific and Panama-California expositions to the realty men to make Los Angeles the 1915 convention city. The convention will bring to this city not less than 5000 men prominent in the upbuilding of the various important cities and communities of the country, and is well worth the effort the Los Angeles board is putting forth for it.

Those who have signed to go in the special compartment car that has been engaged for the delegates are: W. W. Mines, president of the board; C. C. C. Tatum, first vice-president; Herbert L. Cornish, second vice-president; W. M. Garland, S. P. Coffer, Guy M. Rush, O. A. Vickrey, Lee C. Gates, Roy C. Seeley, Walter P. Story, H. M. Porter, W. H. Akin, K. A. Stone, B. A. Vollmer, A. D. Chittenden, I. J. Cushing, A. H. Riegall, A. D. Kildahl, R. A. Ryon and C. A. Peterson.

The delegates will be guests of the San Francisco Realty Board on Saturday, and will leave the same evening for the East, being accompanied by the Bay City and Oakland representatives. At Chicago they will be the guests of the Windy City board over Monday. The Realty Board of Columbus, O., will entertain them next Tuesday morning, before the last leg of the journey is started.

At Pittsburgh the local brokers will be greeted by Secretary Wilson, who preceded them a week ago to attend to the installation of the splendid Los Angeles exhibit, which this city's board is to offer as an extra feature in its appeal for the coveted 1915 convention.

WILD CONTINUE CONTESTS.

Government Granted Petition Asking for Rehearing of Oil Cases Involving Withdrawal Order.

A petition has been granted in the United States District Court, in behalf of the government, for leave to file a petition for a rehearing by Judge Dooling, of the case of the United States against the Midway Northern Oil Company, involving the validity of the withdrawal order of President Taft, September 27, 1909, which the court recently decided in favor of the defendant corporation and a number of individuals and corporations. The argument will be made on ten days' notice.

The following points are set out in the petition: That the court inadvertently assumed that the motion to dismiss had been made by all of the defendants, but the record shows that some of the defendants had not lodged motions to dismiss, including the Midway Northern Oil Company and the Maricopa Oil Company; that the land affected by the withdrawal order of September 27, 1909, does not approximate 3,000,000 acres, as asserted by the court in its opinion; that the court proceed upon the theory that the President of the United States only had the right to withdraw public land when there existed authority directly conferred or clearly to be implied, overlooking the fact that when the rights of third parties recognized by law had intervened, the order of withdrawal expressly recognized them; that the court overlooked the fact that the power of Congress to dispose of public land is conceded by the government to be plenary, and the position of the complainant in this case is that under the Constitution there is no conflict between the executive and legislative departments of the government with respect to the power to deal with public lands; and, finally, that there is now pending in the United States Supreme Court the case of the United States against the Midwest Oil Company, in which the question of validity of the executive order of September 27, 1909, is involved, and on which an opinion is expected early.

OVERREACHES ESTIMATES.

While the amount collected is buried in the tomes of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington, and must come, if at all, from that source, it can be said that but few delinquents are carried on the books, and that the district composed of 59,000 square miles of territory, as large as the area combined of the States of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Massachusetts, composed of the counties of Los Angeles, San Diego, Imperial, Riverside, Orange, San Bernardino, Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo and Kern, has more than met the estimates of both the officers here and in Washington.

So far as the advices indicate there will be no zone of governmental generosity within which delinquents can pay the tax without penalty. It was fully expected, in inner circles, that some allowance would be made for the initial collection of a tax that many people do not understand, however willing they might be to comply with the law.

The total collections the last day amounted to $130,660.27, just $36,660.27 over the estimates of the local office.

ASKS FOR RECEIVER.

Creditors Allege That Quarry Company at San Dimas Is Unable to Pay Debts.

A petition was filed in the United States District Court yesterday for the appointment of a receiver for the San Dimas Quarry Company, alleging that the corporation is bankrupt, and that in the interest of all the creditors, such action should be taken.

Accompanying the petition is the affidavit of Charles E. Richards of the Richards-Neustadt Construction Company, a creditor of the San Dimas Quarry Company, who alleges that the corporation has debts amounting to about $200,000, and that its only asset of any value is a leasehold of rock-bearink land at San Dimas; that about $200,000 has been spent in erecting the plant, and that on May 8, 1914, the company entered into a contract with the county of Los Angeles, under the terms of which it agreed to deliver 200 tons of crushed stone per day for 100 days, which is impossible from the fact that the corporation is not only harassed by debt, but that it suffered a loss of about $20,000 on account of a storm recently.

SUIT BY PASSENGER.

An action was filed in the United States District Court yesterday by William H. Hoagland against the Santa Fe Railroad, asking $10,000 damages for an injury alleged to have been suffered by the plaintiff, while traveling from Elsinore to San Bernardino, February 19, 1914, by being thrown across a seat in the coach by the violent starting of the train.

"Times" Joyriders.

"OLD NEPTUNE" TAKES BIG LOAD TO BEACH.

"OLD NEPTUNE," as the kidlets have named the big Times auto truck which takes a load of them to Venice every day, was certainly some little god, yesterday and bore fifty-six children from Hewitt-street School in his hospitable arms, and dipped them into the sea. Sometimes they call him "Nep" for short.

"Huh! I bet Ole Nep just eats hills like this for breakfast!" boasted a little boy in frayed-out wardrobe, as the big truck swiftly took a rise in the road.

On the way down to the beach the youngsters sang "I Love You California" and "Get Out and Get Under," and "Star-Spangled Banner" and "Love Me and the World Is Mine," with enthusiasm that made up for lack of changing expression in their rendition.

The little young Coney Island which is Venice's Midway, just naturally opened up its gaudy arms and embraced those fifty-six children, all the managers of the concessions playing midsummer Santa Claus, and making a noise like a host.

Chinatown, with its manifold attractions, lured the children first, and their shouts of glee attested their pleasure. In Rubetown the boys and girls mirthfully accepted all the queer surprises offered, only one little girl sending out an "S.O.S." call when she hit her head a little too hard on a low-browed ceiling. The Hammock Trunk Mystery was a delightful thriller, too. Merryland was one kid's second name, for he insisted on presenting himself again and again at the entrance, until somebody noticed that he presented an unvarying similarity to himself and called him off.

At noon they ate their tailored bread and Dill pickles and varnished pies, and seemed none the worse for wear, and after lunch they rolled in the warm sand and waded in the cool, lacy foam of the ocean's edge.

"Good night, old Neptune!" they sang as they disembarked at 5:30 last night, sleepy and happy, and full of thankfulness and pie.

DAY'S NEWS BOTH FAVORABLE AND DISCOURAGING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 1.—Special influences were effective in keeping the stock market within a narrow and irregular groove today. Foreign and domestic news was the usual mixture of favorable and unfavorable happenings. Advices concerning cotton were highly encouraging and the government report estimated this year's cotton area as substantially 37,000,000 acres. Several prominent railroad executives were quoted as expressing confidence in the future, but their utterances were out of tune with May earnings reported by several of the largest roads. New York Central system reported a net decrease of $2,587,000, the Pennsylvania lines lost over $700,000, and Rock Island's operating income fell off over $800,000. London sold Americans at times and disposed of several thousands shares here, mainly United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper and Union Pacific. Another decline in exchange, though followed by a speedy recovery, suggested revival of gold exports. Further large cash transfers to the Pacific Coast were made. Railroad bonds were irregular with sharp variations in Rock Island and related issues. Frisco refunding 4's and Chicago and Eastern Illinois refunding 4's on which interest was defaulted, advanced 1 and 4½ points respectively. Mexican government 4's declined 2¾. Total bond sales per value amounted to $1,900,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

BONDS IN DEFAULT.

Official cognizance was taken on the exchange of the default in July interest on the 5 per cent. bonds of the Chicago and Indiana Coal Company, the 4 per cent. refunding bonds of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad, the 6 per cent. first mortgage bonds of the Evansville and Indianapolis Railroad and the 4 per cent. refunding bonds of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway. The committee on securities of the exchange ruled that transactions in these issues were to be "flat," that is, with interest added.

NEW YORK LETTER.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Evening Post in its financial review today says:

"Nothing of striking importance developed to affect stock market prices today. The Pennsylvania, New York Central and one or two other roads made a rather unfavorable showing in May earnings, with heavy decreases in gross, only partly offset by a reduction in expenses, so that net earnings for the month were very small. Before some of these exhibits were published the market showed a reactionary tendency which followed fractional declines at the opening. In the afternoon a good deal of irregularity developed and in the last hour most of the low prices were made on the decline. The market became very quiet, most of the active shares showing losses of ¼ to 1 point from yesterday. Trading was very dull and there were at no time signs of real weakness. The limited foreign selling had no effect on prices here. The foreign markets were for the most part lifeless, there being little speculative initiative shown anywhere. There was a fair undertone to prices, however, with no signs of heavy selling at London, Paris or Berlin.

"No unusual developments marked the opening of the new fiscal year in the money market. There was no trouble in handling the immense volume of dividend payments and although some of the banks withdrew temporarily from the time-loan market, other institutions experienced great difficulty in finding profitable employment for the large sums received in payment of short-term note issues that matured today. Interior banks again appeared in the market as buyers of mercantile paper, there being a fairly broad demand for the best securities of that class. The banks transferred $750,000 to San Francisco, making about $5,600,000 that has been sent to the Pacific Coast during the present movement. The foreign exchange market was rather unsettled, receding sharply in the early trading, but showing more strength later. There was no bond market until late in the day when market developed a good deal of buying. There were indications that some important offerings of municipal bonds will be made in near future.

"The Iron Age had no very stimulating word to say of the past weeks' steel trade and predicted only a slow improvement. But it reported much better railroad business and export trade in June than in preceding months and admitted the possibility that the [illegible] of heavy monthly decreases in "unfilled orders" which has been going on since January, may have been definitely checked last month."

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Market Shows Weak Tendencies Although Changes Are Slight—Business Slightly Better.

Changes were of an unimportant character yesterday on the stock exchange. There was some improvement in trading, however, compared with the previous day. Union Oil was a shade easier at $67. National Pacific softened to 4 cents, closing with a bid of 3⅝. Los Angeles Investment closed 59 bid at 60 cents, a new low. Closing sales were at 60 cents. Consolidated Mines and California Hills showed an unsteady tendency. The only visible trend was on the downside, as regards the market as a whole.

New York Curb Stocks.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Mining and tobacco issues were dull and featureless today. Oils opened in fair demand but later sold off. Standard of California was the most active, advancing at the opening and then reacting on the report of a cut in crude oil. Boston stocks opened fairly active, but soon became dull, although holding strong. United Fruit which lost 1⅛ on good selling was an exception. London slates sentiment in copper circles has improved. The fortnightly London copper report shows an increase abroad in the visible supply of 1,000 tons, making about 20,000 pounds for the month of June. The afternoon market was quiet with prices fractionally lower.

looked for, but of the very favorable record

leaped into the breach, when things were going smoothly, with an offer to "save you money." He suggested "gravel dams" upstream, an idea which brought a storm of derisive handclaps, and a reply from Mr. Norton that "they are trying to irritate me, but they can't do it."

THE PLATFORM.

The platform of the organization is contained in the following self-explanatory resolutions, drafted by Percy H. Clark, H. Hawgood, a member of the advisory commission of engineers; T. P. Lukens and Levi Carse:

"Whereas, the floods of the past winter have resulted in the destruction of property within the county of Los Angeles, estimated by an impartial board of engineers, as a total, direct loss of $7,000,000, of which the county lost $495,000 for bridges and highways; utility corporations, $2,375,000, and the city of Los Angeles, $500,000. Traffic has been interrupted, business disturbed and the taxable value of county property, according to assessment records, reduced over $3,000,000, and

"Whereas, a direct benefit to the county lies in the maintenance of the public welfare.

"Whereas, the average interval of time between these destructive floods, has been approximately eight years during the past ninety years, and

"Whereas, the rapidly increasing values of property in this county will cause greater damage in future years, and

"Whereas, as improvements are made and property values are increased, it bcomes more difficult with each year's delay, to obtain necessary rights of way, and

"Whereas, supine indifference and lack of energy to meet these flood damages is not in harmony with the successful achievement of this county.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county be requested by this convention to adopt an aggressive and constructive policy to control these flood waters along the following lines:

"First—The control of the flood waters of the county, should be vested in a centralized authority, and should be in accordance with a comprehensive plan embracing the entire county.

"Second—No flood or storm water control construction or structure for waterways should be permitted that are not in accordance with the adopted general plan and approved by this authority.

"Third—The adopted plan should include consideration of the following essential physical features: (a) Prevention of overflow and erosion; (b) Reduction of the silt and debris of the flood waters, especially in the harbors; (c) The maintenance of the underground water supplies by spreading of flood waters on the debris cones; (d) The construction of such small mountain reservoirs as will minimize the flood peaks and incidentally increase irrigation water supplies; (e) Co-operation in protecting the forest cover in the mountains against fire and also by reforestation in the mountains, to restrain the floods and debris resulting from flood erosion.

"Fourth—The cost of the work should be distributed according to benefits, to civil divisions of the government and private interests. The division of these costs should include the Federal government because of its relation to navigation in the harbors, and the State, because of the general public welfare, and the county, because of damage to roads and bridges. There is precedent for expenditure by all these interests, for reclamation work of this class in California, as evidenced in the Federal reports of and appropriations for the California Debris Commission, consisting of army engineers, and for the State Flood Control Board, in accordance with acts of Congress and of the California State Legislature. Therefore, the Board of Supervisors is requested to have a careful investigation made by their legal and engineering advisors of these State and national acts, with a view of preparing necessary bills for submission to the United States Congress and the California Legislature. The county of Los Angeles should also, for similar reasons, contribute from its funds for the construction and maintenance of these works. We also recommend that the Board of Supervisors, by direct tax, shall raise such sums as they may deem necessary for immediate use, while the other provisions of these resolutions are being consummated.

"Fifth—There is precedent for diverting the flood waters out of the harbors. The San Diego River has been diverted into False Bay and the Calaveras River has been diverted from the Stockton Harbor, both at Federal expense. The diversion of the San Gabriel and Los Angeles Rivers from the San Pedro-Long Beach Harbors should be made at Federal expense.

"Sixth—It is to the public interest that the main rivers and their principal tributaries should have publicly owned and controlled channels. Near the canyon mouths ample publicly-owned areas should be provided on which the flood waters should be held and spread by an organized public effort. This will not only involve a large initial expense, but also persistent maintenance, with provisions for fighting menacing floods resembling that provided by the Federal Forest Reserve for fighting fires. The cost of these main flood channels should be widely distributed. After the adoption of the proposed general plan by the Supervisors, the local storm protection districts should be encouraged to proceed with their construction works in accordance therewith, provision being made for credits for the same in the event of the adoption of co-operative general legislation.

"Seventh—The Board of Supervisors is requested to immediately have surveys made, defining the necessary rights of way for flood channels, including the protection of the harbors, for areas on which flood waters should be spread for absorption, and for determination of available reservoir sites for storage purposes. Field examination should also be made to determine all areas that have been menaced, as well as injured by the floods of the past season, in order to properly define the outlines of the district to be benefitted by these proposed reclamation works. Complete surveys and information should be obtained, upon which may be based the definite plan and estimate, which should be sufficiently comprehensive in its scope to properly present to the engineering officers of the Federal government and those of the State of California, for the purpose of seeking co-operation by appropriation for the construction of these works.

"The Board of Supervisors should promptly initiate all necessary proceedings looking towards the adoption of the final plans and organization."

IMPORTANT WORK.

"You have started an important work," said Mr. Pridham in dismissing the association, subject to call of the chair. "I expect all of you to stand behind this board in the work and to interpose no objections when we frame the tax levy in September. I assure you that no stone will be left unturned to get this problem solved in the best manner possible and at a minimum and equally-divided expense."

"The first work to be done by us is to begin surveys to officially determine the stream channels," said J. B. Lippincott of the Advisory Commission of Engineers. "We must get an idea of the territory to be covered by the work and must draft plans for the handling of the projects in the most expeditious and economical manner possible."

A supplemental report was presented by the commission of engineers showing that it will cost $1,500,000, including $645,000 for right of way and bridges, to handle the Los Angeles River. The plan suggested, which is approved by United States Engineer Raymond, is to construct a dam from Domingues Hill southeasterly to high ground and divert the river just north of this dam southeasterly in a comparatively shallow cut across the somewhat higher land bordering the Salt Lake; thence along the trough near the northerly foot of the hills north of Long Beach to a junction with the San Gabriel River, near where the Anaheim road crosses the latter river, northeasterly of Alamitos Bay.

This cost will be all included in the $9,500,000 to handle the flood problems of the county as a whole. The other work takes no cognizance of right of way costs or bridging, as it is believed that property owners will donate the former and the railroads and other interests will aid the county is circumventing financial obstacles in connection with the latter work.

AGAINST BOND ISSUE.

Albert L. Shinn of Sacramento, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant-Governor and who was for years a member of the Sacramento River Drainage Commission, urged the assemblage to form a district by act of the Legislature and to put the subsequent handling of money into the hands of a commission to be composed of a drainage engineer, a lawyer and a business man. He also came out strong against a bond issue to do the work; favoring the special assessment plan instead. Mr. Shinn also argued that both State and Federal aid can be expected.

"You shouldn't allow this great wealth to run unobstructed to the ocean, a wealth in water and silt and in bridges and houses carried away and stock drowned," Mr. Shinn said.

One of Mr. Shinn's convincing arguments for legislative enactments in the matter was that corporations would be exempt from the tax levy, but that by legislative act they will not be.

The assembly was representative of the whole county, practically every town, city, and district being represented. The city's delegates included representatives of the City Council, Chamber of Commerce, Realty Board, City Club, Municipal League, Advertising Club and Outlook Association.

MADAME ISE'BELL'S BEAUTY LESSON.

THE NECK AND CHIN.

Massage Movements.

(1) Cover the neck with massage cream. Throw back the head, inhale and puff out the cheeks and the muscles of the neck. Repeat five times.

(2) Throw back the head, taking care always to keep the back straight, so wrinkles will not form behind the ears, and turn the head from side to side. Repeat five times.

(3) Hold the head erect and put plenty of cream behind the ears. Place the first and second fingers of both hands back of the ears at the hair line, one at each side of the skull bone, and draw the fingers firmly down to the base of the neck. Repeat ten times on each side.

These exercises are for all necks, whether too fat or too thin, the idea being to strengthen the muscles.

Flabby Neck.

If the skin under the chin is loose and wrinkled, do the following massage daily, using all the cream the skin will absorb. Throw back the head and anoint the first three fingers of the right hand with cream. Beginning at the chin and using a rotary movement work over the flesh from the chin to the hollow of the throat. Repeat, starting a little to the left and so on, until the entire part of the neck beneath the jaw bone has been treated.

Double Chin.

(2) Throw back the head, take a bit of loose flesh between the first and second fingers and roll it slightly five or six times; continue this treatment over the parts of the chin that show superfluous fat.

Warning.

Do all your exercises before a mirror, so you can note the effect on the neck and avoid making new lines, or increasing the old. Be careful of your carriage; hold the back erect, the chin up and in. Remember that muscles can only be strengthened by exercise, and, whether there is too much or too little flesh, we get improvement only by toning up the muscles and feeding the flesh. Be generous with your cream; loose a good massage cream and give the skin all it will absorb.

Creams.

A pupil writes me asking about "cold cream," and if it can be used for massage. Anything may be called a cold cream, but the general custom among the manufacturers of toilet goods is to label as "cold cream" a toilet cream intended only for lubricating, protecting and cleansing the skin. Such creams have their value, but they do not feed the skin.

A "massage cream," or "skin food" contains fats that the skin can absorb. A "bleaching cream" contains some preparation to whiten the skin. In some cases such a preparation is added to the massage cream so it can be used for massage and bleaching purposes.

peared, and later fragmentary gossip came of her, now she was in Nagasaki, now in Hong Kong. Then she merged into the Orient.

Into one of the inland provinces she had gone, because there was a Governor there, one of the Ling family, who was attaching to his court those who were beautiful and those who were witty. There Mabell Trenchard became a power. She was a favorite of the Governor, she was contented, she was as beautiful as ever, but those who received most exact word spoke regretfully, for they said she had become a devotee to opium, a servant to the "Black Smoke," that she had passed never to return, through the Gate of a Hundred Sorrows.

And the reports were true. With first a test and then a jest, she had inhaled the fumes, until, with the custom of the people about her, she gradually relapsed into the habit of daily dreams. And for months, no more was heard from her until in the port of Hong Kong there came a crate labelled from Denver, for her.

Her friends were asked her address, they reported the last place known, the capital of the province, and the package was forwarded.

It was late one afternoon that it arrived, across the back of a coolie runner. Because it was the hour of the smoke she had postponed investigating it. She joined the group that gathered in the Governor's room each afternoon, where the ivory-inlaid pipes were distributed. That day an orgy had occurred.

When Mabelle Trenchard revived it was early morning. She recalled the package that had come, and ordered a servant to bring it. It was opened for her, and out of the paper and the packing, the coolie lifted aloft, a stuffed eagle, shot in the Rocky Mountains by her brother in Denver, head erect, powerful, superb. The taxidermist had cunningly caught its attitude of freedom and of flight. And attached to the wing was a note: "Just so you won't forget the mountains."

Mabelle Trenchard threw an ivory opium pipe from her window that morning, and caused some comment by disappearing. The next heard from her was the report that she had gone through Hongkong and was sailing for home. And with her had gone the rare bird of paradise, the gift of the Governor, with the tip of its feathers daintily tinted with blue.

When she reached San Francisco she came directly to Los Angeles with her baggage in bond, and here it was opened. And the custom officials insisted that the bird of paradise and the eagle were contraband by the Federal laws, and to be confiscated, and they wondered at the to-do she made over their loss.

The bubbles of dark gray smoke came floating fitfully again from the furnace door. Now they withdrew and then came flooding forth again.

"Give her more," said the boss, and the stoker piled in more of the opium. And when the many cans were destroyed, the stoker picked up the bird of paradise, with its blue tints, and the eagle, both into his arms, and they soared into the bank of heavy smoke.

As the door clanged the officials thought they heard a scream. They turned and saw the woman in the trim roadster half standing, and reaching out her arms in protest.

As she stood there the lazy Chinaman on the vegetable wagon sat up and he gurgled to himself.

She turned and looked at him. She sank into her car with panic in her attitude. "It's Woo, Woo Ling," she sobbed. Instantly the man with her started the car, and she was gone.

Someone went over to the Chinaman's wagon. "Did you know that woman?" he was asked.

"She Missee Tlenchard," said the Chinaman. "I her houseboy when she leave. She give me much money then. Yes, she Missee Tlenchard."

The incident had occurred without excitement. The collector of customs stooped and picked up a tag. "Here's the tag to that eagle," he said. "Better turn that, too."

Again the door was opened; again the dull gray smoke of the opium rolled forth, and the fitful bubbles broke and spread out over the spot where the eagle and the bird of paradise had been.

"Well, boys," he said, "there wasn't much romance to that, was there?"

And the Chinaman drove away.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Harbor Commission will participate in a movement to adopt a standardized list of terms applying to affairs at all Pacific Coast harbors, to avoid confusion in preparing ordinances, rate lists, etc., and eliminate misunderstandings with ship owners and operators and shippers.

The City Attorney has notified the Board of Public Works that in his opinion it would be unwise at this time to undertake to fix street-lighting rates.

The Council yesterday approved the assessment maps for the improvement of Santa Monica boulevard and construction of storm drains that will be a part of the comprehensive Arroyo de la Sacatella storm-sewer system.

The Board of Public Works decided yesterday that it will award no contracts to bidders who do not carry workmen's indemnity insurance. The object is to protect the city from possible suits for damages from injuries that might be received by workmen on public contracts.

In defense of her character, a frail girl in the Probate Court yesterday explained an incident in the lives of herself and her boy lover and repudiated the statement of the boy's father, who testified she was immoral.

At the City Hall.

STANDARDIZE HARBOR TERMS.

PLAN TO ELIMINATE CONFUSION IN ORDINANCES.

Port Authorities All Along Pacific Coast Purpose to Adopt Terminology That Will Clearly Indicate Same Ideas, No Matter to What Harbor Applied.

The same word for the same idea applied to any port along the Pacific Coast—so that there may be no confusion as to the meanings intended—is the plan to be applied from San Diego to Vancouver. This is the decision of the Conference of Pacific Coast Port Authorities.

Commissioner Gordon and Secretary Matson of the Harbor Commission returned yesterday from the conference that closed a few days ago at Seattle, and told of the work accomplished and the decision to reach an agreement on terminology for Pacific Coast ports. The local Harbor Commission will help in working out the list to be used in the preparation of ordinances, rate sheets, etc., affecting port affairs. It was discovered at this conference that different terms were used in the various Coast cities to designate the same ideas, and that this results in confusion to ship-owners, operators and shippers. A uniform use of the same terms as applied to the same ideas will make all the Coast port ordinances so clear that there can arise no misunderstandings.

At the conference just closed, Say Gordon and Matson, the discussions fell under three divisions—port charges, port administration and traffic. A uniform system of wharfage charges was advocated.

"We were highly pleased to note the standing of the port of Los Angeles as compared with the northern ports," said Commissioner Gordon. "We found that this port is well organized compared with some of the older ports of the North, and that they are striving to reach the point we have already attained. We are more proud than ever before of this port."

Los Angeles gracefully gave way to San Francisco for the next season's conference. This will attract attendance from every port along the Coast, and after the conference adjourns the entire party will come to Los Angeles and San Diego to inspect these ports.

NOT AT PRESENT.
FIXING LIGHT RATES.

Considerable discussion has been given by Councilmen and other city officials recently to the proposition of fixing rates for street lighting. This has been discussed in connection with the bids for street lighting under an eighteen months' contract, which has just been awarded. Former City Attorney Shenk advised the Council last year that it had the right to fix this rate, but the Council took no action. Recently the subject was referred to the City Attorney, and yesterday he sent to the Board of Public Works the following statement:

Replying to your letter of June 26, with reference to the power of the city to fix and enforce a rate for street lighting: Considering the requirements of the charter and the further fact that the rate has been fixed for domestic lighting, and that contracts since the regular time for fixing rates have from month to month been entered into, I believe the legal right to fix street-light rates for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is so doubtful that it would be unwise to attempt it.

Part of Great Project.

Approval of the maps of the assessment district for the paving of Santa Monica boulevard and construction of a portion of the storm drains for the Arroyo de la Sacatella storm water system was given by the City Council yesterday. The paving is to be paid for by the street frontage, while the storm sewer will be assessed to a district comprising all the land to be drained thereby. The cost of the sewer is estimated by Engineer Tuttle at $99,570.

This assessment will apply to the territory lying within the following boundaries: On the north by Carlton Way, south by Melrose avenue, east by Hobart boulevard and west by Beachwood drive.

Will Regrade Assessments.

Much time was given by the City Council yesterday to a hearing of protestants against the assessments for the Western-avenue entrance to Griffith Park. The objection was raised that the district was too large, and that assessments in the outlying portions would be so small that the cost of collection would practically equal the amounts to be collected, and that many properties would be clouded and sold for delinquency.

It was decided that the boundaries of the district could not be changed without losing too much time, but that action would be delayed till July 29, and meanwhile the assessment rolls would be sent to the Public Works Committee for readjustment of the assessments.

Must Carry Insurance.

The City Attorney has ruled that the Board of Public Works cannot legally place within specifications for public work a clause that requires bidders to carry workmen's compensation insurance, but the board at yesterday's session adopted another plan to safeguard the interests of the city against suits from workmen injured on public work performed under contract. At the present time several suits of this character are pending.

The board adopted a resolution declaring that no further contracts will be awarded to bidders who have not this class of insurance, and that contractors without such insurance and submitting bids will be declared irresponsible bidders.

Mayor's Request Filed.

The City Council, without discussion, yesterday voted to file the message from the Mayor announcing that he had removed Martin Bekins from the Public Utilities Commission, and asking the Council to concur in this action. The Council, on the previous day, had voted to accept the resignation of Bekins, although this resignation had never been placed in the hands of the Mayor before it was acted upon by the Council.

Heard About the Hall.

Col. Louis Ginger appeared before the Park Commission at its meeting this week to discuss with the members his proposition to place an incline railway in Griffith Park. The subject was discussed fully, and members of the board expressed themselves as favorable to granting the concession, but desired further time for consideration before making a recommendation to the City Council.

The Park Commission has acceded to the request of the Public Library Board and will supply the public library with potted plants from the park nursery.

The Park Commission has under consideration a plan proposed by Commissioner Keller for creating more space for walks and seats in Central Park by cutting a walk through the center of the park from Hill to Olive streets, parallel with and midway between Fifth and Sixth streets. Landscape Architect Cox presented a plan for creating walks and seating space all around the park, parallel with the existing streets and about twenty feet inside the park. He has been instructed by the commission to prepare plans in detail and make estimates on the cost of each plan.

The City Council at yesterday's session opened bids for the printing of the first installment of the $6,500,000 power bonds, this installment being for $1,482,000 worth of these bonds. There were six bidders, two of them being Los Angeles firms. The bids were sent to the Supply Committee for consideration.

The City Council yesterday filed the recommendation of the City Engineer that proceedings be started for the repaving of Central avenue, from First to Twelfth streets.

The Salt Lake Railroad cannot continue to maintain its spur track across Carlotta boulevard at Avenue 43, notwithstanding the recommendation of the Public Utilities Board. The Council so decided yesterday, after a long discussion of the subject. Possible danger of the spur track diverting flood waters so as to cause further damage to properties was the reason given for denying the application.

No protests having been filed, the City Council yesterday adopted the final ordinance for the improvement of Western avenue, from Los Feliz road to Franklin avenue. This is a part of the general plan for the improvement of Western avenue as one of the city's prominent thoroughfares.

The Board of Public Works has been applied to by the Santa Fe Railroad for permission to use a portion of the river as a dump for extending the banks out about seventy feet, between the Salt Lake Railroad crossing and a point 1080 feet northerly thereof.

The collections have been completed for the lighting of Seventh and Ninth streets, Third avenue and Harvard boulevard, and the Board of Public Works will advertise at once for the relighting of these ornamental lighting systems.

The Public Utilities Commission yesterday recommended the granting of a spur track permit to the Pacific Electric company to cross Brand boulevard near Tropico, and permits for seven spur tracks of the Santa Fe Railroad on Sacramento and Willows streets, where the company is rearranging connections with trackage.

DEFENDS HER CHARACTER.

IMMORALITY CHARGE OF BOY'S FATHER REPUDIATED.

Girl Explains Incident in the Lives of Herself and Her Youthful Lover—Would-Be Guardian Says He Is Old Enough to Support Himself.

Will history repeat itself in the family of Francis E. Crawford?

If Lester Crawford, the 19-year-old son, has his way, it will. He would marry Miss Laura Koppe, 24 years of age, as his father, at 18, married his mother, who was 20.

In the Probate Court yesterday, where Lester is opposing his father in his guardianship matter, Miss Koppe defended her good name from the attack made upon it by Lester's father the day previous.

"Have your relations with Lester been in any way immoral?" former Judge Rossiter asked the young woman. Before she could answer he continued:

"You heard his father state that you are a person of immoral character. Is it true or false?"

"False," exclaimed Miss Koppe, her large eyes snapping fire. Then in a clear, calm, well-modulated voice, she told the incident which gave rise to this assault upon her character. It was the story of sickness, the fear of a recurrent attack of poisoning, and the turning of a girl to the man she loved for sympathy and aid.

She said she called Lester up during the night at the house of a Mrs. Staples, where both were staying as students. Mrs. Staples had promised to come to her relief wherever she was, if the seizure returned. But when she called on her Mrs. Staples was drowsy with sleep. She murmured how sorry she was.

When fear pressed Miss Koppe rapped at Lester's door, and in his apartment he worked over the girl until the pain was eased. And that was all. There was conviction in the frail girl's tones.

Attorney Carter's cross-examination started late in the afternoon and will be resumed tomorrow afternoon.

Judge Rives examined Mrs. L. I. Bartlett, the wife of a San Diego physician, who petitioned to be appointed Lester's guardian.

"How do you expect to support this boy?" he asked her.

"I think he is perfectly capable of supporting himself," she replied. "He could work as a machinist."

"You are up against a condition, not a theory," continued the court. "The question is, what is he going to do to support himself if he is taken away from his father."

"He could get along; he would do something," she said. She would let him be responsible for himself. His treatment by his father was, in her opinion, enough to break the spirit of any boy.

"Do you believe a boy should do about as he pleases?" pressed the court.

"No, nothing of that; he never wanted to do anything that was wrong."

"Do you think you know him better than his parents, who raised him?"

"In some ways I believe I do."

It is rumored that Miss Koppe will bring an action for slander against her future father-in-law; that Lester will sue for false arrest, and that if Miss Koppe is separated from Lester, a suit for alienating his affections may be piled on top of the other actions. She says their engagement was announced.

"TO MR. AND MRS."
THEN SAYS HE MARRIED.

A hotel bill made out to Mr. and Mrs. Foote and brought to him in his room at an Atlantic City hotel by the girl he subsequently married is the remarkable allegation of Benjamin Foote in his complaint for divorce from Olive Foote, called in Judge Monroe's court yesterday, and continued until September 23.

The Atlantic City trip was the escapade of a party of friends. Mr. Foote was 17; Mrs. Benjamin Foote, 20. He alleges that Mrs. Foote brought the hotel bill to him in their names as a married couple, and being young and inexperienced he set up that he felt morally bound to make her his wife.

Mrs. Foote, who is in Philadelphia, denies the allegation in her answer and will fight a decree of divorce being granted on these grounds.

Through Attorney Gardner, counsel for Mr. Foote, it is learned that his client is a descendant of Admiral Foote, and the son of a wealthy Philadelphian. The marriage took place at Lansdowne, a beautiful suburb of Philadelphia, August 13, 1904. The couple have one child, Benjamin Franklin Foote, 6 years of age.

LOSES POINT.
LONG BEACH CASE.

The City of Long Beach failed yesterday to win a non-suit in the damage suit brought by George Chafor to recover for the death of his wife, one of the victims of the Empire Day tragedy May 24, 1913. The trial was resumed after the decision of Judge McCormick, the defense putting on its witnesses to show there was no responsibility on its part.

F. S. Craig, a member of the Board of Public Works, testified he had inspected the Auditorium and never noticed any defects, as the plaintiff asserted there were. He also said that the board never gave permits for the use of the building for compensation.

He said that the Auditorium was used by the public generally, given over to the use to which it had been dedicated—that is, for mass meetings, school commencements and band concerts.

BOTH LOSE.
NEITHER GET CHILDREN.

An aftermath of the dismissal before the Lunacy Commission of the charge of insanity brought by Miss Helen Baugh against her father, Linza C. Baugh, was the contest between Mr. Baugh and his wife for the custody of their minor children, Joseph and Carl, fought out before Judge Monroe yesterday, in which both lost.

Judge Jackson, who presided at the Lunacy Commission, was a witness, testifying that he had dismissed the charge because he found no indications of insanity in Mr. Baugh.

The court divided up the time of the children between the parents, neither having absolute control.

FROM THE PAST.
WANTS MAIDEN NAME.

A co-respondent, although vindicated by the court, may triumph in the defeat of a jealous wife, but the sting remains, and whilom friends do not readily forget. In asking for the restoration of her maiden name, Louise Zimmerman may have been actuated by the desire to get as far as possible from the name that figured in the Farnell divorce suit, namely, Mrs. Louise Hill. The petition was filed by Attorney John A. Wallis and heard by Judge Wood, who took the matter under submission.

The Farnell divorce suit was a bitter fight between young people. It brought to light the attraction of the "movies" for the wife, Mrs. Charles Farnell. Without the knowledge of her husband, so he testified, Mrs. Farnell became a "movie" actress. She retaliated by naming Mrs. Hill as co-respondent, and the trial ran the gamut of crimination and recrimination with a ruling in favor of Mr. Farnell, although the decree was denied.

The first legal brush between Mr. Farnell and his wife led to a reconciliation while the matter was in court. Then trouble broke out again.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.
PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

HOMESTEAD GRANTED. The petition of Mrs. Ella Troxel to set aside a homestead was granted by Judge Rives yesterday. Mrs. Troxel is the widow of Frank L. Troxel, who left two parcels of land valued at $15,375. She gets one-half of the community property, and the children, Clayton C. and Frank L. Troxel, one-fourth each.

GETS JUDGMENT. The Los Angeles Honolulu Commercial Association, which comprised the Llewellyn Iron Works, the Maier Brewing Company, the Anaheim Sugar Company, the Arden Plaster Company, the Pacific Portable Construction Company and other leading concerns, successfully defended the suit brought by Robert R. McEldowney before Judge Shenk to recover $1380 alleged to be due him as representative of these concerns in the effort to establish commercial relations with Hawaii. The court yesterday gave judgment for the defendants, largely from the fact that Mr. McEldowney had turned all of the business to be done to the Los Angeles-Hawaii Company.

BOYLE HEIGHTS LIBRARY SITE.

COMMITTEE MAKES PLEA FOR THE GROUND ALREADY SELECTED.

The committee which had in charge the promotion of the site for a branch of the public library for Boyle Heights, at First and Chicago streets, and which site was accepted by the library board three years ago this month, has issued an open letter to the people of the assessment district, some of whom have signed a protest against the site and asking that the proceedings be set aside. The letter is signed by Mrs. R. H. F. Variel, chairman of the committee.

The statement of the City Street Assessment Bureau is quoted, showing that the assessments on the 2900 lots in the district would be but $10 to $11 each on lots adjacent to the site, and from $1 to $2 on lots at the outer boundaries, and the committee denounces as "bald misrepresentations" the statements of the opposition that the cost would be $50 or more to the lot, and that there would be an additional cost of from $15,000 to $25,000 for the removal of cement.

The committee argues for the beauty and advantage of a small park at the chosen site, at the additional cost of but a few cents to each lot, and calls attention to the fact that if the proceedings are now abandoned, the protestants will have to pay $1100 already incurred by the city in preparing the assessment, and suggests that three years more will probably elapse before a library is built if the proceedings are now set aside. The committee believes that if the members of the City Council were familiar with the situation they would not consider the protest.

SECURES ONE CONVICTION.

Three Lengthy Criminal Cases in Federal Court Prove Expensive to the Government.

Some idea of the expense of the criminal end of the local United States District Court is indicated by the quarterly report of the United States Marshal completed yesterday.

During the quarter that closed Tuesday night three drawn-out and expensive trials were in court—the complaints against C. P. Powers, et al., Charles S. McKelvey and W. H. Stevens and certain officers of the American Brokerage Company, the last-named still being before Judge Wellborn and a jury. During the quarter the bill for witnesses amounted to $17,015.65, and for jurors $7533.20. In the last item the expense of the grand jury is included. More than $25,000 was spent by the government in hearings involving a misuse of the mails, and the result so far has been one conviction, that of Clarence P. Bowers; in the McKelvey-Stevens case the jury disagreed.

Other items of expense incurred by Marshal Walton within the quarter were: Salaries, fees and expenses, $1940.07; prisoners, $1954.80; bailiffs, $1643.20; miscellaneous, $4067.32; expense of United States District Attorney's office, $457.94; rent of courtrooms, $165, making a grand total of $34,777.08 for the three months ending June 30.

LOVE KNOWS NO BOUNDS.

Septuagerarian Woos Woman of Forty-five and Ends Up in the Police Court.

Joseph Owens, a septuagenarian lover, was fined $10 yesterday afternoon by Police Judge Chesebro on the technical charge of disturbing the peace. Browning and Ingram testified that the man had sent letters and had telephoned dozens of times to his nearneighbor, Mrs. Emmet Barber, 45 years of age, of Huntington Park.

The letters Mrs. Barber received were couched in words of fervent desire, despite the fact hat the scrawl was far from Spencerian standards of chirography. Owens denied that he had sent the letters, saying he could not write a word beyond his signature.

He was arrested yesterday afternoon at Sixth and Main streets, where he went to keep an engagement Mrs. Barber had agreed to, that her annoying corespondent might be caught. With her were the officers. They stood across the street for a time, watching the old man impatiently asking passersby the time every few minutes.

ASSETS ABOVE DEBTS.

Constantine David Callahan, a naval architect and school teacher, with offices at room 211 State Bank building, San Pedro, filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday. His debts are scheduled at $1603.10, and assets that he claims to be exempt are valued at $1940. In the latter are two items of salary due from the Los Angeles High School, a part of which has been attached, his working equipment as a boat builder, books, clothing and other goods.

KNIFE GOES TOO FAR.

Dan Balsby, a butcher employed at the Cudahy plant on Macy street, yesterday was "boning" a pig's head. Holding the head in his arms, Balsby inserted his keen-edged knife to take out the tongue, a delicacy. The point went through the small eye aperture in the skull and through the butche's arm, cutting arteries and veins. The wound was dressed at the Receiving Hospital.

"My Policies."

CHARGED TO EXIGENCIES OF THE DEMOCRATS.

Proposed Transfer of Field Division Headquarters of Land Office Will Mean Working of Much Hardship on Many and Added Expense to Legal Cases Involved.

The exclusive announcement in The Times that the headquarters of the Southern California-Arizona district of the field division of the General Land Office would soon be removed to Phoenix, Ariz., was the theme of much speculation among land attorneys, employees and others yesterday.

The proposed change, followed by the resignation of Grantz W. Helm, who has been in charge of the local office for the past four years, was generally charged to the exigencies of Democratic politics, and not as alleged in the letter of the Commissioner of the General Land Office to Mr. Helm, for "the more economical administration of affairs."

It is known that Senators Ashurst and Smith have been working for a year to have the transfer made, and the definite announcement that they had at last succeeded, may be laid to the policy of President Wilson to do things for members of congress, who dance to the programme of "my policies." When the change is made New Mexico will be added to the jurisdiction, and it is stated, by those in a position to know, that there are already more than enough employees in the Santa Fe office to do all of the work in the two States of Arizona and New Mexico.

The change will be a hardship to local land attorneys, who have been able to get the data relating to their cases right across the hall from the office of Chief Helm. Under the new order of things they must travel to Phoenix at additional expense, or lose time getting the data from that office. It is understood that they will send a vigorous protest against the contemplated action, but it is not believed that anything can be accomplished for the order of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, backed by the concurrence of Secretary of the Interior Lane, would seem to settle the matter.

A number of the employees will absolutely refuse to be transferred to Phoenix. This is especially true concerning those who worked in the office there before its transfer to Los Angeles. It is said that for at least three of the summer months, the office at Phoenix will have to be closed, on account of the terrific and enervating heat.

The work of the field division here since its establishment in 1910, has been of the greatest importance to the government. The case of the Iron Chief mining claims, involving millions of dollars, and all of the data pertaining to the important oil cases, has been collected here. The record will show that more business is done than in any other district in the United States. The shift will mean added expense and delay to both the government and litigants, it is said, and the only thing to be gained will be the fact that the Arizona United States Senators will get a bit of the official pie in return for standing hitched on the Wilson programme.

"MOOCHES" CIGARETTE, AND—

In the County Hospital lies unconscious an unidentified man with a fractured skull. If he had not undertaken to "mooch" a cigarette he would not be there.

According to witnesses, the man approached another, who is now sought by the police, at Winston and Los Angeles streets yesterday morning. "Gimme a pill, will you, pal," he asked.

The man whom he asked shook his head in refusal. The other man, with an epithet, witnesses say, struck fight ensued. The injured man, evidently a Greek and is about 45 of age.

LONDON, July 2.—The debate in the House of Lords today on the bill to amend the home rule bill was characterized by general recognition on the part of the Unionist peers that some means of settlement must be found and that the amending bill offered the only way to avert civil war in Ireland.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, Unionist leader, already had announced that it was necessary to find a way out of the calamity which threatened and that, therefore, the Unionists would give the amending bill a second reading and introduce amendments during the committee stage.

The Duke of Abercorn, speaking today, as an Ulster volunteer, said he looked upon the bill as the only loophole for the avoidance of a most awful calamity.

The Marquis of Londonderry, chairman of the Ulster Unionist council, said the bill was a horrible one, but he would support it to avoid an armed conflict.

The Marquis of Salisbury announced he would support the amending bill for the same reason, much as he dis...
